Securities Flow Out of Quebec

Bourassa Hits Grit Newsletter

DEUX-MONTAGNES, Que. (CP) — Liberal Leader Robert Bourassa Sunday night described as "inopportune, awkward, unjustified" the news letter published by the Quebec section of the Liberal party of Canada.

Bourassa criticized the document of the federal Liberals at a meeting of nearly 1,000 in this city north of Montreal in Deux-Montagnes riding, held by the Liberals in the last legislature.

The newsletter, published with the Quebec general elections to be held Wednesday, maintains that Queebc received at least $545,700,000 more from Ottawa in 1968-69 than Quebecers paid in federal taxes.

Throughout the weekend, the newsletter was attacked by Premier Jean-Jacques Bertrand and separatist Leader Rene Levesque, who have been describing Bourassa as a provincial puppet manipulated by Prime Minister Trudeau's federal Liberals.

Trudeau in Ottawa described as "unfounded" Premier Bertrand's accusation that the federal government is intervening in the election.

Trudeau said in a statement "these pamphlets are published under the sole responsibility of the federal Liberal party."

"These pamphlets are not previously authorized or censored by the federal government or the prime minister in particular, as it should be the case in a truly democratic party.

"So far, the federal government has not intervened in Quebec's general election campaign." And it had no intention of doing so, "in spite of provocation from certain provincial politicians."

FLAYS FEDERALISTS

In the first five of seven meetings Sunday, Bourassa dismissed the newsletter as a "propaganda sheet." But when he got here, he opened up to attack the newsletter as "inopportune, awkward and unjustified."

The publication of the newsletter by the federal Liberals infuriated Bourassa's campaign staff who describe it as a gaff by the Trudeau Liberals at a crucial stage of the Quebec campaign.

Bourassa aides say the newsletter furnished their opponents with electoral ammunition.

One Bourassa aide said: "The feds are maniacs, they're going to pay for their sins."

Bourassa told the Deux-Montagnes crowd that he is "profoundly unsatisfied" with the way federalism has been working for Quebec province and he was especially concerned about the high unemployment rate.

At Laval, in Liberal-held Fabre riding later Sunday night, Bourassa repeated his criticism of the newsletter

Transfer Made At Dawn

TORONTO (CP)— Canada's largest trust company, bowing to the wishes of what it called "skittish" investors, has transferred an undisclosed amount of securities to Toronto from Montreal.

The dawn transfer by the Royal Trust Co.—carried out by nine armored trucks Sunday—was made at the request of customers pending the outcome of Wednesday's Quebec general election.

J. W. R. Seatle, vice-president of Royal Trust, which has assets of $10,008,454,000 under administration said in Montreal no company-owned securities were transferred. He said he regretted the move by "skittish" investors "because it is creating the idea of flight of capital."

J. A. Worsley, Ontario manager of Royal Trust, would say only that the securities arrived Sunday afternoon. He would not disclose their value or location except to say they are being kept in Toronto because "it is the logical place."

The convey of armored trucks left Montreal early Sunday and were met by a fleet from Toronto in Kingston, Ont.

SHOTGUNS

About 30 Brinks guards were on hand—some armed with shotguns—as the trucks lined up outside the Kingston police station and the boxes of securities were transferred one by one.

In Ottawa, spokesmen for several banks said the transfer of securities to Ottawa banks had been going on for the last month and the demand for safety deposit boxes was heavy.

An official of the Royal Trust branch said the flow had been increasing over the last couple of weeks. He said it was mostly securities, but there was some cash. He stressed that it was individuals making the transfers and not the company.

A check with some other major companies in Montreal showed that at least one, the investment firm of Nesbitt Thomson and Co., had been asked by clients to transfer margin stocks but the company had refused to do so.

The Royal Trust move followed recent suggestions that the rise of separatist feeling in Quebec would lead to a flight of capital from that province.

Commenting in Montreal on the Royal Trust action, Vernon Marquez, president of Northern Electric Co., said it would not achieve anything. But "at times like this, people would rather be safe than sorry."

CALLS IT RIDICULOUS

Fred R. Kearns, president of Canadair Ltd., the aircraft manufacturers, said the move was ridiculous.

"We are quite happy with our securities in the province and have no thought of moving out."

Frank Case, chairman of the Montreal Trust Co., said his company had made "a negligible amount of transfers, if any."

LEVESQUE HINTS DEAL

Times News Services

CHICOUTIMI, Que.—Separatist leader Rene Levesque hinted Sunday night he would like to merge his forces with the Creditistes after Wednesday's Quebec election.

Some polls indicate a second-place finish for Levesque's Parti Quebecois behind the Liberals.

Levesque told a rally aid to the poor and removal of slums would be top priority if he formed a government. He did not mention secession in his list of priorities.

Meanwhile, other parties continued to make Levesque their main target; Union Nationale Justice Minister Remi Paul called him "the Fidel Castro of Quebec."

Sihanouk Named Chief Of Red Cambodia Area

Times News Services

Prince Norodom Sihanouk is reportedly preparing to establish a provisional government in the Communist-held area of northeast Cambodia, following a jungle summit conference on the weekend with North Vietnamese, Pathet Lao and Viet Cong leaders.

Sihanouk, ousted from the Cambodian leadership last month by a right-wing anti-Communist bloc lead by Gen. Lon Nol, apparently has been pledged strong backing by Communist forces in his bid to return to power.

Today he was joined by leaders of North Vietnam, the Pathet Lao and the Viet Cong in a call for defeat of the United States, South Vietnam, the present Cambodian regime and Laos.

Meanwhile, the intensity of fighting inside Cambodia increased today as the government rushed reinforcements into the Takeo-Angtassom area south of Phnom Penh to try to stem a Communist advance on the capital.

Viet Cong units have again entered the town of Angtassom, 40 miles south of the capital, cutting Phnom Penh's lifeline to the sea, a government spokesman said today.

Takeo, a major road junction six miles east of Angtassom, apparently remains in government hands.

TROOPS TO MOVE

Military sources in the capital say at least several thousand troops will shortly begin moving into that area to attempt to reopen the country's communications, primarily road and rail lines linking Phnom Penh with the big port of Sihanoukville, now renamed Kompong Som.

Western diplomats in Vientiane, the Laotian capital, said the North Vietnamese air force would fly Sihanouk to northeast Cambodia within a week to establish his provisional administration.

The Viet Cong radio said the deposed Cambodian chief of state met on the Vietnamese-Laotian border Friday and Saturday with North Vietnamese Premier Pham Van Dong, Prince Souphanouvong, leader of the pro-Communist Pathet Lao movement in Laos, and Nguyen Huu Tho, head of the National Liberation Front, political arm of the Viet Cong.

The four leaders appealed to all Indochinese people "to increase their unity and push ahead with the struggle against the common enemy, which is the U.S. imperialists and their henchmen" in Saigon, Phnom Penh and Vientiane.

UNLOAD EQUIPMENT

A U.S. Air Force C-130 flew into Phnom Penh International Airport today and unloaded cases which American officials said contained communications equipment for the U.S. embassy in the Cambodian capital.

Sources said the plane and its American crew came from the Philippines carrying electronic equipment including a large generator.

The new equipment will allow the embassy to receive diplomatic cables directly from Saigon and Laos. Up to now, U.S. embassy communications had to use the government telecommunications office.

At a news conference in Dartmouth, Mass., Sunday, Senator J. W. Fulbright, chairman of the Senate foreign relations committee, said he fears the United States

RUSSIANS SILENT ON CHINA

Times News Services

HONG KONG — The Soviet Union and its Communist allies today remained silent on China's launching Friday of its first earth satellite.

North Vietnam, North Korea and Albania however, hailed the launching.

China, in a news broadcast today, said its satellite has "greatly strengthened the militancy of the Chinese people and of the revolutionary people of the world."

It also said Peking's first space achievement has "deflated the arrogance of imperialism, modern revisionism and all reaction" — meaning the United States, the Soviet Union and others who don't agree with Chinese leaders.

GYPSY ROSE DIES AT 56

LOS ANGELES — Gypsy Rose Lee, long-time star of burlesque, stage and screen, died here Sunday at the age of 56.

Miss Lee, former star of Ziegfeld Follies and Minsky's, had entered the University of California Medical Centre only a few days before her death. See story on Page 33.

Market Hits 6-Year Low

The Dow Jones industrial index at New York Stock Exchange today reached a six-year low, closing at 735.15, off 12.14 points from Friday.

Toronto Stock Exchange industrials were off 2.55 at 169.81 at the close of trading. (See details Page 8)

Single Rocket Used To Orbit 8 Satellites

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union announced today the launching of eight unmanned satellites on a single carrier—the largest experiment reported in the Cosmos program.

An official announcement gave no clue to the purpose of the complex space shot.

The spacecraft, numbered Cosmos 336 through Cosmos 343, were launched Saturday and were "equipped with scientific apparatus designed for space research," the announcement said.

★ ★ ★

"The equipment aboard the satellites is functioning normally," it added.

Normally launchings in the Cosmos program are announced only in the most general terms, and details of their work are not revealed.

The Soviet satellites apparently were orbiting in a bunch, with a high point of 932 miles, a low point of 869 miles and an angle to the equator of 74 degrees.

'We're Fighting NWL Takeover'

By BRUCE YEMEN

Einar Gunderson, Social Credit party fund-raiser and a director of NWL Financial Corp. of Vancouver, said today he has no idea why a Bahamas-based firm is buying into the company.

Speaking from his office at B.C. Hydro and Power Authority in Vancouver, Gunderson confirmed he is fighting any possible takeover of NWL by the Residential Resort Development Co. of Freeport, Bahamas.

Gunderson, one-time B.C. finance minister, is an executive director of Hydro, a crown corporation.

WON'T DISCUSS MOTIVE

"I want to keep as many companies as possible with head offices here in B.C." Gunderson said, declining to comment on the possible motive of the Bahamian firm in buying into NWL.

Opposition Leader Dave Barrett said Thursday that Residential Resort was a "sister company" of Benguet Consolidated Corp. Benguet has been declared unacceptable in B.C. by Attorney-General Leslie Peterson.

Barrett raised the possibility that an attempt was being made to set up a "front" company to take over from Benguet in the Cypress Bowl development in West Vancouver.

Peterson denied Friday that Benguet was involved in the takeover bid and said it was unfortunate that Barrett had linked Gunderson to that firm

KILLER WHALES DIE IN ALASKA OIL SPILL

ANCHORAGE (AP) — Whales, seals and "tens of thousands" of birds are dead from what officials fear is an extremely lethal oil spill along the Alaska Peninsula.

"The sheet of oil is some ten miles wide and may be more than 100 miles long," said Ray Morris, chief of the Federal Water Quality Administration's oil pollution branch here.

"We won't know, until we've done extensive testing, that the spill caused the deaths. What we do know is that tens of thousands of birds are dead, as are at least two killer whales, more than 400 hair seals, and sea lions, sea otters and other wild life," Morris said.

"About 40 of the birds have been sacked and are on their way for examination. All of them are coated with a fine oil — something like diesel."

Morris said dead wildlife has been reported over 350 miles of Southwest Alaska coastline, from Unimak Island northeast to Egegik.

"What is incredible to us is the toxic effect of this oil, if it is the oil that has caused the deaths. Killer whales aren't that easy to kill," he said.

Ottawa to Probe Tin Price Increases

OTTAWA (CP) — An immediate review into an increase in the price of tin containers was announced today by the federal prices and incomes commission.

It said that American Can of Canada Ltd. and Continental Can Co. of Canada Ltd. have informed customers that prices for tin containers have been increased approximately five per cent.

Higher costs for tin plate as well as other cost factors were cited by the firms, the major producers of tin cans used mainly in the food processing and the beverage industries.

"The purpose of the review is to determine whether the price increase is clearly less than the amount needed to cover the increases in each producer's costs in 1970," the statement said.

Planners Urge B.C. Divide Into Regions

The Planning Institute of British Columbia recommends B.C. be divided into eight economic regions.

In a brief to Municipal Affairs Minister Dan Campbell, presented at the institute's weekend meeting in Victoria, the PIBC proposed that provincial administration be based on these eight regions.

Victoria would be part of a south and central Vancouver Island region, extending to just north of Nanaimo and then across to the west coast.

The planners said the recommended regions would be the focus for:

LOND-RANGE PROGRAMS

1. Preparing annual and longer-range provincial development policies and programs on a regional basis;

2. Creating eight common administrative units for all government departments and Crown corporations and dovetailing their activities with each other within regional development programs;

3. Consultation between the province and regional districts and their municipalities on formulation of regional development objectives, policies and programs.

The government would table in the legislature an annual development program for each economic region. Each program would be a commitment for the allocation of capital funds for the forthcoming year plus a four-year forecast of priorities.

The treasury board would bear ultimate responsibility for preparing development programs.

REVIEW

To provide the provincial government with local views on regional development, it was suggested that members of the legislature, regional districts, municipalities and other groups in each economic region should meet with the treasury board to review and comment on proposed regional development programs.

GREATER ROLE

The PIBC said the province is growing rapidly and moving into a post-industrial economy in which research, thinking, decision making, recreation and tourist industries will play a far greater role than they have in the past.

These inevitable changes will create new problems and new difficulties, it said.

"Unless the provincial government establishes a better process for decision-making than now exists, and more explicit policies for provincial development than are presently apparent, it will become increasingly difficult to meet these demands, resolve these conflicts and select between these choices on a rational and equitable basis," said the planners.

PART OF ANSWER

Regional districts were part of the answer. If their responsibilities were sufficiently broad, this would enable joint action by groups of municipalities and unorganized areas on common problems.

"With time, these regional districts should also demonstrate the need for integrated regional development programs that will cut across existing municipal boundaries and inevitably involve the provincial departments and crown agencies that are each influencing regional development in their own separate ways.

"It will then become increasingly apparent that the regional districts cannot operate in a vacuum. There will be political frustration within the boards, and professional frustration in their technical committees, unless the preparation of regional development programs is linked to a similar process at the provincial government level.

"Without such a process, the rational determination of provincial policies and priorities is impossible and will lead to a misallocation of resources and government expenditures at all levels."

Public Polluting Small Lakes

The provincial Tourist Advisory Council today told Travel Industry Minister Kenneth Kiernan that the public is polluting a number of small lakes in British Columbia that lack proper sanitary facilities.

It cited Dugan Lake in the Cariboo district which had to be closed to public use by health authorities. The council said the fish and wildlife branch had created many good fishing lakes with its stocking program, but many of these have no facilities to accommodate tourists.

The Tourist Advisory Council is composed of travel executives throughout the province who meet the minister twice yearly to discuss ways of improving travel conditions in B.C.

In other resolutions the council called for improved food services on the PGE Railway, regulations requiring that motels and trailer camps clearly indicate rates and facilities, increased grants to regional tourist associations and uniform provincial tourist information outlets.

Kiernan addressed the one-day meeting this morning, reviewing his department's actions on last year's resolutions.

YPC's BACK CREDITISTES

MONTREAL (CP) — The Quebec wing of the Young Progressive Conservative organization has been "quietly campaigning" for the Creditistes in the current Quebec election campaign, Michael Layton, provincial YPC president, said Saturday.

"After extension consultation, it has become evident that the vast majority of YPC activists will be voting for the Creditistes on April 29," he told a joint meeting of the YPC and the Progressive Conservatives Student Federation.

RCMP QUESTION PAIR IN NANAIMO SLAYING

NANAIMO (CP) — RCMP today were questioning a man and woman in an investigation into the slaying of an unidentified woman Sunday night.

Police said the dead woman, believed to be in her mid-30s, was found lying in the kitchen of a Nanaimo house. She had been beaten and slashed.

The regular occupants of the house, an elderly woman and her son, were being questioned and identification of the dead woman was withheld pending notification of next of kin.

B.C. Pioneer John Mara Dies at 82

Funeral services will be held Tuesday at 3 p.m. in the Church of St. George the Martyr for John Lytton Mara, 82, a former Victoria alderman and member of one of B.C.'s pioneer families.

He died Saturday in Royal Jubilee Hospital.

A resident of Victoria for 65 years, Mara served as alderman from 1925 to 1931.

His bent for politics came from his father, who came west with the Overlanders in the 1800s, served as an MLA for Yale and became Speaker, and later went on to the House of Commons.

Mara was a member of the Union Club — his father was among the founders — and for many years was a member of the Royal Victoria Yacht Club.

He is survived by his wife, Nancy, at the family home, 3941 Smugglers Cover; a daughter, Denise Mara of Vancouver, and a son, John, of West Vancouver.

Canon Charles P. Bishop will officiate at Tuesday's service, which will be followed by cremation.

Hayward's Funeral Chapel is handling funeral arrangements.

Chutist Killed

RAVENNA, Ohio (CP-AP) — Edith Wagner, 30, of Kitchener, Ont., fell 5,500 feet to her death when she attempted her 68th parachute jump Sunday. She fell near Garrettsville in Portage County when her parachute did not open.

WEATHER SYNOPSIS

The ridge of high pressure off the B.C. coast which has produced a northwesterly flow of cool Pacific air over the province will move inland on Tuesday, allowing cloud and rain to return to the north coast. Elsewhere, skies will be generally sunny on Tuesday.

The Weather and You

By CARL RIBLET JR.

Jeff, the old Wyoming cowboy, has been laid low by the weather and his heart. He has been in the local hospital up by the old cavalry parade grounds for more than a week with a heart attack. I went to see him and he blamed it on the weather.

"You remember that awful cold night we had two weeks ago," he said. "Well, it was below freezing, and it was a cold front like we never get at this time of the year, I felt awful, and then there was this pain in my chest, and the next thing you know I was on the way to the hospital. They told me I had a heart attack. That's what the weather can do to a fellow."

Jeff didn't say, of course, that it was more than the weather that gave him a heart attack; that the conditions in his body were just right for it when the weather changed and perhaps triggered the attack. Old Jeff is going home soon. "With a good-looking nurse on each arm to help me up the steps," he said.

because Gunderson was one of the directors trying to prevent "these people" — Residential Resort — from taking over.

NO CONTACT

Gunderson said he has no idea whether Residential is connected with Benguet. It might even be a "legitimate" enterprise, he said, but added that he has no knowledge of the firm and has no contact with it.

Asked if he is confident that a takeover bid could be prevented by the directors of NWL, Gunderson said he couldn't predict because "there's lots of shares out" and it is difficult to stop people selling if they want.

"I haven't sold any shares," he said, suggesting that the takeover method used was for Residential Resort to place an open bid and pick up all NWL shares at market price as they became available.

He said it is possible that if the Bahamas firm gained control it might want to move the company's head office out of B.C. and the directors want to prevent that.

may become involved in Cambodia.

Fulbright said State Secretary William Rogers planned to brief the foreign relations committee today in closed session on the Nixon administration's proposed policy in Cambodia and Laos.

The Cambodian government said in a letter to the South Vietnamese government that Viet Cong and North Vietnamese troops have killed or captured more than 3,500 Cambodians and have destroyed more than 700 homes in the past month.

Foreign Minister Yem Sambaur told South Vietnamese Foreign Minister Tran Van Lam: "At no time has it been in the intentions of the present leaders of Cambodia to conduct a policy of persecution of innocent foreigners." But he added that "my government finds itself obliged to take certain necessary measures to assure the security of the country."

Hundreds of Vietnamese civilians in Cambodia have been killed since Sihanouk was ousted, and there have been well-authenticated reports that many of them were victims of massacres by Cambodian troops.

Eighty Vietnamese refugees arrived in Saigon Sunday from Phnom Penh. Some said Cambodian troops took money from Vietnamese at gunpoint, looted their homes, raped girls 14 and 15 years old, and took the men away. One man said he had seem Cambodian troops throw Vietnamese men into a river and bury others and then run over them with bulldozers.

First Woman County Judge Dies at 75

PORT COLBORNE, Ont. (CP) — Judge Helen A. Kinnear, the first woman King's counsel and first female county court judge in the Commonwealth, died Saturday in hospital in Port Colborne.

Judge Kinnear, 75, attended school in Port Colborne, studied at the University of Toronto and graduated with honors from Osgoode Hall in 1920.

Born in nearby Cayuga, she was sworn in as a county court judge in 1943 and in the same year was named local judge of the High Court of Justice for Ontario.

Judge Kinnear retired in 1962 because of ill health. Justice Minister Fulton paid tribute at that time to her "faithful devotion to duty and her many years of eminent service."

Upon her graduation from law school in 1920, she became her father's law partner. Four years later, she took over the firm when her father died.

She distinguished herself by being the first woman lawyer to appear before the Supreme Court of Canada, and in 1934 she became the first woman in the British Empire to be appointed King's counsel.

and said "figures like this should not be thrown at Quebecers at the last minute of an election campaign."

"Some figures claim that Quebec is on the losing end, others claim that Quebec is getting the better of the deal. Our attitude is that if we are on the losing end then a Liberal government will make us winners. If we are getting the best of it a Liberal government will make things even better."

He attacked Levesque's Parti Quebecois as an "intellectual fraud."

He said the party is campaigning with the slogan that "sovereignty means prosperity" but before the election began separatist spokesmen were saying openly that Quebec independence would be accompanied by a period of economic austerity.

LINLEY
. . . well-guarded

Security Tightened For Queen's Nephew

By GODFREY ANDERSON

LONDON (AP) — Princess Margaret had Scotland Yard throw a security net today around her son and heir, eight-year-old Viscount Linley, after learning of kidnap threats against him.

Lord Linley, now on Easter vacation, returns to Ashdown House preparatory school at Forest Row, Sussex, Tuesday.

Rumors of a threat to kidnap him reached Princess Margaret and the Earl of Snowdown last week. Scotland Yard was immediately informed.

The story was that an attempt would be made to seize Lord Linley and ransom him for release of the notorious Kray twins, East London gang leaders now in top-security jails on murder convictions.

Charles Kray, father of Reginald and Ronald Kray, who are serving 30-year sentences, denied the existence of any kidnap plot.

"It's bloody ridiculous," he said. "Reggie and Ronnie know the boy's father. They met him at a premier. Now to say they're involved in a plot to kidnap this little boy is farcical."

WRITES TO SCHOOL

But Princess Margaret took the report seriously enough to write her son's headmaster Friday, warning him of the kidnap threat and asking him to keep word of it from her son.

Headmaster William Williamson, 65, said:

"I expect Viscount Linley back tomorrow. He usually comes by train, but his parents may come with him because of all the fuss."

The school is four miles from East Grinstead, in the London stockbrokers' commuting belt.

Lord Linley is under round-the-clock police guard and presumed to be at Kensington Palace, the London home of Princess Margaret and Lord Snowdon.

Two London newspapers reported receiving telephone calls about the threats to the Queen's nephew.

The first came anonymously to The Daily Sketch.

"I shouldn't be talking to you —they would cut my throat if they knew," said a voice over the line.

The man asked the newspaper to help persuade the police to take the kidnap plot seriously.

Rebels Take Half Of Papa Doc's Navy

PORT AU PRINCE (AP) — Haitian President Francois Duvalier today appeared to be firmly in control after a weekend coast guard revolt failed to touch off rebellion ashore. But the rebels were on their way to Puerto Rico with half of the dictator's little navy, seeking political asylum from the United States.

"It appears to me President Duvalier's position is solid," U.S. Ambassador Clinton E. Knox told reporters.

"Papa Doc" Duvalier, survivor of more than a dozen plots against his 13-year-old dictatorship, proclaimed the situation "completely under control." He said the rebels would be tried "when they are captured."

Knox said there was no popular uprising and no panic when the coast guard flagship Jean Dessalines and two of the other seven small ships in Haiti's navy began shelling Port au Prince Friday morning.

LIFE GOES ON

The sporadic firing, aimed at the presidential palace, arched over the U.S. embassy and damaged a bakery near Duvalier's heavily guarded residence. Two slightly injured Haitians were the only reported casualties.

Airline flights and telephone communications were stopped temporarily, but otherwise life continued undisturbed in the impoverished Caribbean nation.

Informants said several Haitian officials had been arrested, among them Justice Minister Rameau Estime.

Friday afternoon the rebels fired on and boarded the Miami tugboat Denise, which was entering the harbor. They seized some food. They also stopped a German freighter and took more food.

Haitian air force P-51s strafed the rebel ships Friday. The ships slipped out of the harbor Saturday and sailed off.

The U.S. state department announced that the three ships showed up at the U.S. naval base at Guantanamo, Cuba, about noon Sunday and "requested food, water and medical attention, which were provided."

"We understand the commander of the group, Col. Octavo Cayard, plans to seek political asylum for himself and his men," state department spokesman Warren McGruder said. He did not explain the request for medical attention.

Two U.S. Coast Guard cutters escorted the three ships to the U.S. Navy's Roosevelt Roads station in Puerto Rico.

"Until the ships have arrived in Puerto Rico and we have had an opportunity to ascertain all the various questions involved, we will not be able to comment on just what the disposition of this matter is," McGruder said.

Underworld Murder Link Investigated

VANCOUVER (CP) — Homicide detectives Saturday were investigating possible links between Murray Allan Boyd, killed Tuesday night by police, and four recent underworld murders.

A police spokesman said Boyd, a 31-year-old fugitive and convicted drug trafficker, could have been "the enforcer" for a group attempting to take over the city's illicit narcotics racket.

Boyd, who escaped from the British Columbia Penitentiary Jan. 20, was killed by police gunfire as he sat with 18-year-old Linda Wells in a pickup truck in the city's east end.

BONNIE, CLYDE

Miss Wells later described his death as "like the end of the Bonnie and Clyde movie." Police reported recovering 125 capsules of heroin from Boyd's body. Another 250 capsules were found in his room.

A spokesman said a sawed-off shotgun and shotgun shells also were found in the room. Police say the same type of weapon was used to kill convicted drug pedlar Leslie Irwin, 41, on Feb. 15.

Irwin was killed by a shotgun blast fired through the side window of his car.

Parts of a shotgun barrel and stock found near the murder scene were cut from the gun found in Boyd's room, police said.

LOUISIANA SENATE BOMBED

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — Police dogs sniffed the corridors of Louisiana's skyscraper Capitol today in search of clues to a bomber who blasted the marble senate chamber into rubble with dynamite.

No one was injured.

Gov. John McKeithen called the Sunday night blast the work of a madman or a revolutionary.

Police searched the 34-storey building and its park-like grounds but turned up nothing.

Estimates of damage ranged from $50,000 by McKeithen to $500,000 by Senate Secretary William Roberts.

The Economics of Pollution

A REALIZATION THAT AN increasing segment of the gross national product consists of production that is destructive of life and health has resulted in a growing body of economic thought advocating zero growth in the GNP to save the environment. Economist John Kenneth Galbraith bared aspects of this issue 12 years ago in The Affluent Society, in which he warned that United States national production goals were indiscriminate and too concerned with an accumulation of trivia.

More is not necessarily better and for too long we have made a fetish of growth, according to the new economists. The new theory even gets support from conservative economists who formerly served the U.S. government. Former U.S. Economic Council Chairman Walter Heller has written, "... the economic growth we measure is not everything ... first claim on the products of growth should be to repair the ravages of the growth process."

The new theory's logic is: If a new pulp mill pollutes a clean stream, the GNP will go up, not only because of the mill's valuable output, but also because other enterprises and municipalities downstream from the polluter will be compelled to invest in cleansing devices to return the water to a usable condition. In the same way, the GNP rises with automobile sales and the increased consumer expenditure for cleansing of clothes, lungs and bodies which such purchases necessitate. These and many other examples illustrate, in the new theorists' views, that we have a naive evaluation of how prosperous the North American economy really is. Quantitative records trick us into thinking we are better off than we really are.

There is a move in the United States now to develop a set of supplementary economic indicators that would provide an index to social amenities, and then to provide some sort of "deflator" of the GNP that might estimate deterioration in the quality of life. This appears to be a self-defeating cure. Failure to make progress in controlling pollution will merely strengthen the argument that halting growth itself will lead to an improvement in the environment.

It would be more fruitful to make industry conscious of its responsibility in rehabilitating the environment. But with the government's sad record in preventing and prosecuting pollution infractions, the initiative may have to come from industry itself. If that fails, polluters, strippped of the protection of friendly regulating agencies, should be forced to pay the costs, rather than consumers. Then and only then might attitudes change overnight. The alternative could, as the new economists prophesy, be a stagnant society suffocating in its past mistakes.

Senate Should Re-Examine Bill

DESPITE ARGUABLE WORDING and some obscurity that promises controversy, the House of Commons gave third reading to the government's anti-hate bill. Now it is up to the Senate to re-examine the bill before it becomes law. The Senate will have to determine if the bill infringes on the Bill of Rights or the charter of human rights which Prime Minister Trudeau has said he wants to see entrenched in the constitution. As the bill now stands, it raises grave doubts in the minds of many Canadians.

In the words of the bill, "Every one who, by communicating statements in any public place, incites hatred against any identifiable group where such incitement is likely to lead to a breach of the peace, is guilty of an indictable offence and is liable to imprisonment for two years; or an offence may be punishable on summary conviction." Subject to interpretation, a member of the Parti Quebecois who blamed that province's troubles on English Canadians in a book or from a public platform could, if his words resulted in a breach of the peace by his listeners, be liable to two years imprisonment. Other sections of the legislation are equally murky.

The Toronto Globe and Mail claims the hate bill, "would deny freedom of expression, freedom of conscience and religion, freedom of assembly and association, the security of liberty and property, the presumption of innocence, and would put artifical impediments in the way of discussions between Canadians." Such ringing indictments of the anti-hate bill have been commonplace, yet the House of Commons saw fit to pass the bill 89 to 45, with a significant 127 members of the House being conspicious by their absence.

The number of abstentions on such an important piece of legislation is in itself regrettable, and is not one of the better moments in the history of the House of Commons. However, our democratic parliamentary system has made allowances for lapses on the part of the House by giving the Senate final say on legislation. In this instance the Senate has an opportunity to confound its critics and show that it is no mere rubber stamp, by returning the anti-hate bill to the Commons for further consideration.

Canadian Content In Broadcasting

DIFFERENCES BETWEEN THE Canadian Radio-Television Commission and the Canadian Association of Broadcasters are rising in volume over national content on the airwaves. In television the CRTC proposes that 60 per cent of programming shall be Canadian; in radio, 30 per cent of all music played shall be Canadian performed or composed.

Private broadcasters who form the CAB want to dilute the Canadian content rule. Some of them see the role of the CBC as being merely a program-production corporation to feed the private broadcasters. Neither proposal would be welcome. Communications make a vital if intangible contribution to Canada's national identity. The Canadian air should retain a distinctively Canadian flavor, particularly in view of our proximity to our great neighbor.

Two of the largest members of the private broadcasters' association have dropped out of the organization because they believe their colleague's proposals are unrealistic. Mr. Stuart Griffiths, program director of Ottawa's CJOH, was asked on weekend television if, as many private broadcasters say, 60 per cent Canadian content would mean 60 per cent mediocrity. His answer was, "bilge". Such strong statements by powerful former CAB members tend to weaken the private broadcasters' case.

Under the proposed rules private broadcasters would be forced to put more emphasis on public service. While the private broadcasters complain that 60 per cent Canadian content is financially impossible, the CRTC needs more information than has been made public to judge what the private broadcasters can afford to do. But as Lord Thompson of Fleet, a well-known private broadcaster, once said, a licence for broadcasting is like a licence to print money.

If the new content rules become fact, private broadcasters should focus their talents on news and public affairs productions — areas in which Canadian viewers have a proven interest. There is a hunger among the people of this country to know more about themselves. Drama is expensive to produce. Yet in the fifties Canadians staged excellent television drama with limited facilities. There are few reasons why we cannot develop new talent in the seventies.

"... all these massacres are giving war a bad name ..."

Re: North Star Cruise Ship:

It seems strange in a city as large as Victoria, the press reporters and the Victoria Chamber of Commerce, are too uninterested to give a proper report of the first cruise ship entering the Port of Victoria for 1970.

Both parties were so busy giving adverse publicity to the Seafarers Union, that they completely ignored the entertainment given by the Thunderbird Girls Drum Corps, who were given a wonderful ovation by both passengers and crew.

All this was done though the girls were working under the most hazardous of conditions on the CPR dock.

It would be a delightful change, to have some publicity for the decent youth of the city and give them an incentive to stay that way.

I would suggest the Victoria Chamber of Commerce and the press open their eyes and ears to what's happening in our city.—Bob Armstrong, Director, Thunderbird Drum Corps.

The Auditor General Gave Parliament the Facts

ON the evidence of last week's debate in the House of Commons, there is not the slightest case — not the palest shadow of a case against the Auditor General of Canada.

Western

Robert Stanfield's censure motion, as amended by Tommy Douglas, afforded the presidents of the Privy Council and the Treasury Board a clear opportunity to substantiate the allegations made on television by the two ministers. Instead they coupled various welcome reassurances with simple repetition of unsubstantiated allegations in rather different words.

The concern in the country originated in two statements, and a commentary on them by the prime minister. After the appearance of Mr. Henderson's report for 1969, Mr. Donald Macdonald said on the CBC: "We do not regard it as his responsibility to criticize the underlying policy involved in certain decisions. This is Parliament's responsibility, and the government's, as approved by Parliament, after deciding on policy. We don't think it is the auditor general's prerogative to comment on that."

This was taken to mean that Mr. Henderson, in view of the president of the Privy Council, was at fault for criticizing policy. What else could it mean?

Then on April 11 Mr. Drury, possibly with some provocation from members of a panel, went farther. "He (Mr. Henderson) has expressed his views as to the appropriateness of some government policy. In this sense he is pitting his judgment as to sound business practice and sound government policy against the government's and, not unnaturally, you would not expect the government to agree with his judgment in every instance. I wonder, myself, whether the auditor general should cast himself in this role, or whether we should look for, really another kind of person to be auditor general."

Note of Threat

This is plainly an allegation. Moreover, the concluding words sounded uncommonly like a threat.

If so, it was withdrawn by Mr. Trudeau on April 13. He interpreted the words to mean: "We want another type of function fulfilled by the person who is fulfilling the job now, not some other person."

Evidently, however, Mr. Henderson's role was to be significantly changed for the prime minister appeared to endorse the basic allegation of his colleagues, "Within his terms of reference, he is a watchdog over government spending but of course when the auditor general embarks upon the area of criticizing government policy we feel he is impinging on the rights and duties of the opposition, which perhaps they do not fulfil very well."

When did he so embark? Mr. Douglas asked directly if the comments on remissions to automobile manufacturers were considered an "invasion of government policy."

Policy Criticism

Said Mr. Trudeau: "I think that this is an area of government policy. It may be that government policy is not right or is not effective or appropriate, in which case we hope that we will be criticized roundly by the opposition. But it seems to me that this is an example where there is criticism of policy and not of honesty or procedure."

Allegations without proof mean nothing. What proof was offered? Mr. Drury has been deeply involved in automobile policy but he did not mention it. He made statements such as the following:

"It is for this very reason (that there be an officer of Parliament above policy differences and above partisan debates) that I, and some of my colleagues, have admitted to some concern when the auditor general has been cast in the role of policy critic, in the role of adversary in contests over public policy."

But when was he so cast? The question is unanswered.

Again: "It is for this very reason (the independence and impartiality of the office) that I have ... expressed concern that it not be looked on as an adversary role; that his office not be envisioned as a source of criticism of government policy or of statutes of Parliament."

What statutes? No answer.

Of course, Mr. Henderson's revelations will result in criticism. This is in the nature of things. It was always true of auditors general reports. But for that matter criticism has also been based on the findings of other non-partisan agencies, such as the Economic Council.

Challenged by Mr. Douglas to cite an example of an invasion of the policy field, Mr. Drury made this remarkable observation: "Neither in my television speech nor in my remarks just now have I talked about the auditor general invading the policy field. What I was saying and what I was endeavoring to suggest the other day was that there was a danger that Parliament directly or through one of its committees, should instruct the auditor general to undertake the role in which he would be cast, either by the public or by others, as critic of government policy and consequently the government."

So Mr. Henderson is in the clear. But where is Mr. Drury? The suggestion is absolutely fantastic.

Acting on Instructions

Have we come to the point where Parliament needs to be protected against itself? Or against its committees on which the government always has a majority? This precisely is Mr. Drury's argument. The auditor general was instructed by the public accounts committee to report unproductive expenditures and, under this head, made mention of the Northumberland Causeway. When called upon to do this sort of thing "he runs the risk of being drawn into such a debate in a partisan way."

So presumably it is not in the public interest that the public, which pays the bills, should know about the many millions wasted in such ways. But why, if this is so, did the ministers single out the auditor general for these rebukes? Why not pin the blame where it presumably belongs — on the public accounts committee with its government majority?

The only government member to deal with the automobile case was Norman Cafik (Ontario). He quarreled with the wording of the Douglas amendment which referred to "improper concessions of over $180 million" to the manufacturers.

Vindication

Mr. Cafik pointed out, quite accurately, that Mr. Henderson did not use the adjective "improper" and mentioned the matter because he was required to do so by the Financial Administration Act. This, of course, is vindication of Mr. Henderson. He gave Parliament the facts. If the facts, in the opinion of many people including this writer, warrant use of the opprobious adjective, this certainly is not the auditor general's fault.

So there is no case, not even an outline of a case, against Mr. Henderson. He has not gone beyond his role which is acknowledged to be a very valuable one. Since the only danger to which Parliament's attention has been directed exists solely in the over-heated imagination of the president of the treasury board, there is no case for changing his role.

The important thing is to ensure that no change of a restrictive character is effected under a cloud cover of reassurances when the bill comes before the House of Commons.

FROM NEW YORK

By JAMES RESTON

The Big Risk in Nixon's Withdrawal

IN announcing the withdrawal of another 150,000 American troops from Vietnam within the next 12 months, President Nixon said "this far-reaching decision was made after consultation with our commanders in the field and it has the approval of the Government of South Vietnam." The distinction is clear. He "consulted" his commanders in the field but didn't get their "approval." In fact, there was bitter opposition to this move both by General Abrams and by the Joint Chiefs of Staff, and the President is now caught between the anti-war elements who want him to get out faster and his military chiefs who want him to slow down the retreat.

Reston

This is one of those situations where it would probably be wise to follow the Administration's slogan: watch what we do rather than what we say. The main thing is that, despite the expansion of the war into Cambodia and Laos, despite the diplomatic stalemate in Paris peace talks, and despite the warnings of his military advisers, the President is sticking to his schedule of withdrawals and committing himself to a flexible but slightly faster pull-back in the next year.

There are risks in this for the President, not only in Vietnam but within the Pentagon and the command in Saigon. For Abrams is known to feel that the President has now reached the point of changing fundamentally the combat forces in the field without changing Abrams's mission.

That mission is to provide for the security of South Vietnam with the forces of the United States and the forces of the South Vietnamese. What Abrams is saying is that his troops are being taken from him faster than he thinks prudent in the present state of readiness of the South Vietnamese and the widening war by the North Vietnamese. What the President is saying in effect, is what Sen. George Aiken urged him to say long ago: "We've won, so bring the boys back home."

It would probably be a mistake for the anti-war elements at home and the North Vietnamese officials in Hanoi to ignore this increasingly difficult relationship between the President and his principal military chiefs.

Imposed Authority

He has not said when in the next 12 months we will cut the 150,000, but he has imposed his authority as Commander in Chief on his subordinates. He has given a somewhat rosier picture of the situation in Indochina than his commanders would make themselves, and therefore he is vulnerable to the charge — which President Johnson would never face — that he has given them an assignment but not the men to carry it out.

In this situation, the President will eventually face a very dangerous moment when most of his combat troops have been withdrawn and the remaining troops may be exposed and vulnerable to a major enemy attack.

This was clearly in the President's mind in his latest report on Vietnam. "While we are taking these risks for peace," he said, "they (the enemy) will be taking grave risks should they attempt to use the occasion to jeopardize the security of our remaining forces ... my responsibility as Commander in Chief of our armed forces is for the safety of our men, and I shall meet that responsibility."

Here what the President says should be taken with the utmost seriousness. For if he personally takes the responsibility for withdrawing troops against the advice of Abrams, and the enemy then launches an attack that threatens a major military defeat or even the destruction of Abram's command, it is not too much to say that he will use any weapons at his command, repeat any weapons, to avoid the destruction of his remaining soldiers.

Nixon Reactions

Anybody who has watched Nixon over the years is bound to understand how reluctantly he would reject the advice of his military commanders, how careful he would be to avoid an open confrontation with them on a military judgment, and how violently he would react if he thought his decision was in danger of producing a massacre or even a humiliating defeat.

This is the new thing in the situation. He has left himself some leeway to keep most of the 150,000 in Vietnam until late in the 12-month period. He has obliquely suggested a political compromise that would leave the Communists in charge of the areas they now hold, and he has surrounded it all with victorious rhetoric, which his commanders don't quite believe and even resent.

In short, Nixon is now approaching that delicate point of withdrawal which President de Gaulle faced in his retreat from Algeria. De Gaulle managed it only with the greatest difficulty, against the advice and, some thought, the honor of his responsible officers, and it was not accomplished without revolt within the French officer class.

President Nixon is not faced with anything so serious as this, but he is now coming into the most difficult part of his policy, and even those who might wish him to move faster, have to give him credit for sticking to the direction and pace of his retreat, even if he calls it by the name of victory.

Race Integration Making Little Headway in Europe

By MAX WILDE

GENEVA — Every sixth or seventh person you meet in Switzerland is likely to be a foreigner. It has begun to worry the Swiss. Ten years ago there were 584,000 non-Swiss in the land; last year there were 972,000 out of a total population of just over six millions.

Of the foreigners more than 600,000 are workers who came to earn better money than they could earn at home. From now on this invasion is to be limited to 40,000 a year, and because between 75,000 and 80,000 return home annually, the federal authorities look to a steady reduction of the total.

But this is not enough for one Zurich member of the national assembly, James Schwarzenbach. He wants a referendum to demand a reduction of foreigners to 10 per cent of the country's population.

Last year he obtained 70,000 signatures — 20,000 more than needed — to initiate a referendum. But the government is reluctant and has put a referendum off until next June. It is alarmed by protests from the catering and building industries which depend heavily on seasonal foreign labor.

There are more than seven million foreign workers in eight European countries. The biggest number is in France — more than three millions. Nearly half of them come from north and central Africa and more than half of these are settlers, not seasonal workers.

They increase by seven per cent a year which is ten times the rate of increase of the French people. They do the dirtiest and hardest jobs and accept working and living conditions which French workers will not tolerate.

They get the worst of both worlds because they are also disliked: they are blamed for creating unemployment and causing a lowering of wage scales, and they are accused of causing a high rate of crime, although statistics show that juvenile delinquency is three times as high among young French as among, for example, Algerians.

★

But the French tend, like people elsewhere, to look down on foreigners. A French sociologist quoted in the Paris Christian Review of Economics and Humanism says: "If a works foreman won't let his daughter marry an Italian, it is not because he is an Italian but because he is an unskilled worker. If he were the son of an industrialist he would no longer be Italian."

Most of the six countries of the Common Market are now heavily dependent on foreign workers. In Germany there were 1,100,000 a year ago, about one-third of them women.

In 1968 they sent to their homelands about $540 million. Many foreign wokers bring their wives to Germany (the Swiss won't let wives in until the husbands have been in Switzerland from 10 to 12 years), or marry German women. There were 40,000 foreign children in Germany at the end of 1960.

The labor traffic in Europe crosses all frontiers but is heaviest from the poorer countries or countries where there is much regional poverty. Of the seven million at work outside their own countries, nearly two million are from Italy, a million from Yugoslavia, 350,000 from Spain, 230,000 from Turkey, and 225,000 from Greece.

★

If integrationists see in the mixing of peoples a step towards a more united Europe, there are countering factors to be considered too. Some exploitation and resentment are inevitable.

A writer in Economics and Humanism calls for an international statute for migrant workers. "As a start, uncontrolled and disorderly immigration must be stopped. It harms the immigrant population which arrives ill-prepared with neither work nor lodging. It harms the native population by producing a saturation effect. It harms the whole labor force — but it is profitable to the employers.

"This anarchic situation should be replaced by greater co-operation with countries from which immigrants come, a housing policy administered by public authorities, training for workers, and research into ways of integrating the foreigner into public and social life."

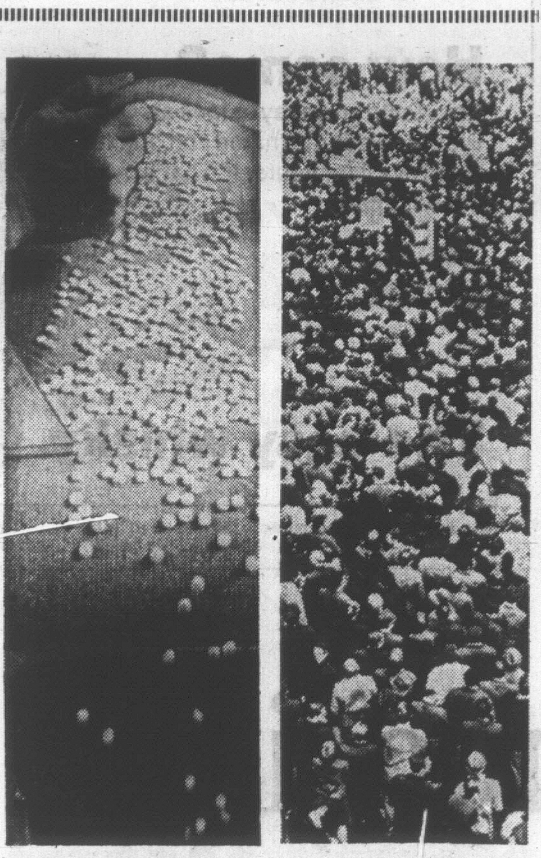
Who'll Push The Pill?

By CLYDE SANGER



Around Ottawa corridors the explanation is offered in beguilingly simple terms. "The government unlocked the door, so that anyone could go through. But this didn't mean it was going to push anyone through."

So that's what was happening last August, when the criminal code was amended to allow the sale of contraceptives and publishing of birth control information. It was the striking out of an antique prohibition.

●

But anyone who thought it marked the beginnings of a positive, perhaps even vigorous, government policy on family planning had a shock coming.

Lots of people did. People like Maurice Strong, president of the Canadian International Development Agency, who appointed Dr. George Brown to work out how Canada can help family planning programs abroad.

And Senator David Croll, who told George Cadbury and the other officers of the Family Planning Federation of Canada that came before his special committee on poverty: "You are a success story. It has taken a long time ... Where once you had to whisper the message, today you can shout it from the highest mountain."

No doubt Cadbury will shout his message, for he stands on a mountain-top as chairman of the 80-nation International Planned Parenthood Federation.

●

His message to the federal government, as delivered through the poverty committee, was that it should assume leadership in several ways: in training health and welfare workers; in setting up two centres for population studies; in launching a national public information campaign; in providing funds for the provinces to deliver family planning services, and in taking full responsibility for services among Indians and Eskimos.

His message may have got across to Senator Croll, but it hasn't done so yet to the federal cabinet.

Health Minister John Munro began stalling on a plan for a pilot scheme in British Columbia which he had invited the FPFC to prepare. Munro's explanation was that the initiative over family planning programs has to come from the provinces.

●

This in itself is an arguable point, because the National Health and Welfare Act gives the federal government responsibility for dissemination of public health information.

What Ottawa seems to be saying is that it has unlocked the door, and is waiting for the provinces to push through it. It may be a long wait.

The chances are that the cabinet, with 14 Catholics among its 30 members, will reach a quiet compromise: that family planning can be supported, because after all it means more than contraceptives — it means (in George Cadbury's phrase) "a real and positive concern with families" — but that its support will, like any other health program, be subjected to the usual priorities and pressures.

The cabinet is inhibited also in the area where the provinces don't complicate the picture at all — health services to Indians and Eskimos.

Canadian Indians have the highest birth rate in the world of any group except the citizens of Kuwait. Evidence of misery and poverty among Indian families is hardly lacking, yet the federal government hesitates to promote family planning because some people have said this would be a genocide plot.

It doesn't, I suppose, much matter in Kenya or Columbia or India whether the Canadian government produces the $1-million contribution it was expected to make to the United Nations fund for population activities.

Others — such as Britain, West Germany, Sweden — will give enough to assure the full matching grant of $7.5 million from Washington.

●

But it does matter that Ottawa should have a positive enough domestic policy on family planning to allow it to support abroad the much larger commitments of the PPF.

And it does matter that, as the poverty committee was told, "the non-poor are using family planning as one way of avoiding poverty — the poor are not."

Their problems haven't been solved by that single act of unlocking the door.

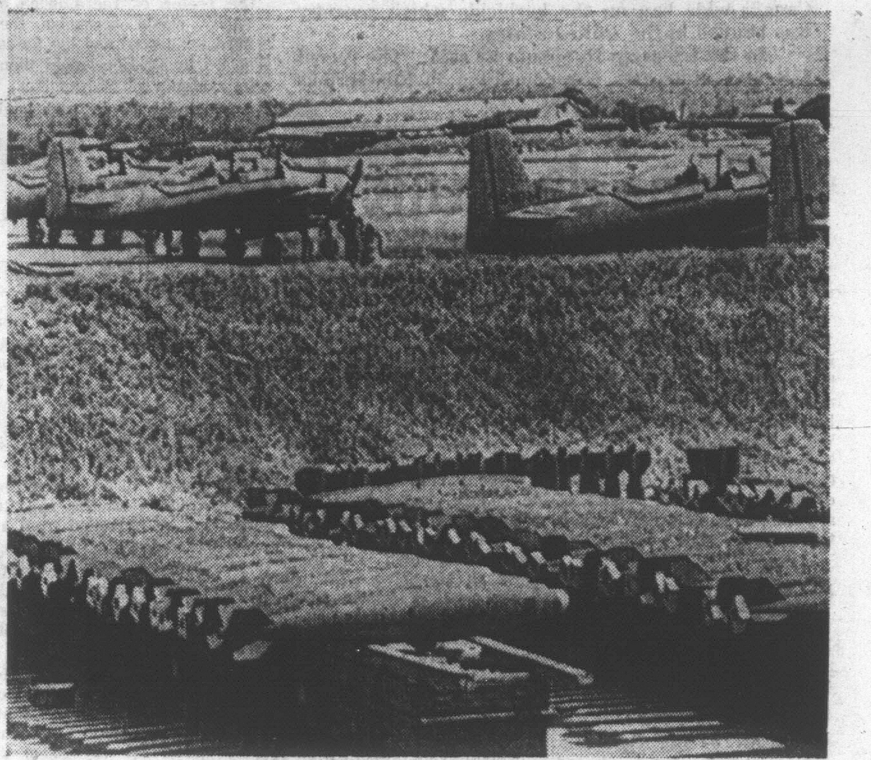
U.S. Unwraps Laos Deception

By MURRAY MARDER



Pakse airbase in southern Laos.

WASHINGTON — For more than six years, the Symington subcommittee's report on Laos shows, the United States practised a policy of official deception about its extremely extensive military operations in Laos.

It did not do so idly or haphazardly. The policy of official deception was carried out deliberately and systematically, for what officials at the highest levels of government were convinced were for reasons of national security.

Handful of Zealots

Many of those officials are still in the government today. They are still just as convinced that the reasons for deception were and are fully justified, and that U.S. operations in Laos are a "model" of an efficient, successful relatively low-cost, effectively clandestine, counter-guerrilla operation.

On the last count, the officials may be right — the Laos operations may be a model of a successful, secret operation against tough odds. But that by no means answers the real question, which is whether a handful of counter-insurgency zealots should have the right to define national interests for the U.S. in this fashion, and then involve the country in a dangerous and entangling mission without the public knowing anything about it.

An Open Society?

This is the critical moral issue raised by the Laos hearings. Toward the end of the censored transcript Sen. Stuart Symington, who is anything but anti-military, and who knew from visits to Laos as much as any senator did about the U.S. role there, raises the matter in blunt terms:

"We incur hundreds of thousands of U.S. casualties because we are opposed to a closed society. We say we are an open society, and the enemy is a closed society.

"Accepting that premise, it would appear logical for them not to tell their people (what they are doing); but it is sort of a twist on our basic philosophy about the importance of containing Communism.

"Here we are telling Americans they must fight and die to maintain an open society, but not telling our people what we are doing. That would seem the characteristic of a closed society."

The situation recalls a comment made in private by a western European friend who is extremely pro-American and who was troubled by the international moralistic consequences of the American military intervention in the Dominican Republic in April, 1965. When the Johnson administration was caught lying about its original rationale for the intervention ("to save American lives"), this man remarked in dismay:

"This will secretly please a lot of Europeans."

Why?

"Because," he answered, "they always have resented the holier-than-thou American attitude about intervention, about imperialism, about your claim to a 'higher morality.' Now you are down in the gutter with us.

Moral Prostitutes

"The U-2 (spy-plane flights over the Soviet Union) affair was the first blow to American 'virginity'; this is the second. Now we are all moral prostitutes."

Later that year came the major American slide into Vietnam, then afterward, increasing unofficial disclosure of the clandestine American involvement in Laos.

Senate foreign relations subcommittee hearings on Laos showed how Congress itself is misled by artful or deliberately technical official reples to questions.

In 1968, the Laos transcript reveals the parent committee was informed that: "... We do not have a military training and advisory organization in Laos." The Laos inquiry confirmed that there are hundreds of U.S. "advisers" in Laos and at training bases for Laotian forces in Thailand. The Symington subcommittee demanded an explanation.

There is no inconsistency, government witnesses responded; in military parlance, "an advisory group's" sole mission is "to provide advice ... down to lower unit levels." U.S. military personnel in Laos provide "advice," but officially do not constitute "an advisory group."

His committee, Sen. Fulbright protested, was victimized by "semantics."

It is argued by many officials, members of Congress — and even newsmen as well—that nothing vitally new has been disclosed about U.S. operations in Laos that was not, or should not have been known to any careful reader of his daily newspaper.

This is basically correct. But there is a fundamental difference in a nation that claims a standard of "higher morality" between admitting its actions officially, and having knowledge of them seep out.

Not an Answer

In fact, this is precisely the case that the United States government argued for maintaining officially secrecy for six years, as the testimony shows: to take "official cognizance" of what it was doing in Laos carried a whole range of possible international repercussions.

Newspaper accounts can be disavowed; a report that is inaccurate even fractionally — as accounts of secret operations are very likely to be — can be officially dismissed as containing "innumerable inaccuracies."

This often has been the official response to enterprising news reports about Laos — or Vietnam, or Cambodia. It is hardly a satisfactory answer to the national moral questions raised by such clandestine military operations, therefore, to counter that "everyone" knew about them anyhow, so there was no real deception.

Nor is it any moral "out," as Sen. Symington noted, to shift blame to the Central Intelligence Agency for operational activities it was directed to perform by the nation's leadership. The moral responsibility is government-wide.

Those who express bafflement about why a younger generation loses faith in the words of its leaders will find some answers in the Laos transcript.

And a Happy Doomsday to You

By RUSSELL BAKER

To be a good guy nowadays you are supposed to live on the brink of hysteria. It is hard after a while, especially on the throat. All that shouting:

"Genocide!"

"Pig!"

"Genocidal Pig!"

And so on. One quickly feels the urge to slip away for a lemonade, possibly some bourbon. Good guys watch with contempt, pain, pity. "Just when we need every vocal cord we can muster to shout 'Male chauvinism to the wall!' you slip out for lemonade," an emissary from the good guys observes.

He is wrapped in Swedish gloom. All good guys wear heavy wool gloom nowadays. It makes them feel good. "It's all over," they like to tell you. "Everything is rotten, dying. We live in a culture that . . ."

"Live in a culture." "Our culture."

★ ★ ★

Why are these glum people determined to make matters worse by insisting that we live in a "culture?" If you think of yourself as living in a "culture" you are sure to become depressed. Bacteria live in "cultures." Moldy excrescences blooming in plastic lab trays: that we most obviously are not, except to ninth-rate poets.

Actually, what we live in is nothing more than an unusually large industrial state of great natural wealth which has been developed by persons of European origin along lines consistent with the European's acquisitive, aggressive and warlike temperament. It is often a mess, but certainly not a "culture."

"Black power!" "Women's liberation!" "Children's rights!" "Power to the people!" "Close it down!" "Blow it up!" "I'm gonna give you a big fat lip, whitey!"

Huddled sneakily in the ice-cream parlor tasting lemonade, aware of good-guy failure, one senses that while these cries represent nothing more than the national passion for hysteria, their hysteria is nevertheless justified by its relevance.

★ ★ ★

"Those shouts of hysteria relate," explains the well-intentioned, gloom-swaddled agent of the good guys who is trying to save you from . . . What? Fate worse than death? Middle-classness? White liberalism? Male chauvainism? Sexism? Galloping quatrogenarianism with dull ache in the lower lumbar region?

Yes. Admit it over your lemonade. Those shouts of hysteria — they relate, all right. Whatever that means. But you, do you relate? Whatever that means. And whatever it means, you know all too painfully, that you do not relate; and you know that people who do not relate are—admit it—bad guys.

"Look, you're a good guy, I know. Can't you find it in you to forgive me, even if I can't relate. I want to relate. I've tried to relate. But I tell you, I just can't do it!"

Does one dare make such confession, throw himself on the goodness of the good guys? Never. The judgment in these cases is automatic. "You are an irrelevant, middle-class white-liberal male-chauvinistic, sexistical, galloping-quatrogenarianical pig!" There is no allowance for a recommendation of mercy.

If there were, too many bad guys would be spared, which might be acceptable in less desperate times, but not in times as dire as these.

Friends drop by with helpful suggestions. Why not become a militant of some sort? Militants command great respect nowadays, and you wouldn't have to sit around too ashamed to hold up your head.

They mean well, but being a militant is very hard. A militant is, in the final analysis, nothing but a three-syllable synonym for "Boor." A boor, however, who is determined to inflict himself on anybody he catches having a good time.

Afterwards, all the militants get together to inflict themselves on each other and argue who did the most that day to make life a little more unbearable for humanity.

★ ★ ★

Joining the established governing class is no better. They smell of H-bomb oil and stale air cooped up too long in campaign balloons, and they demand an intense faith in the absolutely critical danger of The Situation. Impossible.

The resolution? Subversion by rumor. Let us start a rumor. Let us put it about in a series of whispers that the world was not created in 1950.

Further, that the world has been, in fact, in existence for hundreds, possibly thousands of years. And further, that for practically all of that time The Situation has been just as dire, if not more so, than it is this week.

COMMISSION TO CARRY ON

Pool Rejection Dismays Promoters

By ED GOULD

DUNCAN — Promoters of the $400,000 bylaw for a Pioneer Park covered swimming pool expressed disappointment when the voters turned out to reject it Saturday.

Charles Rowley, chairman of the joint recreation commission, said the defeat of the bylaw was a disappointment but commission members would carry on because "the people have spoken."

Mayor Jim Quaife said he was personally disappointed in the results, especially because of the work that had been put into the campaign by members of Operation-Recreation and the joint recreation commission.

Pat Moore, the hard-working chairman of Operation-Recreation and chairman of the pool campaign committee said sooner or later the people of the Cowichan Valley would recognize the need for a pool and the funds raised by Op-Rec would then be available.

About $55,000 in cash and $25,000 in pledges were raised to defray expenses and to add "extras" to the proposed pool. The Op-Rec campaign aimed for $100,000.

In Duncan, 53 per cent of the 1,794 eligible voters turned out with 519 voting in favor and 429 against.

A total of 3,080 eligible voters in North Cowichan went to the polls. In Maple Bay 61 persons voted for it, 139 against; municipal hall, 154 in favor, 216 against; South End firehall, 708 in favor, 896 against.

Rowley said the recreation commission still had a job to do in attempting to improve existing recreation facilities and to look for ways to provide others which are badly needed.

POLLUTION GROUP ASKS HERBICIDE BAN

DUNCAN — Cowichn-Malahat chapter of the Society for Pollution and Environmental Control fired off a flurry of telegrams to government officials concerning pollution threats to the environment.

Jim Egan, vice-president, said today telegrams had been sent to British Columbia Hydro chairman Gordon Shrum and federal Minister of Agriculture H. A. Olson, urging suspension of the herbicice 2, 4, 5-T and to Prime Minister Trudeau congratulating him on his proposed Arctic pollution legislation.

Egan said SPEC was asking Olson for a Canada-wide ban on the herbicide which recently was banned in the United States.

In the telegram to Shrum he said: "The recent U.S. ban vindicates our opposition to this serious hazard to our environment."

Duncan Girl Wins Soroptomist Prize

COURTENAY — Della Rice, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Rice of Duncan, Sunday was presented with a $300 bursary at the 37th Annual Soroptomist Regional Conference.

The bursary, presented by Duncan chapter, will be paid at the rate of $30 a month and at the end of 10 months Miss Rice will be able to reapply for another bursary.

Miss Rice, who was attending a nursing course at Malaspina College, expressed concern about many of her fellow-Indian classmates being channelled into vocational instead of academic courses.

More than 100 delegates attended the conference from as far east as Winnipeg.

Ucluelet Club Elects President

George Ashcroft was re-elected as president of the Ucluelet Athletic Club in the annual meeting of the club held recently.

Other officers elected were Malcolm Mead-Miller, vice-president, and G. Michael Mead-Miller, secretary. Executive members are: Russell Clarke, Darcy Thompson, John Eeftink and Ray H. Vose.

The entire executive was re-elected at the annual meeting of the Ucluelet library board with Mrs. Ron Matterson returned as president, Mrs. Naida Smith as secretary and Mrs. Yvonne Vose as treasurer.

DIVORCES

A divorce was granted in Victoria Law Courts recently to Mrs. Maria Henneberg, 1766 Denman Street, from Joachim Henneberg, 1660 Island Highway.

Canada-Built Longship To Trace Viking Routes

KELOWNA, B.C. (CP) — The ring of a Viking battle axe heralded the public unveiling of a replica of a Norse sailing ship hand-crafted in this Okanagan Valley community.

Swedish Trade Commissioner Goran Kvarnstrom, once captain of an earlier replica of a Viking ship, Saturday hacked through a rope holding a covering on the 60-foot vessel, which will retrace the routes followed by exploring Norsemen more than 1,000 years ago.

Shipwright Gordon Jennens and his family spent four years constructing the oak vessel with tools similar to those used by the Vikings.

Jennens, 47, of Danish descent, plans to tow the replica to Iceland and then sail it to l'Anse au Meadows, Nfld., site of the earliest known Viking landing in North America.

Also attending the unveiling ceremony were J. F. Sigurdson, Icelandic consul to Canada; Hans Myhre, president of the Scandinavian Brotherhood of Vancouver Island; and persons of Scandinavian descent from as far away as Winnipeg.

The Jennens family began building the vessel in 1965 after cutting 50 tons of oak logs in B.C. and California. The voyage will be made without compass, and with supplies stored in wooden casks.

The vessel will be powered by 24 oars and a woollen sail. Its crew will be recruited from all over the continent.

Mr. Jennens said the craft, which requires some final conditioning on the hull, will be taken on a tour of B.C. next month before a trip across Canada.

A shipbuilder most of his life, Mr. Jennens also is working on a smaller replica of the Santa Maria, Christopher Columbus' flagship on his voyage to the Americas.

Cowichan Kinsmen Pick Chief

DUNCAN — Bill Taylor, a car salesman, was elected president of Duncan Kinsmen Club, publicity chairman Frank Ratchford said today.

Ratchford said the campaigning for officers, which took 2½ hours, was the most colorful for many years. Taylor replaces Tom Stanko, a junior secondary school teacher.

Don Wilson, pharmacist, was elected vice-president. Al Good, Ron Martin and Ian Brown were elected secretary-treasurer and registrar respectively.

Directors for 1970-71 are: Mike McDermott, Al Deschene, Ralph Sherwood. Bulletin editor is Irv Dueck. An installation ceremony will be held in September.

Choosing a new furnace?

Listen to someone who just put in a Shell Oil Furnace:

"Now my home is warm, and I have no dirt or dust or anything."

"We lived for three years with gas heating and I didn't like it. It was expensive and I wasn't warm enough. In our previous house, we had Shell oil and I asked Shell to put it in here. I'm satisfied and my husband likes it better. I've switched to a Shell water heater, too. Now I never run out of hot water."

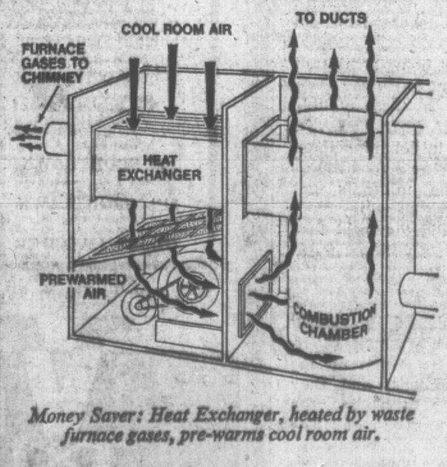
Mrs. K.K. Dombrowski, 12751 99th Ave., N. Surrey, B.C.

NOTE: Mrs. Dombrowski has a Shell Furnace, Model SC-128 and a Shell water heater, Model SC-32E. Her approximate monthly fuel bill for both units is $20.00.

We have many satisfied customers who have switched to a Shell Oil Furnace. We'd like to include you among our customers, too.

If your old furnace has been piling up the bills, phone us at the number below. We'll draw up, free of charge, a comparison of the money you'd pay heating your home with gas, hydro and a Shell Oil Furnace. There's no obligation.

Save money
Most old furnaces waste a lot of heat up the chimney. So do some modern furnaces.



Money Saver: Heat Exchanger, heated by waste furnace gases, pre-warms cool room air.

But this new Shell furnace uses most of that heat. Before it reaches the chimney, the hot air passes through a special heat exchanger. Cool air, returning from the rooms, flows around the exchanger and picks up that heat.

The furnace has a very efficient burner, too. It burns almost all the available heat from the oil. We haven't seen a more efficient furnace.

Tuck it away
The furnace is only 3¼ feet high, the lowest on the market. Only 2 feet wide. And only 4⅔ feet deep. It can free up a lot of valuable basement space.

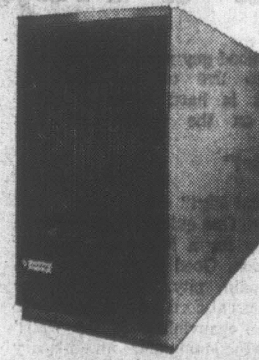
Summer cooling fan
The furnace has a fan you can switch on during summer. It circulates air through your house in a gentle cooling breeze. Special permanent filters remove household dust from the air.

Your wife will like the wipe-clean enamel finish, and the walnut-grain decorator panel. The furnace is rust-proof and built of heavy-duty steel—welded to eliminate rattles and clanks.

10 years to pay
If you wish, you can pay in small monthly payments on your fuel-oil statement. You can take up to 10 years to pay.

One day installation
Replacing your old oil-furnace usually takes less than a day; and only slightly longer if you're switching from gas. At the same time, the whole heating system can be checked—from tank to thermostat.

We can give you details about the new Shell water heaters, too. You need never run out of hot water again.



Space-saving design. Hidden controls. 10-yr warranty.

NEW TITLE URGED FOR WOMEN

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new form of address for women — Ms. — to replace Mrs. and Miss has been proposed by a New York Congressman.

Democratic Representative Jonathan Bingham says an increasing number of women resent being asked their marital status so the proper form of address can be put on a sales slip or government document.

If Mr. is good enough for all men whether they are married or not, why not Ms. — pronounced Miss—for all women asks Bingham.

Boycott Threat Doesn't Worry Games Officials

LONDON (CP) — A reported threat by 13 African countries to boycott the Commonwealth Games will not prevent the big sporting event from being held as scheduled in Edinburgh in July, a leading organizer of the Games declared.

K. S. Duncan, secretary of the Commonwealth Games Federation, said a boycott, threatened in protest against a projected South African cricket tour of Britain, "would naturally be regrettable."

"But the Commonwealth Games will go on," he said.

Duncan recalled that in 1954 at Vancouver only 24 countries took part in the Commonwealth event compared with at least 39 teams this time.

"Yet they were very good Games," he added.

POVERTY-RIDDEN STUDENTS AFFECTED

Malnutrition Can Cause Retardation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Hunger and malnutrition in the United States strikes pre-school children and adolescents from poverty-riden families the hardest, resulting in reduced growth and possible mental retardation, a U.S. government scientist reported today.

In a survey prepared for the Senate committee on hunger and human needs, Dr. Samuel F. Schaefer said:

"By far, the most frequently malnourished age groups are pre-school children and adolescents."

Schaefer, chief of the nutrition program of the U.S. health services and mental health administration, also said: "There is no longer any doubt that the incidence of malnutrition is related to poverty-level incomes. The poorer you are the more likely you are to suffer from serious malnutrition."

Schaefer's study surveyed 10 states—large and small, urban and rural, North and South.

A survey of 13,373 persons in Louisiana and Texas discovered malnutrition's symptoms in widespread growth retardation, anemia, and unacceptable levels of vitamins A and C and riboflavin.

In preliminary findings last year, Schaefer said, most children between one and three years of age were below the average height recorded for well-nourished children. In the final study most children between the ages of six months and six years were retarded in growth and some showed signs of retarded bone growth as well, he said.

"Growth retardation is one of the first indications of malnutrition and reduced physical growth can be indicative of mental and neurological retardation," he added.

In Texas and Louisiana, the researchers examined 7,351 Negroes, 3,775 Mexican-Americans and 2,247 whites. Half of the group was under 20 years of age. Slightly more than half the families studied had annual incomes of less than $3,000 a year.

"The incidence of serious malnutrition . . . is five times as high in persons at the bottom of the income scale," Dr. Schaefer said, adding that the bottom was considerd $1,800 a year and below and the top $7,400 and above.

"The incidence of serious malnutrition among those persons in the middle of the poverty range—$1,800 to $3,600—was two times as high as those at the top," he said.

MAKE A FORTUNE IN REAL ESTATE

The Canadian Property Managers Association offers a unique course designed for the man who wants to start with about $1,000. A distinguished group of Canadian real estate specialists, notably a lawyer, a municipal assessor, an accountant, a mortgage financier, a land surveyor and others have been gathered together to show how to appraise, to finance and how to compound small holdings into huge property blocks.

Many papers that come with real estate, such as the Sheriff's Fee Certificate, are explained. Many documents are given out during the course. You will learn how to evaluate properties and the many ways to generate capital.

These courses have run for many years in Ottawa and now you can get a complete transcript and permanent written record of everything said there. Ten-week course. Includes books, all relevant papers and documents and a 24-ring binder to hold everything. Approved by the Federal Government for tax deduction of entire tuition.

When Canadian Pacific drove the last spike in the transcontinental line, we had just turned 21.

The transcontinental line was completed on November 7, 1885.

We go back to March 18th, 1864.

Before Canada was even Canada.

On that day, in the town of London, Ontario, 25 pioneer businessmen gathered together in the room above MacFie's Store and founded what is now Canada Trust.

Soon they had opened our very first office just behind that store.

Now that small brick building behind MacFie's Store is gone. So is MacFie's Store.

Our 25 founders have long since passed away.

But the original idea born at that early meeting still lives on in our present company philosophy:

"To bring the maximum amount of energy and intelligence to bear on the project in order to most effectively serve the client."

It's simple, true.

But it works.

Now, with over a century of experience behind us, we're one of Canada's largest trust companies with more branches coast to coast than anyone else.

And our philosophy of service has made it all possible.

Service.

Service for every financial need.

You get it the minute you walk in our door or dial our phone.

So call or come in as soon as you can.

AMAZINGLY complicated machinery developed by Atomic Energy of Canada Ltd. is designed to perform relatively simple but hazardous task of recharging atomic reactors at Gentilly nuclear power station, near Trois Rivieres. Controlled remotely, the machine will extract used fuel bundles and replace them with new bundles at the 250,000 kilowatt station, a procedure which could cause exposure to harmful radiation. Testing is being done at Sheridan Park, a Toronto suburb. (CP Photo).

Steel Consumption By Japan to Jump

Steel consumption by Japan this yearis expected to rise by about 12 per cent, reports Nippon Kokan, the leading manufacturer. Actual tonnage estimated is 73 million metric tons up 8.1 million from the 1969 period ended March 31 this year.

Exports in the current year are expected to be around 18 million metric tons by expanding to market countries other than the U.S., where self-restraint is in effect. The voluntary policy last year resulted in a reduction on U.S. sales last year to 5.22 million metric tons.

NKK looks for an 11 per cent growth of the Japanese economy this year.

'Unions Must Share' Community Concerns

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP) — Dennis McDermott sees unions as community organizations, concerned with such problems as pollution and underprivileged racial groups, not simply as collective bargaining groups.

And as Canadian director of the United Auto Workers, the modishly-dressed 47-year-old is in a position to do more than just talk about the community role. He's head of the second largest union in Canada with 115,000 members here.

He is already turning his ideas into reality. As a result of his efforts the UAW international convention will be asked to make pollution an issue in future collective bargaining.

He told the international executive the move is necessary not only to fulfil social obligations, but also for the union's self-interest.

"If the auto industry doesn't do something about pollution it will face a public reaction that could ultimately affect the jobs of our members."

SET REFERENCE FRAME

In 1969, at the end of his first year in office, his report to the Canadian council set out his frame of reference:

"If a member of our union is in difficulty it is our business.

"If any member of our community is in distress it is our business.

"If any person or group of persons in our society is deprived, underprivileged or exploited, it is our business.

"Any form of human misery, no matter what its origin or its geographic location, is our concern and if it is humanly possible we should strive to do something about it."

Short, round-faced and square-set, Mr. McDermott talks articulately in a frank, blunt manner. His style carried him from a variety of posts in Local 439 at Massey-Harris Co. Ltd., Toronto, to a regional directorship in 1956 and eventually to his present post.

Born at Portsmouth, England, of Irish parents, he served on a Royal Navy destroyer in the Second World War. Following his discharge he started at Massey-Harris as an assembler and welder.

Now his job takes him from the modern decor of his office in Windsor across the continent. A day with plane stops at Montreal, Ottawa and Toronto is not unusual for him.

CONCERNED FOR MEN

His concern for members of the union is equal to the dedication that led him to accept membership in the federal executive of the New Democratic Party.

One of his goals is "to emancipate the worker from the archaic symbolism of the time clock." Another is freeing the worker from the tight and oppressive discipline often found in the plant.

"If it's all right for an executive to have a martini for lunch why isn't it okay for a worker to drink his lunch?" he asks.

Workers must be recognized by management as individuals, he says. And workers have to understand management's requirements with respect to production.

"That will be the great departure in the '70s from the traditions of the past."

He intends to pursue labor reform with the same zeal he has put into his personal fight against pollution, a matter he takes so seriously that he gave up cigarettes because he felt smoking is a form of air pollution.

Press Arson Foiled

PARIS (Reuters) — Police said Sunday 10 persons were arrested after two leftist commandos groups tried to set fire to a printing press used by the newspaper La Nation and Le Parisien Libre. Both newspapers are pro-government. Police said some of those arrested were from the Nanterre and Vincennes campuses of Paris University, both centres of student dissent.

MARKET SUMMARIES

Oversold Market Flags

Trading and prices continued to sag at New York and Toronto stock markets today, bringing softness to the other exchanges.

Some analysts believe the market is deeply oversold and due to show correction.

AT TORONTO the market dropped sharply in light mid-afternoon trading.

Losses outnumbered gains 314 to 123 with 242 issues unchanged.

Hudson Bay Mining fell 1 to 82. The stock rose 4 to 83 Friday when the company said it had found copper and zinc orebodies on holdings nine miles southwest of Flin Flon, Man.

The company said today it would split shares 3-for-1. Hudson Bay declared a first-quarter dividend of 30 cents a share based on the split shares.

Steep Rock Iron Mines was down 5 cents to $3.90 despite first-quarter net earnings of 5½ cents a share up 3½ cents.

Canada Packers was down ¾ to 20¼ despite 1969 net earnings of $1.67 a share, up 38 cents.

AT NEW YORK the market fell below its 1970 closing low in light trading early this afternoon.

Steels, motors, mail order-retails, utilities, and metals were generally off. Chemical were mixed.

Glamor stocks were generally down. Motorola was off 1¾ at 87, Control Data 1¼ at 42, Xeroc ¼ at 82¾ and IBM ½ at 308½.

Polaroid was up ½ at 86⅝ and Telex 2¾ at 92.

On the American Stock Exchange, Milgo Electronics was up ⅞ to 27⅝. Braniff Airways A was down ¼ to 6⅝ and Asamera Oil down ⅛ to 11¾.

AT MONTREAL early afternoon trading was light as the stock market continued to drift downward. Banks and papers led the decline.

Southam Press, which reports first-quarter earnings of 48 cents a share down from 61 cents, was steady at 51 on volume of 500 shares.

IOS Ltd. slipped to a new low of 5¾, off ½. IOS management has recently denied rumors of financial problems.

Highlighting industrial losses, Consolidated-Bathurst dipped 1½ to 17½, Velcro Industries 1½ to 23, Melchers ⅝ to 14⅛, Genstar ⅝ to 10⅝ and Anglo Canadian Pulp and Paper ⅜ to 5⅜.

AT LONDON the market moved lower after a firm start on small selling and lack of support.

Fisons was weak, while ICI, Beechams, Courtaulds, EMI and Dunlop were others to lose or reverse small opening gains.

Among Canadians, Dome dipped six points at 42. Consolidated Bathurst, Pacific Petroleum, Inco and Noranda were others to ease. Canadian Pacific, Gulf and Syracuse firmed against the trend. Banks went lower after a higher opening.

AT VANCOUVER trading was moderate and prices were generally down. Pre-noon volume was 1.39 million shares.

Leading industrial trader was Block Brothers, down .10 at $4.25 on a turnover of 71,400 shares. Coronation Credit preferred was down .05 at $1.50 and Driver Development was off. .05 at .95.

In the oils, United Bata led trading with a turnover of 15,100 shares and was down .25 at $2.10. Peace River Petroleum was down a half-cent at .09 and Western Exploration was up 2½ cents at .29½.

In the mines, Oro traded 102,000 shares and was up .02 at .57. Brenmac was down .09 at $1.06 while Gibraltay was unchanged at $4.10.

TODAY'S GRAIN PRICES

WINNIPEG (CP) — Rapeseed declined sharply at the close of the Winnipeg Grain Exchange today, closing one to four cents below previous close levels.

Early strength due to the strong linseed oil market in Rotterdam dried up at mid-session and selling pressure developed during the final hour.

Flax had a light trade with some exporter offers on the scale down.

CHICAGO (AP) — Soybeans futures declined 3½ cents a bushel on the Board of Trade today. Soybean oil and meal also closed lower.

Wheat futures advanced around 1½ cents but other grains were irregular.

The government reported soybean oil stocks as of April 1 showed an increase over the previous month. This brought selling into the oil pit.

Oil Policy Weakness Attacked

LONDON, Ont. (CP) — The federal government was criticized for not defining its oil policy in the annual report of Supertest Petroleum Corp. Ld. which showed the firm's revenues rose to $60.24 million in 1969 from $57.9 million the previous year.

"While the federal government continues to wrestle with the weakness in its oil policy and markets for Canadian crude oil," the Ontario-based firm noted, "low-priced products arising from foreign sources continue to cross the National Energy Board line into areas west of the Ottawa Valley, in contravention of government guidelines."

This is keeping prices depressed and returns at unrealistically-low levels, the report stated.

EARNINGS DECLINE

Net earnings of Supertest dropped to $2.65 million in 1969 from $2.9 million in 1968. The report said the drop can be attributed to several factors, including changes in federal income tax regulations.

In addition to income taxes, the company paid taxes totaling $5 million in 1969, compared with $4.86 million the previous year.

$ EXCHANGE

VICTORIA—Purchase of U.S. funds in terms of the Canadian dollar was quoted by the Royal Bank today at $1.07 1/16 for cheques, $1.07 for cash, $1.04⅞ for silver. Sales were $1.07¾ for cheques and $1.07⅞ for cash.

Changing Pattern of Consumer Credit Blamed for Delay in Setting Controls

By CARL MOLLINS

OTTAWA (CP) — A new study of the changing pattern of consumer credit in Canada shows one possible reason why federal officials are taking longer than expected to devise controls.

Target date for anti-inflationary legislation to slow the growth of consumer borrowing has been put off to about July 1 from an original goal of around the end of this month.

A survey just published by T. R. Wright, consumer credit expert with the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, traces the shifting importance of various components of total consumer debt in recent years.

The figures suggest that merely reviving the kind of credit curbs used 20 years ago, during the inflationary time of the Korean War, might no longer make a significant impact on consumer credit—a many-faceted enterprise with an estimated annual turnover of $10,000,000,000 a year.

The Korean War curbs—the type originally foreshadowed by Finance Minister Edgar Benson in his budget speech March 12 —applied to instalment purchases of goods. They set a minimum down-payment rate and a time limit for paying off the rest of the purchase price.

At that time, the DBS study shows, so-called vendor credit for the instalment purchase of consumer goods accounted for the major share of total consumer credit—$656,000,000, or about 54 per cent of the total consumer debt of $1,223,000,000 at the end of 1950.

Today, the vendor credit portion is down to about 27 per cent of a total consumer debt that has multiplied nine times in two decades to almost $11,000,000,000.

The shift has been to ready-cash credit—bank and credit-union loans, borrowings from small-loan companies, and on life insurance policies.

Consumer credit in the form of such loans accounted for $7,853,000,000 of the total consumer debt of $10,811,000,000 outstanding at the end of 1969, vendor loans for instalment purchases making up the remaining $2,958,000,000.

The impact of credit curbs of the Korean War type thus would be confined mainly to a form of consumer credit that nowadays constitutes only about 27 per cent of the total.

PROPORTION SMALL

In spending terms, instalment-buying curbs would apply mainly to less than six cents of every dollar spent by Canadians on goods and services.

Further, the DBS survey indicates that the $11,000,000,000 defined as consumer credit is only the tip of a personal-debt iceberg.

It refers to another study that showed consumer credit in 1964 accounted for only 20 per cent of the Canadian family's total debt. Mortgages made up 75 per cent and the rest was in the form of other borrowings against securities.

Translated roughly into present-day terms, that would mean the average Canadian family is carrying a debt of $11,225—$8,420 on a mortgage, $2,245 in consumer credit and $560 in loans against collateral.

Imperial to Suspend Research Operation

COLD LAKE, Alta. (CP) — Imperial Oil Ltd. has announced that it will suspend its oil sands field research operation in the Cold Lake area later this year.

Imperial has been investigating since early in 1965 thermal methods of recovery from deposits of heavy viscosity oil known to extend over a large area in the Cold Lake region, 150 miles northeast of Edmonton.

Sharp Dip In Bond Prices

TORONTO (CP) — Prices on the Canadian bond market fell sharply in active trading last week.

Dealers report this drop is mainly due to the present tight money situation and an unusually large amount of account selling.

Another factor contributing to the market decline is the calendar buildup, which can only be reduced by an increase in available money.

There were no new issues introduced this week.

Day-to-day money ranged from 6¾ per cent to 6⅞ per cent, closing Friday at 6⅞ per cent.

Three and six-month treasury bills traded Friday at 6.76 and 6.55 per cent, respectively.

Cominco Profits Reported Higher

MONTREAL (CP) — Robert Hendricks, president and chief executive officer of Cominco Ltd., says the company showed substantial improvement in revenue and earnings in the first quarter, primarily as a result of the higher price of metals.

"Prices for both lead and zinc rose progressively during 1969 to levels substantially above those of 1968," he told the company's 64th annual meeting.

He reported net earnings of $8,900,000 or 53 cents a share in the first quarter compared with $5,100,000 or 30½ cents a share in the corresponding 1969 period.

Total revenue for the quarter was $67,500,000 compared with $55,300,000 for the first quarter of 1969.

Mr. Hendricks said he expects that earnings during 1970 will be at least the same level as they were in 1969.

Output of 225,000 tons of refined zinc established a record at the company's Trail plant in British Columbia, he said.

Refined lead, at 96,000 tons, was slightly below the 1968 figure. Sales of lead and zinc concentrates reached an all-time high at 331,000 tons.

Mr. Hendricks said Cominco has become increasingly involved with countries bordering on the Pacific rim.

"Because of the company's heavy involvement in Western Canada and this trend towards the Pacific, a decision to transfer the chief operating offices from Montreal to Vancouver was made early this year.

Inco Production Will Be Boosted

TORONTO (CP) — The chairman of International Nickel Co. of Canada Ltd. says expansion program started in 1966 will boost the copany's nickel production to 600,000,000 pounds a year in 1972.

Henry Wingate said that the seven-year, $1,100,000,000 program will bring a 30-per-cent increase in the company's production capability.

The program calls for opening eight new mines in Canada and expansion of surface facilities to handle the increased ore output.

Great Lakes

Great Lakes Paper Co. Ltd. spent $6.4 million on pollution control between 1965 and 1970, reports president C. J. W. Fox, and is pressing forward further controls to meet commitments to the Ontario government.

He predicted that through industrial efforts generally, Canadians by the end of the decade will see notable improvement in environmental quality.

Texas Gulf

Earnings of Texas Gulf Sulphur Co. in the first quarter totalled $13.87 million or 46 cents a share.

This compared with $16.98 million or 56 cents a share in the first quarter of 1969.

Gross sales, after deducting zinc and lead smelting and refining charges were $54 million, down from $58.3 million. million.

New Continental

New Continental Oil Co. of Canada Ltd. has made significant discoveries of uranium, silver and molybdenum near Baker Lke, N.W.T.

Core tests of shallow holes at two separate sites yielded average concentrations of uranium oxide of up to .338 per cent and of molybdenum sulphide of up to .658 per cent.

One two-foot sample of drill core yielded 1.5 ounces of silver.

A large-scale exploration and drilling program is planned to start May 1, 950 miles north of Winnipeg.

Pacific Pete

Increased production of crude oil, natural gas liquids and gas resulted in a 21 per cent improvement in first quarter earnings by Pacific Petroleums Ltd.

In the three months ended March 31, the company had $4.85 million net earnings (23 cents a share) compared with $4 million (19 cents) in the period last year.

Revenues rose 17 per cent, president Kelly H. Gibson reported, gaining $3.8 million to $25.9 million.

Dofasco

Dominion Foundries and Steel Ltd. of Hamilton is increasing its quarterly dividend of July 1 to 22½ cents a share from 20 cents although the company expects lower 1970 net earnings.

"We expect a busy year in 1970, but we doubt that market conditions will permit us to maintain the record rate of sales and profit that we achieved in 1969," said F. H. Sherman, Dofasco president.

For the quarter, Dofasco reported sales of $89.69 million, up $7.44 million, and net earnings of $10 million, down from $11.9 million. Income per common share was 63 cents, compared with 75 cents a year ago.

CGE

Canadian General Electric reports increased sales during the first quarter of the year, but lower profits.

The company said total sales were up 6 per cent to $105 million but earnings were $1.4 million or 18 cents a share compared with $3.1 million for the corresponding period of 1969.

President J. Herbert Smith said the 1969 earnings included about $1 million from sale of investments. He said there also was a substantial reduction in sales of consumer products.

DRY YEARS DETERMINE HOW MUCH TO COUNT ON

Victoria Area Needn't Fear Water Shortage

By ELIZABETH FORBES

Forbes

When Greater Victoria water commissioner Ron Upward gets around to telling you about the main responsibilities of his department, he lists the watershed first. Then in quick succession comes making sure the water is pure, potable (drinkable) and that there is always an adequate supply — "Not necessarily in the cheapest but in the best way."

The watershed he talks about takes in about 52 square miles around Goldstream River and Sooke Lake.

Amount of water in this system depends on rainfall which varies in a dry year from 36 inches to a wet year of 84 inches, with an average of 56 inches.

"Since we must have water every year, it is the dry years which determine how much water it is safe to count on," Upward says.

★ ★ ★

At the same time he reminds you that "not all the water that falls is available."

Some soaks into the ground and doesn't run down hill to the lakes. Some falls on trees, bushes and leaves and evaporates when the sun shines or the wind blow. Some is used by plants and trees in their growing process. And still more is lost when it's on land sloping away from the watershed lakes and so runs off toward the sea.

Only about two-thrids of the watershed is useful for collecting water and only about 70 per cent of the water falling on that part of the land can be used.

Rain (and snow) which falls mostly in the winter is stored in five lakes, named Butchart, Lubbe, Goldstream, Mavis and Jack, until summer, when it is in greatest demand.

★ ★ ★

It is delivered to the west side of Langford a few days before it is needed, then screend, sterilized and sent into Victoria through large pipelines.

Here, Ron Upward, throws a few figures at you: The average person in the Greater Victoria area uses around 105 gallons of water a day or 38,000 gallons a year.

Some is used at home in washing, bathrooms, watering gardens and lawns, washing the car. Some goes down the drain away from home in the schools, at business, in stores, street fountains, street washing and fighting fire.

"It all counts and is a part of the daily water supply required for each person."

★ ★ ★

However, while 105 gallons per day is the average used for a year, it does not mean each person uses this much every day. Less water is used in the winter months, more in spring and fall and peak usage comes in the summer months.

On a summer's day usage can average as much as 200 gallons a day per person.

Even more "because people use most of the water after suppertime in the summer, often at a rate of 350 gallons a day."

This fact is studied and considered well ahead of time and water is stored in reservoirs on Mt. Tolmie and Rithet's Hill to take care of the extra load.

Knowledge that in the years ahead, population growth is certain in the Greater Victoria area, does not disturb Ron Upward.

He says that while many parts of North America are worried about water shortages to a point where large factories are building on seashores in order to remove salt from sea water to make it drinkable and fit for irrigation "Greater Victoria is far more fortunate."

It has all the water it will likely ever need in the lakes on its watershed.

Only thing needed as time goes on will be a larger transportation system (tunnels and flumes or aqueducts and pipelines) to carry the water to the populated areas.

At present these are Victoria, Esquimalt, Oak Bay and Saanich. Before long however, Sidney may be added, for the Greater Victoria Water District is committed to building a pipeline out there when that town requests it.

U.S. Forces At Low Level In Europe

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has trimmed its forces in Europe to about 300,000 men, the lowest level in 20 years, the U.S. defence department says.

This is 10,000 below the last official figure and the smallest U.S. force in Europe since 1950 when it stood at 145,000 men.

The newest reductions resulted from streamlining of support and administrative personnel, not by trimming combat strength, authorities said.

The last U.S. reduction of combat elements in Europe was in 1968 when two Army brigades and some other units were brought back, although these units technically remain earmarked for NATO.

The United States has pledged not to remove any more combat forces from Europe through mid-1971.

U.S. Army leaders are known to oppose any substantial trimming of combat elements in Europe. The generals do not believe forces based in the United States could be put to immediate use in an emergency situation in Europe.

A partial U.S. withdrawal from Korea, perhaps next year, is considered more likely than combat force reduction in Europe. The U.S. now has about 64,000 troops in Korea, chiefly in two army divisions.

JEST A MINUTE BY BOB cumberbirch

To make a long story short, there's nothing like having the boss walk in.

★ ★ ★

Little Freddie was watching TV in the playroom when he was told to go downstairs and entertain his sister's boy friend while she was getting dressed.

The youngster faced the suitor and said, "Why do you come to see my sister all the time? Don't you have one of your own?"

★ ★ ★

The little boy ran to his father and exclaimed: "Wow! You should see the great lawn mower the people next door got. It doesn't need gas or anything. All you have to do is push it!"

★ ★ ★

A young Southern belle asked her mother, "What do you give a man who has everything?" Her mother answered unhesitatingly, "Encouragement."

1969 wasn't a great year, but...

...vintage year or not, it did have an interesting flavour. We didn't make much of a profit because of a major strike and other adverse factors. But we did make some tasteful changes in our customer services and a lot of plans for the seventies.

It was the month-long strike by the International Association of Machinists and Aerospace Workers that had the most serious impact. We lost more than $40 million in revenue on traffic we would normally have carried.

Still, we stayed in the black. Though our operating revenues rose only 4% during a year in which operating expenses increased 7%, we managed a return on investment of 4.8%. Capital expenditures totalled $131.2 million of which almost 90% related to new aircraft.

In 1969 we carried 6.4 million passengers on scheduled services, saw our air freight increase 21% to 148.2 million ton-miles and our mail traffic rise 12% to 25.9 million ton-miles. Of total seat-miles, 85% of them were jet, up 10% from 1968.

1969 also saw Air Canada take the lead in trying to bring about better international fare structures. Already it has shown results. Lowest-ever excursion fares are now available on the North Atlantic.

For our passengers, our Connoisseur Service, first introduced on our Los Angeles flights, was extended to all our domestic flights of more than two hours. Our stewardesses, ground hostesses and passenger agents all appeared in colourful new wardrobes. And modern new sales offices were opened in Edmonton, Calgary and Québec City.

We increased flight frequencies throughout the system. Operations were resumed to Brussels, which became the tenth European city and 62nd destination served by the airline.

In 1970 Air Canada inaugurates an international service to Prague, under a new bilateral agreement between Canada and the Czechoslovak Socialist Republic. Another seven long-body DC-8's and three DC-9's will be added to the fleet. Maintenance facilities will be constructed for the Boeing 747's and Lockheed L-1011's to be introduced in 1971 and 1972. Both charter and cargo capacity will be increased. And other plans for the seventies include possible new routes to the U.S.

Air Canada is also undergoing the first major reorganization of its administrative structure in its history. The new structure, to be fully implemented in 1970, will make marketing the airline's "competitive cutting edge", while permitting the development of a more stimulating and dynamic working environment for its employees.

Looking back, 1969 wasn't a great year. But it wasn't all that bad, either.

CHARGE OF THE HAPPY BRUINS

Man who scored winning goal, Johnny McKenzie, beams as he looks up at clock and other members of Boston Bruins start charge from bench to join in celebration at Boston Sunday as Bruins defeat Chicago Black Hawks 5-4 to win Stanley Cup hockey semi-final in four straight games. Jumping jubilantly over boards as game ends are Ken Hodge and Rick Smith at left and Fred Stanfield at right.

Late Goal by McKenzie Completes Bruin Sweep

Boston's Lengthy Famine Ends With 5-4 Triumph

BOSTON (CP) — Boston Bruins reached the Stanley Cup final for the first time in 12 years Sunday, battling Chicago all the way for a 5-4 victory and a four-game sweep of their best-of-seven National Hockey League East Division final series.

They now await the winner of the West. St. Louis Blues and Pittsburgh Penguins are currently deadlocked at two games each.

As Eddie Westfall put it:

"Now we've opened the door, we've got to get through it. We're going to meet the best in the other division. We certainly are the best in ours."

The Bruins last won the Stanley Cup in 1941.

While out-shot by the Boston squad 54 to 24 Sunday, Chicago was a far different club than the one that was easily handled by the Bruins in the first three games.

Boston opened a 2-0 lead after the first period, but Chicago rebounded into a 3-2 second period lead before the Bruin defences tightened again. The teams were tied 3-3 going into the final 20 minutes of regulation time.

The Black Hawks shot into the lead again early in the third period before the complexion of the game changed in Boston's favor.

The end came with less than two minutes remaining when Johnny McKenzie, the scrappy Bruin right winger, pounced on a pass in front of the Chicago goal and rifled it by a screened Tony Esposito.

"I never saw it go in. I just shot it," said McKenzie who was mobbed by his team-mates and was engulfed in the thunderous accolades of 14,835 partisan Boston fans.

Don Marcotte, Johnny Bucyk, Fred Stanfield and Ken Hodge were the other Boston marksmen. Dennis Hull tallied twice for the Black Hawks. Rookie defenceman Keith Magnuson, with his first NHL goal, and Bryan Campbell also scored for Chicago.

Tony Disputes Power-Play Effort

"You have to give them credit," said Boston coach Harry Sinden. "They lobbed a lot of shots at us.

"I told them (The Bruins) not to worry about scoring—if you don't score on a power play, a lot of times you'll fold. I didn't want this working against us."

There were two power-play goals. The first by Bucyk, came late in the first period while Gene Ubriaco was off for tripping Hodge. Tony Esposito in the Chicago net threw down his glove and stick and tore off his mask to protest that the puck hadn't crossed the line.

Then in the third period, Westfall hooked Bobby Hull on a breakaway and while he was off, Campbell cracked in his first playoff goal on a play with Magnuson and Dennis Hull.

Of McKenzie's goal, Stanfield —who picked up an assist— said:

"I knew he'd put it in. I couldn't shoot myself, it would have taken too much time to come around. I saw Johnny going in and knew we had it. I knew if we tied it up we'd win it."

Bucyk said:

"I've waited a long time—it seems forever. I hope this is our year."

Bobby Orr was the sobering influence for the Bruins. In the second period alone, the all-star defenceman and scoring champion spent nearly 13 minutes on the ice.

Westfall Superb in Holding Hull

"I didn't realize Orr was on the ice so much," Sinden said. "He handles the puck so much that you get used to seeing him with it.

"We didn't skate in the first part of the second period. It took eight minutes for us to get skating again. It happened early enough in the game that we were able to recover. If it had happened in the third period, we would have been in trouble."

Sinden summed up:

"Two things we had to do in this series—stop Bobby Hull and stop Stan Mikita. And we did it."

Westfall had the job of checking Hull and held the Golden Jet scoreless in the series.

"It's not a nice job," he said. "But it is a necessary evil. With a line like ours (Derek Sanderson, Wayne Carleton and Westfall), I hope they'll have to worry about what we'll do from now on. I hope we can participate in the offence a little now."

The Hawks and the Bruins played it close coming into this series. The Hawks got here by virtue of a four-game sweep over Detroit Red Wings and the Bruins came in with a six-game series over New York Rangers.

Boston defeated Chicago 6-3, 4-1, and 5-2 coming into the final game Sunday.

Hawks Survive Double Situation

The only major penalty of the series came in the second period Sunday when Chicago winger Cliff Koroll tangled with Rick Smith, who went out with eight stitches to his mouth.

Less than a minute later, Bobby Hull got caught holding Phil Esposito and for two minutes the Hawks were short two players.

Chicago killed both penalties.

The wild, sweeping action reached a climax in the third period.

Campbell put Chicago up 4-3 after four minutes on a power-play goal with Westfall off.

Then Phil Esposito fed a pass to Hodge who tucked it under a falling Tony Exposito to tie it up past the 13-minute mark.

The winner came five minutes later. Bucyk took the puck away from Doug Mohns behind the Chicago goal. It went loose and Mikita picked it up. Suddenly it was on Stanfield's stick. He fed MacKenzie.

Chicago coach Billy Reay gave the Bruins full marks.

"We gave it all we had, but it wasn't enough. I'm still proud.

"I don't want to say the layoff hurt us, but it did. We played a great hockey team. I have no gripes."

Reay did, however, feel the officiating was lax, especially where Chicago was concerned.

"I guess Boston can't cry anymore about the referee. He made up for any mistakes they thought he may have made this season."

Refere Bill Friday handled the game as he did Jan. 17 here when a disputed goal by Chicago's Gerry Pinder gave the Black Hawks a 1-0 victory; their first on Boston ice since 1967.

Rocks Tripped In First Game

BURNABY — Victoria Shamrocks failed to cash in on a golden scoring opportunity Sunday and New Westminster Salmonbellies continued to their mastery in the annual pre-season lacrosse tournament for the Syd Greenwood Memorial Trophy.

Salmonbellies, who have yet to lose a game in the tournament since it was started three years ago, turned in a fine display of penalty-killing in the late stages and defeated the Rocks 12-8.

Second game in the round-robin tourney for Western Lacrosse Association clubs is slated Tuesday at North Vancouver with Coquitlam Adanacs facing Vancouver Burrards.

Salmonbellies had plenty of trouble containing the hustling Rocks and the clubs were deadlocked 3-3 and 8-8 after the first and second periods.

Victoria had a great chance to pull ahead when a major penalty to Mickey Lynch while the score was tied at 8-8 gave the Islanders a manpower edge for five minutes.

However, they were unable to crack the Westminster defences and when Lynch returned the Bellies took charge as goalie Joe Comeau blanked the Rocks in the final 20 minutes.

Comeau and Skip Jolly combined to turn aside 26 Victoria shots while Doug Thompson went all the way in the Shamrock nets and blocked 46 shots in a spectacular effort.

Mac Tyler, with three goals, and veteran Paul Parnell, with two, paced the Westminster attack while Nirmal Dillon and Mike Beaulac, each with two tallies, Ranjit Dillon, Ken Alexander, Tom Churchill and Frank Alexander counted for Victoria.

Beard Coasts Home by Seven

RANCH LA COSTA, Calif. (AP)—Frank Beard pocketed a $30,000 cheque Sunday, the second largest of his golf career, after winning the Tournament of Champions by seven strokes.

Beard's impressive victory pushed his career earnings to more than $568,000. He now has more than $53,000 for the year and appears to be well on his way to his fourth consecutive $100,000-plus season.

"That man's unbelievable," said Tony Jacklin, British Open champion, one of three tied for second behind Beard.

Beard bolted out to a six-stroke lead at the turn and coasted to a seven-stroke victory, the largest margin of the year on the tour. He had a final 71, one-under-par on the La Costa Country Club course, for 273, 15 under par.

FORGOT CLOCK

Jacklin, two strokes back going into the final round, failed to set his clock for the change from standard to daylight time, didn't have time to take a single practice swing and struggled through the gusty winds with a 76 for 280.

He was tied with South African Gary Player, 71, and Master champion Billy Casper, 72. Arnold Palmer was next with a 70 for 281. Orville Moody had a 70 for 284 and Jack Nicklaus was one of three at 286.

The final round was never really close.

Jacklin trailed the quiet, conservative Beard by two strokes going into the final round, but went over par on the first hole en route to a front nine 38, two over par.

STRATEGY CHANGE

Beard, meanwhile, birdied the eighth and ninth holes, went out in 34 and held a six-stroke lead at the turn. No one ever again got close.

"I saw then that I had a six-shot lead and changed my game," he said. "From then on I was shooting for the middle of the green."

"If I play the back in par," he explained of his change in strategy, "he's got to shoot 30 to catch me and I didn't think that was going to happen."

It didn't.

Blazing Finish

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Harold Henning blazed to a birdie-eagle-birdie finish Sunday to edge young Rives McBee by one stroke in the $50,000 Tallahassee open golf tournament, the blond South African's first win since the 1966 Texas Open.

Henning's incredible charge gave him a final round 70 and an 11-under-par 277 for 72 holes. McBee—who sat on a fat four-shot lead at one point Sunday—rolled in with a 67 to take second.

After ramming in his birdie putt on the 16th, the 31-year-old Henning heard that McBee was just two strokes ahead. "I came out of the darkness," he admitted, "after thinking there was no chance a few holes before."

Henning smashed his second shot to within 12 feet of the cup on the 506-yard, par-five 17th hole. He dropped the eagle putt and was suddenly tied with McBee, who finished ahead of him.

Bunched in a third place tie at 281 were Homero Blancas, Fred Marti and Joe Porter.

Citroen Driver Holds Slender Lead in Rally

LISBON (AP)—Rene Trautmann of France in a Citroen DS21 finished as over-all leader in the European leg of the World Cup rally Saturday night and won $6,120.

Rally headquarters of the competition, sponsored by the London Daily Mirror, said 73 of the 96 cars which left London April 19 were still in the running.

So far the drivers have covered 4500 miles through nine countries. Trautmann had incurred penalties of only five minutes in the whole section.

Close behind Trautmann with a seven-minute penalty total was the London Daily Telegraph-entered Ford Escort driven by Finland's Hannu Mikkola. Third was France's Guy Verrier in a Citroen DS21 with a nine-minute penalty.

The punishing 1700-mile course across the Alps and the Pyrenees included three special time sections.

The surviving cars will be shipped across the Atlantic from Lisbon to Buenos Aires where the rally will resume May 8 for the South American section to Mexico City.

All-Out Assault Pays Off As Penguins Square Series

PITTSBURGH (CP)—Pittsburgh Penguins have added a new punch to go with their usual checking game and as a result have made a new series of their best-of-seven Stanley Cup semi-final against St. Louis Blues.

The Penguins stuck to their persistent checking but added a 51-shot offence to defeat the Blues 2-1 Sunday night and tie the series at two wins each before a record crowd of 12,962.

The fifth game of the series will be in St. Louis Tuesday night with a sixth back here Thursday. A seventh game, if necessary, would be in St. Louis Saturday or Sunday.

The winner of this series will meet Boston Bruins for the Stanley Cup.

The Penguins offence hadn't mustered any more than 27 shots in any of the three previous games but coach Red Kelly thinks his team now is ready for a win at St. Louis.

PENGUINS 'DUE'

"I think we're due," said Kelly. "We never won in Oakland either until the playoffs. We're due, and they've got to be thinking a little about that, too."

The Penguins have not won a regular-season or playoff game at St. Louis and have scored just two goals in the playoff games there.

And coach Scotty Bowman of the Blues thinks his team can rebound from their two losses here and keep Pittsburgh winless on St. Louis ice.

"They didn't look any better at St. Louis than we did here, said Bowman. "Pittsburgh's hungry right now, but we're always a couple goals better with the crowds."

The Penguins held St. Louis to 24 shots at goalie Al Smith. And only the outstanding goaltending of Ernie Wakely kept the Blues from being run out of the arena.

"He's going to be the goalie of the future," said Bowman. "Tonight you couldn't get better goaltending from anybody. I think if they all played as well as he did, we would have won the game."

BREAKAWAYS COMMON

But the rest of Bowman's squad wasn't playing as well as Wakely and Pittsburgh forwards Michel Briere, Ken Schinkel, Jean Pronovost and Val Fonteyne several times broke in alone on the St. Louis goalie.

Smith, who missed the first two games of the series with the measles, replaced Les Binkley in goal for the Penguins with Joe Daley as backup man. Binkley suffered torn knee ligaments in Thursday's game and will sit out the remainder of the season.

The Blues were without centre Frank St. Marseille, who still had trouble seeing out of a swollen right eye, cut by a high stick Thursday night.

The attendance Sunday was the second record crowd in a row here. A total 12,923 fans turned out last Thursday to fill the Civic Arena, which has a seating capacity of 12,580.

Hot Porsche Entry Takes Third Event

MONZA, Italy (AP) — The Mexican-Finnish team of Pedro Rodriguez and Leo Kinnunen kept a Gulf-Porsche in front of three Ferraris for the final 298 miles Saturday and won the 1,000-kilometre Monza auto race.

The victory, the third posted by the Rodriguez - Kinnunen team in four events counting toward the world championships for sports car manufacturers, strengthened Porsche's lead over Ferrari in the battle for the title. Porsche now has 33 points to 21 for Ferrari.

Driving a Gulf-Porsche 4,500-cc, Rodriguez and Kinnunen beat off the challenge of three Ferrari 521-s cars in covering the 621 miles in 4 hours, 18 minutes, 1.7 seconds at an average speed of 144.4 miles per hour.

The first Ferrari to cross the finish line in second place was more than one minute behind in 4:19:27.6. It was driven by Ignazio Giunti and Nino Vaccarella of Italy. John Surtees of Britain and Peter Schetty of Switzerland were third.

"We were not unlucky," said Surtees after the race. "The Porsche cars really were very fast."

Chris Amon's First Triumph

SILVERSTONE, England (AP) — Chris Amon of New Zealand ended seven frustrating years Sunday by capturing his first Formula One auto race, the Daily Express International for Grand Prix cars.

Driving a works-entered March car, he won the first leg of the two-part race and finished second to world champion Jackie Stewart of Scotland on the second test, winning the trophy on aggregate time.

Amon took the checkered flag only three seconds behind Stewart after winning the first race by nine seconds.

Although the race does not count towards the world championship, most of the leading Grand Prix teams took part to test their cars before next months' Monaco classic.

Stewart was second over-all and Piers Courage of Britain in an Italian de Tomaso was third after finishing third in both races.

Olympic Hockey Entry 'Possible'

MONTREAL (CP) — Canada could possibly compete in the 1972 Winter Olympic hockey tournament in Sapporo, Japan, the chef-de-mission for Canada at the next Winter Olympic games said Saturday.

Frank Shaughnessy told the annual meeting of the Canadian Olympic Association "there is a slight possibility that pressure can be brought . . . to accept a Canadian entry."

Shaughnessy said the possible pressure could come from the International Olympic Committee and the organizing committee at Sapporo to influence the International Ice Hockey Federation.

He said, however, it is not certain whether hockey will be part of the Sapporo Winter Olympics. A decision would be made at an IOC meeting in Amsterdam May 12.

Shoughnessy added that while the COA approved the decision to withdraw from the 1970 world championships, "we cannot continue to support any decision that will deny Canadian boys the privilege of representing their country at Olympic games."

The COA made no official decision on a federal government proposal to have all sports governing bodies move their headquarters to Ottawa.

Establishment of a national administration centre for sports and recreation was announced by Health Minister John Munro. The 26 selected sports run the gamut from aquatics to wrestling.

Munro said the orginizations will be eligible to receive federal assistance in the form of office space, secretarial help, office supplies and furnishings and common information services. There also would be full travel costs to annual and executive meetings and to national championships.

The organization also would receive 75 per cent of travel costs to selected world competitions and up to $12,000 annually to employ an executive director.

The minister said such aid depends on the decision of the organizations to locate their operations in the Ottawa administrative centre.

Junior Netminder Traffic Fatality

GIMLI, Man. (CP) — An 18-year-old goaltender with Selkirk Steelers of the Manitoba Junior Hockey League was one of three persons killed Saturday in a traffic accident.

Dave Tymko was is a car with two other young men when it failed to negotiate a curve on a highway two miles south of here. The car crashed into a ditch.

Also killed were the driver, a 21-year-old Peter Christensen and 18-year-old Kenneth Porter, both of Gimli, 50 miles north of Winnipeg.

Alberta Also Seeks Junior Age Boost

EDMONTON (CP) — The Alberta Junior Hockey League will seek a higher age limit for the 1970-71 season when the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association holds its annual meeting in May at St. John's, Nfld.

* * *

The league decided at a semi-annual meeting during the weekend to send a recommendation to the CAHA asking that the age classification for junior "A" players be increased to 21 years of age as of Dec. 31 of the playing season.

"We want 21 as an age limit if we can get it," said league commissioner Steve Wyker of Edmonton. "The British Columbia Junior League recently announced it will use older players next year and we plan to tell the CAHA the same thing.

"We don't want to break the CAHA agreement with the National Hockey League. They can draft the players at 19 of they want to. But we want to be able to use the older players for two reasons.

"We can't have a boy in college for one or two years then drop him and we need the older players to give us better calibre of play."

* * *

The league will also recommend to the CAHA that there be unlimited inter-branch transfers for junior "A" competition next season, but no East-West transfers.

The league also issued a news release saying its operators recognized the Western Canada Hockey League.

"The operators of the existing AJHL clubs express the desire to meet with the independent WCHL in an effort to better junior hockey in Western Canada. They wish it known they recognize the WCHL and have appointed a committee to attempt to lay the ground rules for such a meeting."

The WCHL was formed in 1968 after the CAHA lowered the age limit for juniors. The CAHA decided that a junior must be under 20 as of Dec. 31 of the year in which a season starts. The WCHL granted junior status to players under 21 in Dec. 31, and also said a player on the league's four-year scholarship program would be eligible until the age of 22.

The AJHL said it also received applications from four groups who want to join the league next season. Lloydminster and Mount Royal College Cougars in Calgary were named as two of the groups.

TRIP TO WASHINGTON FOR VICTORIA BOWLER

VANCOUVER — Liz Hess won first place and an all-expenses-paid trip to Washington, D.C., in the provincial All-America Youth Bowling qualifying round at Town and Country Bowl on Saturday.

Miss Hess, a grade 12 student at St. Margaret's, bowled 1,088 in the tenpin handicap event to top the six-game total of Vancouver's Sandi Allenby by two pins.

Another Vancouverite, Gordon Genion, won the boys' competition by 28 pins over Jim Morgan of Victoria. Morgan, who attends grade 12 at Mount View High School, had a total of 1,092 for runner-up honors.

Miss Hess and Genion will travel to Washington to compete against other area winners July 31 to Aug. 3 for educational scholarships.

Wests Collect Playoff Crown

All three divisional champions in the Victoria and District Soccer League were toppled during the weekend in struggles for the league's playoff crowns.

Victoria West gained a measure of revenge for last Wednesday's Jackson Cup defeat by capturing the first-division title 4-2 over champion Gorge Molsons at Heywood Avenue Park.

Wests led 2-0 at half-time and were ahead 4-0 before Gorge found the scoring range. Glen Robinson, Bob Duncan, Mike Beaulac and Ranjit Dillon booted in the West goals while Dennis Somner and Bill Abbott replied for Gorge.

Wests, fourth-place finishers in the regular season, gained the final with a hard-fought 4-3 semi-final victory aver second-place University of Victoria Vikings. The tussel was decided on penalty kicks after the teams had played to a 2-2 draw in overtime.

OAK BAY BLANKED

Gorge reached the final with a 3-0 shutout over third-place Oak Bay.

In the second-division final, Duncan's Village Green blanked champion Uvic Norsemen 2-0 at Topaz Park on goals by Dave Rose.

Runner-up in the regular-season standings, Village Green gained the final with a 3-0 victory over London Boxing Club on Saturday. Norsemen won their semi-final encounter with a 2-1 nod over Coffee House.

CASUALS WIN TITLE

Casuals, who stopped runaway champions Lake Hill 2-1 in a semi-final Saturday, captured the third-division title Sunday with a 3-2 victory over Songhees at Central Park.

Fourth-place Songhees, advanced to the final against the third-place club by defeating second-ranked Oak Bay 5-4 in overtime on Saturday.

Dave Stothard, Gavin Quinney and Paul Sails scored for Casuals while brothers Butch and John Sam answered for Songhees.

LABS LASH SAINTS

In the opening match of the round-robin promotion-relegation series for second division temas, Labatts crushed Cowichan Saints 10-1 at Rose Street Park.

Frank Morris led Labs with seven goals while singles were added by Andy Csabi, Hardy Kufleir and Leo Asquini. Harvey Alphonse secored the lone Cowichan goal.

Labs face third-division champion Lake Hill in the next match at 8 p.m. Wednesday in Royal Athletic Park.

Winner of the series will stay in the second division with the last two squads dropping down to the third division.

Saturday semi-final games:

FIRST DIVISION

GORGE MOLSONS (3) — Rick Lamoureux 2, Darryl Hooker; OAK BAY—No score.

VICTORIA WEST (4) — Ralph Anderson 2, Doug Hill, George Paul; UVIC VIKINGS (3)—Joe Millican 2, Russ Ball.

SECOND DIVISION

UVIC NORSEMEN (2) — Steve Barnes, Tony Cocking; COFFEE HOUSE (1)—Albert Lima.

DUNCAN VILLAGE GREEN (3) — Graham Bruce, Ken Piercy, Tom Harvey; LONDON BOXING CLUB—No score.

THIRD DIVISION

CASUALS (2) — Jan Vriessen, Carl Jorgenson; LAKE HILL (1)—Mike Woods.

SONGHEES (5) — John Sam 2, Terry Hoy 2, Butch Sam; OAK BAY (4)—Bob McKay, Wayne Peters, John McFarland, Keith Dixon.

Vancouver Teams Trail In Tourney

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Bay Area touring side has emerged from a field of 28 teams as winner of the biggest rugby tournament held in the United States.

Defeating the peninsula Ramblers 16-3 Sunday, the Bay Area team won the tournament on the strength of Dan Sinclair, who connected on two conversions and a 50-yard penalty kick.

Three Canadian teams, including top-seeded Meraloma, failed to reach the semi-finals.

Ex-Britannia finished eighth, Mereloma 15th and Capilano 16th. All three teams are from Vancouver. They travelled with reduced squads and were plagued by injuries.

Chargers, Hornets Win Grid Openers

Saanich Hornets rolled to an easy triumph as the Norm Fieldgate Bantam Football League season opened Sunday at Royal Athletic Park.

Aided by the three-touchdown performance of Murray Hicke, Hornets crushed Oak Bay Crusaders 35-0.

In Sunday's other league game, Chargers battled to a 7-7 deadlock with Knights of Columbus. Rick Jones scored a touchdown for Chargers and Barry Fee counted a major for the Knights.

In an exhibition game, the "B" squad of the Hornets blasted Juan de Fuca Tigers 34-0.

MONTREAL SIGNS WADE

MONTREAL (CP) — Montreal Alouettes of the Eastern Football Conference have announced the signing of quarterback Jesse "Sonny" Wade to a long-term contract. Terms were not disclosed.

Power-Play Shots Rattle Vancouver

PORTLAND, Ore. (CP)—Portland jumped on Vancouver for three power-play goals Sunday night and goalie Jimmy McLeod did the rest as the Buckaroos dumped the Canucks 4-1 for their first win of the Lester Patrick Cup Western Hockey League playoffs.

The best-of-seven series now stands 2-1 for Vancouver. It resumes Wednesday night in Vancouver.

Bill Saunders and Cliff Schmautz each scored in the first period on delayed penalties to the Canucks to give Portland a 2-0 lead.

Bob Lemieux tallied for the Canucks at 8:39 of the middle period, while both teams skated with only three men.

Dave Burrows answered for Buckaroos at 9:10 and Schmautz scored his second goal of the night at 17:26.

MCLEOD SENSATIONAL

McLeod was sensational as he stopped 45 shots, while the Canucks' George Gardner had only 22 saves.

Referee Bryan Lewis whistled 82 minutes in penalties, including two majors and two misconducts.

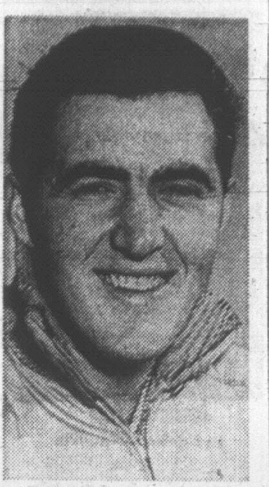
Jean Paul LeBlanc battled Vancouver captain Andy Bathgate early in the first period and took on Cleland Mortson late in the game.

Buckaroos added Jim (Redeye) Hay from Salt Lake City Golden Eagles for this game—and the remainder of the series—when Portland defenceman Dennis Kearns joined Rick Fole on the injured list following Friday's 6-4 loss to the Canucks.

BUCKS HURTING

Buckaroos defenceman Mike Donaldson and Jerry Korab are also on the injured list, but Paul Terbenche, who was suffering a groin injury earlier in the playoffs, returned to action Sunday night.

Old Sticks Trip McLeod; Jacobsen Also Sidelined



RALLYING from two-hole deficit after nine holes, Dick Munn (above) of Point Grey Golf Club defeated Victoria professional Bill Wakeham on 18th green Sudnay to move into final for Vancouver City match-play championship. Munn will face his Point Grey assistant, Doug Reid, in next Sunday's final. Reid, five up at turn, scored 5-and-4 victory over Al Kennedy.

By ERNIE FEDORUK

Al MacLeod has had a new set of irons for about a year, but it may take him a lot longer to forget his old set of golf sticks.

That's because Gene Williams won't let him forget.

The 23-year-old Williams has the old set, and MacLeod is left with "second thoughts." A former finalist, the 29-year-old MacLeod was one of the major casualties Sunday in the opening round of match play for The Daily Times Trophy and the Vancouver Island Open championship. Williams sidelined MacLeod 6 and 5 at Victoria Golf Club.

A Gorge Vale member who was the Island Open runner-up in 1967, MacLeod purchased new irons last year. Williams promptly acquired the old set, and MacLeod can't help but wonder if it should be written off as a bad deal.

Williams played par golf with the "seconds" while MacLeod approximately six over par for the 13 holes played.

"We played together in the City Amateur last year," said Williams, "and I outscored Al then. That's when he first started to wonder whether he made the right decision."

Williams wasted no time in reminding MacLeod that there are good shots left in the old set. The Colwood youth was four up after four holes, and six up after eight.

That was enough to send MacLeod to the sidelines along with last year's finalist, southpaw Hal Jacobsen. The Glen Meadows ace bowed, two down, to Gorge Vale professional Earl Davies.

Williams shared qualifying-round honors with Cedar Hill's Bob Herbertson and Karl Zwick of Gorge Vale, but was the only one of the co-medallists to advance into next Sunday's second rond at Colwood.

Boden, Carroll Reach Second Round

Zwich bowed 3 and 2 to Uplands' Al Senior, returning to golf strongly after a layoff of several years. Another Uplands member, Alan Brown defeated Herbertson, 2 and 1.

Defending champion Norm Boden was another who cruised easily into the second round. Boden defeated 19-year-old Ken Nott of Uplands 3 and 2.

Also clearing the first-round hurdle were two-time winner Laurie Carroll, Jim Taylor, Claude Heggie, Urban Allen, Tom Reynolds, Roger Bishop, Dave Mick, Carl Schwantje, Martin Holman, Robbie Ferguson and Ron Howard, Jr.

It was a charge of the Youth Brigade. Ten of the 16 survivors are under 26 years of age.

One of the favored youngsters, Dave Mick of Gorge Vale, racked up the most one-sided victory of the day by defeating Uplands' Dave Zabel 8 and 6.

Three of Sunday's 16 matches went extra holes. Allen ran in a crucial 10-foot putt on the 18th hole to square his match against Colwood's Art Carey, then won on the 19th with a "gimme" birdie.

Allen reached the green of the par-five hole in two. His putt for an eagle was about three inches short but the tap-in birdie was enough for the victory.

Ferguson, a junior member at Gorge Vale, also had to square his battle on the 18th before winning on the 19th. Veteran Vince Clarkson three-putted the 18th to allow Ferguson a chance to tie, then lost on the extra hole when Robbie hit the flagstick with his approach shot and dropped an easy birdie putt.

Youngest Qualifier Ousted on 20th

Howard and 15-year-old Bob Beauchemin of Gorge Vale had to go two extra holes. Again, a birdie settled it.

Beauchemin, the youngest qualifier, was impressive despite his loss on the 20th hole.

"It was an uphill fight all the way," said Howard, a two-handicapper. "Bob is a real thinker on the golf course. That, plus the fact he was invariably right down the middle, makes me feel quite happy to come out as a winner."

Both Beauchemin and Howard were approximately three over for 18 holes.

Two of the 16 matches in the handicap section for the Hugh Francis Trophy also went extra holes. Colwood's Joe Evans and Gorge Vale greens superintendent Bill Shvetz, playing in the same foursome, both triumphed on the 19th.

Ironically, both figured in dormie situations after 16 holes. Evans was two up on Gorge Vale's Brian Lindsay, with two holes to play, while Shvetz was two down to Bert Saxon with two to go.

Also advancing in the handicap section were Bill Bigcanoe, Doug Munro, Hugh Reid, Dick Flanagan, Ted Langlois, Fred Ranson, Vic Painter, Lou Sargent, Lex Sutcliffe, Dan Miles, Doug Hunt, Don McKerns, Brian Sluggett and Bob Moss.

Weyburn Game Away From Final

(Times News Services)

Weyburn Red Wings, one win away from advancing to the Memorial Cup final, hope to keep the pressure on Thunder Bay Hurricanes tonight in the sixth game of the best-of-seven Western junior hockey final.

The Red Wings took a 3-2 lead with a 5-1 win over the Hurricanes before 1,923 fans Sunday. It was their third straight victory after dropping the first two games of the series at Thunder Bay.

Eugene Sobchuk sparked Weburn with a goal and two assists. He set up Gerry Leippi, formerly of Regina Pats, with the winning goal at the 37-second mark of the second period.

Other Weyburn scorers were Larry Giroux, Calvin Booth and Bob Gerrard. Paul Sandberg scored the lone Thunder Bay goal.

In Montreal, the Junior Canadiens moved to within one game of a berth in the Eastern final by drubbing Sault St. Marie Greyhouds 9-3 before 5,342 fans. The winners face Quebec Remparts in the East final.

Richard Lemieux, Robert Guindon and Gilbert Perreault scored two goals each for Montreal while Robert Lalonde, Michel Latrielle and Pierre Brind'Amour collected one each.

City Driver Tops Record

Unsettled weather put a slight crimp in the drag racing season-opener Sunday at Van-Isle Dragways by forcing officials to run off competitors in two brackets.

Frank Jones of Victoria unofficially broke a National Hot Rod Association record for the G-SA class with a run of 12:77 seconds at 111.83 miles per hour in a 1969 Barracuda powered by a 340-cubic-inch engine. The run also won him first place in the top stock bracket.

Jim Atterbury of Port Alberni was runner-up in a '69 Camaro.

Frank Boyas of Coquitlam won the modified eliminator contest, which encompassed several of the regular brackets under a handicap system, with a best time of 11:99 seconds at 116 m.p.h. in a SS-EA '69 Chevelle.

Bill Edwards of Samas, Wash., was runner-up with a time of 9:32 seconds at 143 m.p.h. in an injected Chevy A-Comp.

Pickup Helps Jets Get Jump Over Orillia

SPOKANE, Wash. (CP) — Spokane Jets got good mileage from pickup Ron Huston Sunday night as they broke a 2-2 second-period tie for a 5-2 win over Orillia Terriers in the first game of the best-of-seven Allan Cup senior hockey final.

Huston, picked up from Cranbrook Royals and last season's Western International Hockey League scoring champion, fired up the Jets with two goals in the final period.

Tom Rendall scored the other third period goal before the crowd of 5,928. Don Scherza and Gail Holden also scored for Spokane.

George Westfall and Corby Adams counted for Orillia.

The second game of the series will be played here Tuesday.

Billie Jean King Italian Net Champ

ROME (Reuters) — Billie Jean King took just over an hour Sunday to snatch the Italian open tennis championships women's singles title from last year's winner, Julie Heldman of New York City.

Top-seeded Mrs. King beat Miss Heldman, seeded second, 6-1, 6-3.

In the women's doubles finals Mrs. King and Rosemary Cassals beat Virginia Wade of Britain and Francoise Durr of France 6-2, 3-6, 9-7.

The men's singles final between Jan Kodes of Czechoslovakia and Ilie Nastase of Romania took place today.

Cool Kershaw Collects Again

By STEWART LANG

Gary Kershaw kept his cool after spinning out Saturday night and chalked up his second successive super-stock victory in the National Association for Stock Car Auto Racing's northwest division this year.

Kershaw, who won the 75-lap Apple Cup race in Yakima earlier this season, caputred first place in the 50-lap main event of the first-ever regularly-scheduled NASCAR meet at Western Speedway.

The Victoria ace driver booted his golden-yellow 1965 Chevelle to a near sweep of all events before 3,860 chilled fans. Kershaw also set fast time of the night of 18:65 seconds for the four-tenths of a mile Langford oval.

WHEELED OUT

His time, clocked on a track which had puddles on the backstretch and number-one turn, was considerably short of this trace record of 18 seconds flat set last July.

Kershaw, who started eighth out of a field of 24 cars, took over the lead on the 32nd lap when another Victoria driver—Rick O'Dell—lost a wheel.

O'Dell started third in the 50-lapper, took over the front-running position on the second circuit and had built up a half-lap lead before tangling with Victoria's Ross Surgenor while trying to pass on the inside.

Surgenor missed a lap from the resulting collision and O'Dell lost several more while his wheel was being changed.

TWO-WAY FLGHT

From then on it was a battle between Kershaw and Seattle's Fred Hay, currently third in NASCAR standings. Hay started the race immediately in front of Kershaw.

The American driver grabbed the lead momentarily before Kershaw re-captured it and charged through the remaining distance to finish one-quarter lap ahead at the chequered flag.

Kershaw finished third in the trophy dash after spinning out with Vancouver's Bill Godfrey as they entered the number-two turn.

In the eight-lap fast heat, Kershaw started last out of six cars and passed O'Dell on the sixth circuit to take the laurels.

O'Dell almost grabbed the lead back on the seventh lap when Kershaw came out of the number-two turn wide and both stayed close together right to the finish line.

TROPHY WINNER

Surgenor was the other local winner, outduelling Hay in the "A" trophy dash after Kershaw and Godfrey were eliminated.

Visitors from Vancouver collected two victories with Gord Hemerick winning the "B" dash and Rollie Walker claiming the first heat.

Les Light of Redmond, Ore., won the second heat by one wheel-length over Hemerick.

Saturday's results:

"A" dash: 1. Ross Surgenor, Victoria; 2. Fred Hay, Seattle; 3. Gary Kershaw, Victoria; 4. Bill Godfrey, Vancouver.

"B" dash: 1. Gord Hemerick, Vancouver; 2. Roy Haslam, Victoria; 3. Ron Morrison, Vancouver; 4. Mac Morrison, Vancouver.

First heat: 1. Rollie Walker, Vancouver; 2. Ben Dean, Kirkland, Wash.; 3. Larry Walker, Victoria; 4. Jim Caudwell, Victoria.

Second heat: 1. Les Light, Redmond, Ore.; 2. Hemerick; 3. R. Morrison.

Fast heat: 1. Kershaw; 2. Rick O'Dell, Victoria; 3. Hay; 4. Ken Sawer, Vancouver.

Main event: 1. Kershaw; 2. Hay; 3. Dave Cooper, Victoria; 4. Walker.

WEIGHTLIFTING MARK

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet weightlifter Vasily Alexeyev set a world record of 476.1 pounds in the superheavy press class at the Soviet weightlifting championships. The old mark of 473.9 pounds was set only a week ago by Serge Reding of Belgium.

TRADED by Washsngton Senators Sunday was third-baseman Ken McMullen (above), who went to California Angels in deal that sent infielder Arelio Rodriguez and outfielder Rick Reichardt to Senators. Washington manager Ted Williams said he acquired Reichardt, one-time super bonus baby, to give his outfield more right-handed hitting strength.

Second-Half Charges Jolt Victoria Squads

Two Vancouver squads both exploded in the second half Sunday to overcome 5-3 deficits and claim provincial minor rugby crowns over Victoria sides at Macdonald Park.

David Schofield kicked four penalty goals to pace Vancouver's 15-12 victory in the midget (under-17 match.

Robert Greig added a try for the visitors.

John Bradford and Hans de Goede scored trys for Victoria while Norm Cressey and Steve Brammal added penalty goals.

In the junior (under-19) match, Vancouver trampled Victoria 24-8 behind the prolific boot of Charles Teeple, who scored one penalty goal and three converts. John Roscoe scored two trys while singles were added by Mark Hall, Angus Stewart and Cav Reid.

Garry Worth and Jim Kirby scored trys for Victoria while Keith Peters made good on one convert attempt.

Reds defeated Blues 5-3 in a Vancouver Island trial match at University of Victoria.

Gorge Club Clipped In Provincial Final

VANCOUVER — Victoria's last chance for a B.C. minor soccer championship went down the drain Saturday when Richmond Wanderers downed Gorge FC 4-1 in the Division II final at Swangard Stadium.

Gorge was the only team from Vancouver Island to win a berth in the 18th annual provincial "Tournament of Champions."

Reg Newmark, who booted home a goal in each half to pace Richmond, was later named the outstanding player of the tournament and awarded the "Soccer Boy of 1970" trophy.

Richmond led the match 2-0 at half-time.

Don Herd and Don Sytko scored the other Richmond goals while Norm Baker averted a shutout for Gorge.

Victoria Boys' Club won the Division II championship last year.

Burnaby Westburn Imperials, winner of the Division VI title Saturday in a 1-0 squeaker against Vancouver Trafalgar, were voted the outstanding team.

Divisional winners:

DIVISION I: Vancouver-Richmond Wanderers 3, Burnaby Westburn 0.

DIVISION II: Richmond Wanderers 4, Victoria Gorge FC 1.

DIVISION III: Vancouver Grandview Legion 2, Westminster-Whalley Elks 0.

DIVISION IV: Vancouver Grandview Legion 4, Burnaby Cliff Avenue United 3.

DIVISION V: Burnaby Cliff Avenue United 1, Vancouver ANAF 0.

DIVISION VI: Burnaby Westburns 1, Vancouver Trafalgars 0.

DIVISION VII: Burnaby Cliff Avenue United 3, Langley Legion 0.

Butterfly Returns To Puzzle Pirates

By Associated Press

The butterfly in Phil Niekro's knuckleball is back in baseball business after taking an exasperating two-week vacation.

Niekro's knuckler, normally one of the most puzzling pitches National League batters must face, was no mystery until Sunday when the Atlanta ace mowed down Pittsburgh Pirates 2-0 on a two-hitter.

In his first four starts, Niekro and his flutterless flutterball had been racked for 30 hits, 11 home runs, a 7.78 earned run average and four straight losses.

But Sunday, he pitched hitless ball for 6 2-3 innings and completely baffled the powerful Pirates.

Elsewhere Sunday, New York Mets topped Los Angeles Dodgers 3-1, St. Louis Cardinals dropped Cincinnati Reds 4-1, Chicago Cubs whipped Houston Astros 6-3, Philadelphia Phillies edged San Diego Padres 3-2 and San Francisco Giants split a doubleheader with Montreal Expos, winning 11-1 before losing 3-2.

Saturday, Chicago dumped Houston 11-5, Pittsburgh edged Atlanta 8-7, Montreal beat San Francisco 7-3, Cincinnati shaded St. Louis 3-2, Los Angeles blanked New York 1-0 and Philadelphia did the same to San Diego.

Niekro couldn't solve the Forbes Field no-hit jinx. No pitcher has ever achieved a hitless game in the 61-year history of the park, which the Pirates will vacate next month for their new Riverfront Stadium. Niekro defied the jinx until a two-out error in the seventh gave Manny Sanguillen a swing and the catcher's single broke up the no-hit bid.

Tommie Aaron cracked four straight hits, including a homer and double which accounted for both Brave runs.

Seaver Boosts Streak to 27 Outs

New York's ace, Tom Seaver, retired the first 11 Dodgers he faced Sunday, running his string to 27 consecutive outs—the equivalent of a perfect game.

Seaver had retired the last 16 Padres—including 10 straight on strikes—last Wednesday.

He settled for a six-hitter with home runs by Donn Clendenon and Mike Jorgensen pacing the Mets attack. Bud Harrelson stole three bases including home for the Mets, who ended a 30-inning runless streak.

Bob Gibson throttled Cincinnati on five hits, striking out 15 for his strongest performance of the season as the Cards beat the Reds.

Gibson, knocked out in each of his first two starts, fanned six Reds in order during one stretch and Lou Brock's three singles led the St. Louis offense.

In American League territory, the green, green grass of home betrayed Dean Chance and the Cleveland Indians Sunday but the Minnesota air seems to be working wonders for Louis Tiant.

Chance and Tiant were the key figures in a six-player swap between the Indians and the Twins last winter.

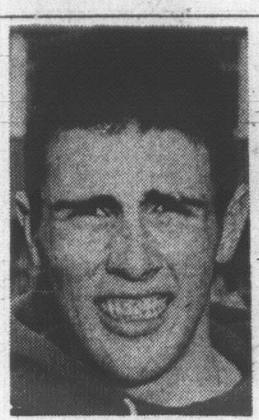
Chance, 1-2, scattered nine hits in eight innings, walking two and striking out seven but the Indians lost to Chicago White Sox 2-0, as the high grass at Cleveland's Municipal Stadium affected two key infield hits.

Tiant, meanwhile, ran his record 3-0—he had a dismal 9-10 last year—by shutting out Detroit Tigers on three singles, 6-0. He also stroked a double and two singles, stole third base and knocked in a run.

Elsewhere in the American League, Baltimore Orioles made it 14 straight over Kansas City Royals 10-9, California Angels shaded Washington Senators 3-2, and then traded Rick Reichardt and Aurelio Rodriguez to the Senators for Ken McMullen. Milwaukee Brewers tripped Boston Red Sox 5-3 and New York Yankees drubbed Oakland Athletics 8-3 for Mel Stottlemyre's first victory.

The White Sox nicked Chance for single runs in the second and third innings Sunday. The first scored on Joe Horlen's slow bouncer down the third base line which was allowed to roll and stayed fair. In the third, Luis Aparicio bunted safely down the third base line, took third on a double by Carlos May and scored on Buddy Bradford's sacrifice fly.

"There was nothing I could do about either one," said a disgruntled Grant Nettles, the Cleveland third baseman.



JOHN CLIFF
. . . B.C. champion

John Cliff Marathon Champion

VANCOUVER — John Cliff of the Victoria Flying "Y" Track Club won the B.C. marathon championship Sunday with a time of two hours, 24 minutes and 33 seconds over the 26-mile, 385-yard course in Stanley Park.

John Rowley of the Nanaimo Track and Field Club was runner-up with a 2:32.43 clocking, while Jim Colpitts of the Victoria Distance Guild ran third in 2:40.20

Victoria Track Club's Ken Weicker turned in an excellent time of 2:49.27 for sixth place in his first attempt at the standard marathon distance.

The only other Victoria competitor, Allan Vyse of the Flying "Y," was 11th in 3:00.10.

Red Swimmers Win

EDINBURGH (AP) — The Soviet Union defeated Britain, 200-104, in a two-day international swimming meet that ended Saturday. An unexpected British victory was scored by 18-year-old Alan Widdowson, who defeated Viktor Sharygin in the 100-metre butterfly in 1:00.1. The meet was held in a pool built for the Commonwealth Games to be held here in August.

THE EXECUTIVE JET.™
CP AIR'S SOLUTION TO THE PHYSICAL AND EMOTIONAL NEEDS OF TODAY'S TRAVELING BUSINESSMAN.

We all have our needs.

And we're sorry to say, we can't help most people with theirs. But we can help the traveling businessman with his.

We've introduced the Executive Jet for all our cross Canada flights.

It's designed to let a traveling businessman work when he wants to work. And play when he wants to play. (We give you freedom of choice).

For instance, if you feel like working, just ask a stewardess for a dictating machine, or for stationery. She'll be happy to help you set up an office away from the office.

If you don't feel like working yourself, but would like to know how your money is working for you, just ask one of our girls for the Financial Post or the Wall Street Journal. We even carry a brief up-to-the-minute resume of marketing/financial information. (For the man who's not interested in those kinds of figures, may we suggest the ones in Playboy magazine.)

If you'd rather play than work (which we won't blame you for, either), just tell one of our stewardesses you're in the mood to play games. She'll understand. All Executive Jets carry grown-up games like Instant Insanity and Soma.

Perhaps you feel like doing absolutely nothing. Well, we couldn't think of a better place to do it. The atmosphere on board is always relaxed and informal.

Our stewardesses are great to look at, too. They don't wear uniforms that make them look like they're in the army. They wear what we call "non-uniforms." They're supplied to us by Canada's best-known retailers. So you know they're contemporary.

For instance, you'll see our girls in pant-suits, maxi-coats, and bell bottoms.

Women can find happiness aboard the Executive Jet, too. They won't have to dictate or read Fortune to have fun. There are dozens of other things to do.

So next time you're planning a flight within Canada, ask your travel agent to book you on one of our fourteen daily Executive Jet flights.

It's the other way to fly.

ARTS AND LETTERS REBOUNDS . . . . . . RACING ROUNDUP

Quilche Breaks Turf Record

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Arts and Letters, the 1969 "horse - of - the year," redeemed himself Saturday for his lone defeat of 1970 by staging a sensational stretch drive and capturing the $84,650 Grey Lag Handicap at Aqueduct.

Toting 128 pounds including jockey Braulio Baeza, the Rokeby Stables star beat Never Bow by a half length. Gaelic Dancer took third in a photo finish over Dewan.

Arts and Letters' time of 1:48 2-5 for the 1⅛-mile race equalled the Grey Lag record set by Saidam in 1964.

In his only other 1970 start, Arts and Letters finished fourth in the Westchester Handicap March 30.

* * *

At Inglewood., Quilche ran to a startling upset over a strong international field of grass runners, beating out Fort Marcy from New York by a nose in the $80,500 Century Handicap at Hollywood Park.

Jockey Jerry Lambert guided Quilche, a six-year-old from Chile, in to a wire-to-wire victory and in the process set an American record for 1⅜ miles on the turf course. The time was 2:11 3-5. The favored Pinjara was third and lost his track record of 2:13 1-5.

The previous American mark for the distance was 2:12 2-5 set at Delaware Park in 1965 by Cool Prince.

* * *

At Louisville, Ky., My Dad George, with Ray Broussard in command, roared from last place for a narrow victory over Terlago, surviving a foul claim along the way, in the Stepping Stone Purse at Churchill Downs.

Jockey Bob Wholey, aboard fourth-finishing Sailstone, claimed My Dad George bothered him in zipping through a narrow hole at the quarter pole en route to the front of the pack.

Behind Terlago, in order, were Cassie Red, Sailstone. No No Billy and Hilkey Way in this seven-furlong Kentucky Derby prep, timed in 1:23 3-5.

* * *

At Vancouver, Broken Bubble, a consistent seven-year-old gelding, came from off the pace to pull a mild upset win in the $5,000-added New Westminster Handicap at Exhibition Park.

Broken Bubble, under Don Hale, wore down Ballistic Missile in the stretch and covered the 6½ furlongs in 1:17 2-5 to pay $10.30, $4.80 and $3.60 to bettors in the crowd of 6,516.

Honorium, the favorite, tired after fighting Ballistic Missile and Hasty Judge for the early lead and came home fifth.

* * *

Elsewhere Robin's Bug came home a five-length winner in the $36,750 Survivor Stakes at Baltimore's Pimlico. Parasol Pete was second while Delfy's Duc finished third . . . At Cherry Hill, N.J., Hagley scored his first victory of the year by a length over Restless Retreat in the $28,900 Delaware Valley Handicap at Garden State Park . . . The winner was ridden by Ron Turcotte, a native of Grand Falls, N.B. Total finished third . . . Imaginative romped 2½ lengths ahead of Damage Control to win the $20,000-added Contra Costa Handicap at Golden Gate Fields . . . Soopah was third . . . Dennis Tierney rode Imaginative, who now has won four of his last five starts.

Soccer Tickets Forged

GLASGOW, Scotland (AP) — More than 3,000 soccer fans watched a championship game between England and Scotland on forged tickets Saturday, police reported Sunday.

Police said tickets were sold for all of the 134,000 seats but a check of ticket stubs showed that 137,438 fans attended the match.

Police said 102 arrests were made after the game, but not for using phoney tickets. Most of the detainees were rounded up for disorderly behavior.

TITLE SHARED

The teams battled to a scoreless draw and England has to share this year's British international title with the Scots and Wales. England won the event the previous two years.

Each of the three leaders defeated Northern Ireland, but the games among themselves all resulted in ties, giving each of the trio four points from a victory and two ties.

FIRST SINCE 1872

A capacity crowd of 134,000 at Glasgow's Hampden Park saw England and Scotland battle to the first goal-less tie since the opening of the series in 1872.

Wales joined Scotland and England at the top with a 1-0 victory over Northern Ireland before 28,000 at Swansea. Ronnie Rees scored the winning goal in 36th minute.

England's performance against the Scots was disappointing in this last game in Britain before leaving for Mexico City May 4 to try to retain the World Cup.

England manager Alf Ramsey decided not to use star Bobby Charlton, who broke a bone in his right hand during training, and England plainly missed Charlton's midfield generalship.

Australian Cricket Side To Visit City

Visits by three touring teams will spice the regular schedule of the Victoria and District Cricket Association which begins next weekend on local pitches.

Emu selects from Australia will meet a representative Victoria side on June 7 in Beacon Hill Park while University of California at Los Angeles will provide the opposition July 17 at Shawnigan Lake and July 18 at Beacon Hill.

Upper Canada College of Ontario is due to pay a call on June 27 for a schoolboy match against Shawnigan Lake Boys' School.

League competition begins Saturday with Albions meeting Castaways at Beacon Hill Park. On Sunday, defending-champion Cowichan tussles with Oak Bay at Windsor Park while Incogs face Alcos at University School.

Health Care Inadequacies Said a Result of System

WINNIPEG (CP) — Most Canadians of the future will lack the health care they need until doctors share with other health professionals some of the responsibility for diagnosis and treatment, Dr. J. Wendell Macleod said today.

Dr. Macleod, executive director of the Association of Canadian Medical Colleges, said the numerical output of family doctors "is certain to fall far short of requirements."

"Who will provide primary care in the future? . . .

"In most cities and countless scattered rural communities in Canada a substantial proportion of the people will not receive appropriate care until the physician relinquishes to others some of his responsibility for diagnosis and treatment."

Dr. Macleod, former dean of medicine at University of Saskatchewan, spoke at the first-day session of the International Congress on Group Medicine.

He said Canada has a model for using nurses for primary health care in the nursing stations of the Arctic and northern territories.

NEW TRAINING NEEDED

Any move to enlist the large pool of nurses would require changes in medical and nursing education to wean both professions from their predominantly-hospital orientation toward a team appraoch to health care.

"All the health professions need liberation from the bind of rigid standards for admission to studies, promotion, registration and membership in the guild."

Legal Aid Scored

WINNIPEG (CP) — Winnipeg lawyer Ron Meyers Sunday called for a free legal aid system in Manitoba allowing persons unable to afford an attorney to call one of their choice.

"I'd like to see the day when any poor person can pick up the telephone book and select whatever lawyer he wants and have this cost borne by the (provincial) government," said the director of the Manitoba Law Society's legal aid committee.

Meyers was speaking to a session of The Citizen and The Law series at St. John Bosco Centre in Winnipeg.

He said the main problem with Manitoba's legal aid system now is that it is restricted to criminal cases and doesn't cover civil matters.

CUPE Resolutions

BRANDON, Man. (CP) — The Manitoba division of the Canadian Union of Public Employees has called for a minimum wage of $2 an hour, support of a government-operated automobile insurance plan and total opposition to any form of compulsory arbitration. The resolutions were passed at a two-day convention here which ended Sunday.

Lay Priests Urged

EDMONTON (CP) — The 33rd synod of the Anglican diocese of Edmonton Saturday approved a resolution asking that lay members of the church be ordained as "local priests." The resolution said lay people "of suitable education and character" could be ordained to conduct church services and celebrate the Eucharist under the supervision of the full-time ministry.

Flooding Feared

GRETNA, Man. (CP) — Volunteers in the tiny village of Gretna, 55-miles south of Winnipeg on the North Dakota border, piled 15,000 sandbags around the southern perimeter of the village Sunday night in preparation for a flood crest.

The Pembina River which skirts the southern fringe of the village is rising at a rate of six inches per hour — a higher rate than predicted earlier by flood watchers.

A spokesman for the Emergency Measures Organization in Winnipeg said local volunteers were handling the dyking operations and that some local flooding was expected.

Unusually heavy snow in the Pembina Hills is believed responsible for the higher than anticipated river crest.

Geological Link?

ST. JOHN'S, Nlfd. (CP) — Geologists and geophysicists from the United States, the United Kingdom and Canada plan an intensive study of Newfoundland's rocks this summer to determine continental drifts. The 75 scientists want to determine whether Newfoundland, at the extreme northeastern tip of North America's ancient Applachian Mountain system, was at one time an extentison of the old Caledonian Mountain belt of the United Kingdom and Ireland.

Hospital Workers Oppose Cutback Bid

VANCOUVER (CP) — The British Columbia Hospital Employees' Union said Saturday it will campaign against the provincial government's directive to hospitals to reduce staff and services to save money.

The union's executive decided at a special meeting to endorse a work-to-rule program among its members and a selective boycott of higher food prices in hospital cafeterias.

The executive also plans to start an advertising campaign, possibly in co-operation with MLAs and organizations represeneing doctors, hospitals and nurses.

A union spokesman said serious and substantial staff cuts already are under way in some hospitals.

Health Minister Ralph Loffmark earlier announced the government would pay only 70 per cent of increases in hospital staff salaries.

Just Add Water

SUMMERLAND (CP) — Research scientists at the experimental station here have packed the flavor of 1,000 gallons of apple juice into a new powdered product which has led to high-quality dehydrated fruit sauces. When water is added to applesauce flakes, it breaks the coating of sugar polymer which protects the flavor. "The process will likely be used to add flavor to many other foods and could quite literally revolutionize this sector of the food industry," said its inventor, Dr. Hiroshi Sugisawa.

Progressive Care New Track In Hospitals' Patient Treatment

By DON VIPOND

Despite budget and building problems, Greater Victoria's two big public hospitals are gradually shifting to a new track in patient treatment.

It's called "progressive care" and while it's a new development locally, the basic idea is at least as old at Florence Nightingale, says Dr. A. C. Pickles, executive director at Royal Jubilee Hospital.

Briefly, it's a system of grouping patients according to the severity of their illness while at the same time arranging the big hospitals' massive, complex and expensive facilities — labs, monitors, surgeries, x-rays, pharmacies and others — to best serve these groups.

"Nursing has always placed the most seriously ill patient nearest the nursing station," says Pickles. "As the patients improved they went further down the big open army wards.

That's the idea of progressive care coming into the local hospitals but in an infinitely more involved setting than Florence Nightingale's wards. Today's big hospital has something of the aura of Grand Central Station — a constant stream of people flowing in and out while a bewildering variety of treatments are under way within.

In two words, progressive care aims at more efficiency. This means money saved and lack of money is the big problem in the hospital field at the moment.

The irony in the situation at Jubilee and St. Joseph's Hospital is that their plans for more efficiency require that money be spent first. Money from the provincial government is so hard to come by the economies are being delaryed.

FIVE GROUPS

Under the progressive care system, patients are divided into five distinct groups:

- Intensive care — these are just the handful of patients in any hospital who are critically ill, in danger of dying, perhaps after a severe heart attack or a car crash.

The tiny intensive care units are jammed with the best of everything, the most elaborate monitors, the most qualified nurses. They are extremely expensive to operate in relation to the number of patients they serve.

- Acute care — the vast majority of hospital beds are geared to this category. The patients who occupy them may have had surgery, broken bones, any of the multitude of illnesses or injuries which take people to hospital.

Each acute care bed has oxygen and suction as standard equipment. A small army of staff — nurses, technicians, cooks and cleaners — are needed to keep the operation rolling.

- Self-care or sub-acute or convalescent — this type of bed doesn't exist at the two major hospitals yet but soon will.

LESS NEED

As acute care patients begin to mend, they no longer need many of the expensive services they did initially. They could be cared for in much more economical quarters.

The self-care patient, still aching perhaps, is able to get up and around. He can go to the cafeteria for his meals and to a nursing station to pick up his own medicine. He doesn't need oxygen and suction beside his bed.

In contrast to the acute care patient, the hospital's cost to take care of him can be more than cut in half.

- Day care or out-patient or ambulatory care — these patients arrive at and depart from the hospital the same day. They are in hospital only a matter of hours for surgery or diagnostic tests under anaesthesia.

Anaesthetics which don't leave a patient feeling sick are one of the big advances which make day care a rapidly expanding and economical form of hospital treatment. Jubilee has the most advanced program in the province.

- Extended care — most of these patients are elderly, bed-ridden and with long-term illnesses which require round-the-clock nursing rather than a doctor's constant attention.

There are no extended care beds at Jubilee or St. Joseph's now but there are extended care patients occupying the more expensive acute care beds. Plans call for building extended care beds at both hospitals.

BEYOND HOSPITAL

The idea of progressive care actually reaches beyond the hospital — to convalescents getting back on their feet at home, to ailing people at home who need help before they come into hospital and to those who, if they could get some assistance at home, wouldn't need to enter a hospital at all.

This is the closely allied field of home care, where help goes to the patient rather than him coming to the help. Half a dozen agencies in Greater Victoria have recently allied themselves to co-ordinate home care services — such things as nurses' visits to give injections or change dressings; meals on wheels, house-keeping assistance.

Home care programs will likely expand rapidly as a sound and economical means of trimming hospital admissions. Where people aren't all that ill, it's far cheaper to care for them in their homes and most prefer it to hospital.

Construction Stalls As Cement Closure Increases Pressure

Major local construction has all but come to a stop—partly as a result of closure Friday and today of two large cement plants.

Contractors participating in the province-wide construction lock-out earlier predicted lack of demand for concrete and subsequent closure of plants would halt all construction on the Island.

A spokesman for Poole Construction said today that work on the Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce on Douglas is limited to clean-up, and that will be finished with three days.

Work on the Saanich swimming pool (E. J. Hunter) and the city swimming complex (H. E. Fowler) has also halted.

THREE CARPENTERS

Three carpenters were reported working on the biological sciences building at the University of Victoria. A spokesman for Farmer Construction said concrete work had stopped prior to closure of the cement plants because there were no laborers.

Glendale Hospital, another Farmer contract, was reported finished. Carpenters and electricians were busy at Dominion Construction's site at Hillside Shopping Centre.

NO SUPPLIES

Concrete producers said they were closing because they could not get supplies from Vancouver despite local demand.

Ocean Cement shut down Friday and Butler-Lafarge was to close at 4 p.m. today.

Two smaller plants — Columbia Ready-Mix and Trio Ready-Mix — said they will close sometime this week.

Ed Phillips, manager of the Amalgamated Construction Association, and spokesman for the newly-formed Construction Labor Relations Association, today discounted a report that the 1,000-member Plumbers, Pipefitters and Steamfitters Union is about to reach a contract agreement with 120 independen contractors.

MOSTLY UNION

Phillips said the number of non-CLRA contractors was closer to nine, and they are mostly union members who have gone into business during the last few weeks.

In Vancouver Sunday union members voted 90 per cent in favor of accepting a contract proposal which provides a 19.8 per cent increase over two years on the base rate of $5.66 an hour.

Half Flunk First Go At Test

Nearly 56 per cent of passenger vehicles and 51 per cent of commercial vehicles got yellow rejection stickers when they were inspected between July 1, 1968 and Feb 28, 1969.

These figures have just been released by the Canada Safety Council, a nation-wide non-profit organization of people interested in safety. It supports the compulsory and periodic inspection of motor vehicles in all the provinces and these figures were the results of its spring car check campaign.

Of the vehicles rejected in Victoria, 68.8 per cent had defective headlights, 14.3 per cent defective steering mechanisms, 12.3 per cent defective exhaust-muffler systems and 10.1 per cent defective brakes.

Tenders Called For Outfall

Tenders have been called for construction of a 6,100-foot sewerage outfall at Macaulay Point in Esquimalt.

The outfall, more than a mile long, will replace the present pipe built in 1913 which discharges sewage into a few feet of water off the shore.

Deadline for receiving tenders at the Capital Regional District office is May 20.

Tenders have already been received for supply and delivery of materials for the outfall and two pumps.

The new outfall and a new main line leading to it will serve Esquimalt, parts of Victoria and Saanich and will permit expansion of sewerage in Saanich.

Stacked Duplexes Sought

Up and down duplexes may soon be permitted in Saanich.

A public hearing in the municipal hall tonight at 7:30 will consider adding up and down duplexes to the already-permitted side by side ones.

The public hearing will also consider:

- Light industrial zoning, east side of Whittier between Boleskine and Ardesier;
- Amendments to regulations for apartments, to permit construction of three-storey frame apartments with habitable basement;
- Including one-chair barber shops as a permitted home occupation.

He's Getting 'Clobbered' By Hydro – Homeowner

Pat Codyre is afraid of the power and authority of B.C. Hydro—and he is not alone.

Codyre, 69, is one of five homeowners on Munn Road whose homes will be expropriated if Hydro goes through with plans to install overhead transmission lines in the Interurban-Burnside Road area.

Sunday, he organized a protest rally in Hampton Park, and despite the morning's threatening weather, about 200 people came out to lend their support.

LETTERS TO BENNETT

He told his audience that he has written a letter to B.C. Hydro chairman Dr. Gordon Shrum, two to Premier Bennett, and has sent a telegram to the premier, but so far has had no reply to any of them.

"Back in the days when the old B.C. Electric Company received its charter, you were allowed to wear a gun on each hip. The only difference betweeen then and now is that Hydro forgot to take the guns off and is clobbering the people with them.

"I am not the only one getting clobbered and I have no power to defend myself."

VISUAL POLLUTION

Paul Roth, of the Society for Pollution and Environmental Control, said the issue is not only one of people's civil rights being violated, but also one of visual pollution.

He said Hydro has not researched all means of putting the lines underground, and added that people must be willing to pay for a quality environment.

Oak Bay Mayor Frances Elford lent her support to the protest, saying: "I am not here because the lines are coming to the borders of Oak Bay, but as a concerned citizen of greater Victoria."

Jim Gorst of the Portage Inlet and Gorge Waterway Association, called the provincial government and B.C. Hydro "bureaucratic" and said "We are being 'Shrummed' out of our environment."

"The residents of Munns Road have brought this issue to the forefront of public opinions and there will be more Munns Roads if this thing goes on."

"For every one of you standing here now," he said, "there are a thousand quietly supporting you."

Codyre presented a letter to Saanich Ald. Leslie Passmore, and asked him, in his capacity as acting mayor to present it to council.

PROTECTION

The letter asked that five Munns Road families be placed under the protection of Saanich Muncicipality to prevent Hydro from using force to seize the property.

Passmore said consultations with the Saanich solicitor recently proved that there was no way the municipality can legally stop Hydro from expropriating the land.

Codyre then read aloud a resolution asking that Hydro be "forced" to put future transmission lines on Vancouver Island underground. His proposition, a very expensive one according to B.C. Hydro, received a solid round of applause.

Physicians Meeting At Empress

Family physicians in B.C. are meeting today, Tuesday and Wednesday at the Empress Hotel.

During these days they will hear, among other things, addresses on death, creativity, the pill, learning disorders.

The meeting is sponsored by general practitioners in the B.C. Medical Association and by the B.C. chapter of the College of Family Physicians.

PUBLIC INTEREST HIGH

City Councillors Pushing Five-Year Budget Referendum

A trio of Victoria city council members will head the last big five-year capital budget referendum push Wednesday.

Scheduled to speak at the Senior Citizens Centre, Centennial Square, at 1:30 p.m. that day are Mayor Courtney Haddock and Aldermen Peter Pollen and Harold Olafson.

In the meantime the city's information hot-line went into action at 9 this morning to answer a steady stream of queries from the public.

The special line will be manned by city hall staff until 9 p.m. tonight and will operate for 12-hour stints Tuesday and Wednesday.

The number to call for referendum information is 385-1214.

Information co-ordinator William Hooson said this morning that the consistent flow of early telephone calls indicated a higher-than-average interest in the budget.

To date, he said, the questions on the $6.3 million vote to be conducted Thursday, April 30, have been extremely intelligent.

More than $3.7 million of the total budget has been earmarked for street improvement programs.

A further $1 million is scheduled for waterfront development and protection while $328,000 goes to pollution control.

The balance of the budget would see $633,000 spent over the next five years to replace maintenance centres at Garbally Road and Beacon Hill Park, and $560,000 for fire prevention and protection.

To pass the budget requires that a 60 per cent majority of the people casting ballots vote in favor.

Total voting strength of the property owners eligible to vote is close to 18,000 but city officials say they expect fewer than 30 per cent to vote.

If approved, the budget will enable the city to borrow funds for listed projects over the next five years.

Estimated cost to the owner of a $20,000 home is 75 cents a month or $8.84 a year.

VOTE SATURDAY IN METCHOSIN

Metchosin ratepayers will go to the polls this Saturday to approve or reject participating with Langford and Colwood in purchase and development of the former Colwood racetrack as a local park.

Polling place is Metchosin Elementary School, 611 Happy Valley, between 8 a.m. and 8 p.m.

Cost to local ratepayers is estimated at .82 of a mill per year.

VOTE FELL SHORT

Ratepayers in Langford and Colwood approved the measure last February, but in Metchosin the vote fell 6 per cent short of the required 60 per cent. The turnout then of 163 persons required 98 yes votes—and there were 92.

The 77-acre park is being purchased from the federal government for $154,000. Playing fields and other outdoor recreational activities will be developed.

MARCH ON FERRY TOO LATE

200 Attend Long-Winded Nerve Gas Protest

By BRYDEN WINSBY

Phase One of Operation Nerve Gas could be termed a success — but unfortunately, Phase Two missed the boat.

Phase One: A protest rally at Beacon Hill Park at noon Saturday protesting the shipment of nerve gas from Okinawa through the Strait of Juan de Fuca to Bangor, Wash.

Phase Two: A march from the park to meet the Port Angeles ferry at 1 p.m. in a "border protest" similar to that last October when more than 2,000 protested against the explosion of an American nuclear device on Amchitka island in the Aleutians.

TREK UNDERWAY

Unfortunately for the marchers, speeches in Beacon Hill Park consumed more time than intended, and before the trek got underway the ferry had been and gone.

At the park, more than 200 gathered on the grass at a baseball diamond to hear four speakers protesting the shipment.

The first was Ralph Freedman, executive secretary of PANG (People Against Nerve Gas) an Oregon group which he claims has the support of "hundreds of thousands of people" in a growing protest against the shipment.

"Scientists say publicly that this situation is bad," he said, "but talking to them privately you come away horrified."

3,000,000 POUNDS

"This shipment contains three million pounds of nerve gas — there is enough coming through the Strait of Juan de Fuca to kill every person on earth."

"Why?" he asked, "How much overkill does there have to be?"

"A little while ago the ship Badger State was loaded at Bangor with munitions by the army. They said at the time that it was safe, that there was nohing to worry about — the Badger State broke up a sea."

"We would like to go to the Pentagon to find out more about this stuff and what we can do if something happens. But they won't tell us a thing. Evidenly the Pentagon does not trust its citizens."

ONE ASPECT

Dr. Robin Harger, assistant professor of zoology at UBC and vice president of SPEC, said the protest was only one aspect of many future struggles in the environment issue, and that the government was to blame for failing to act on this and other issues dealing with environmental contamination.

"The present state of government is jealously preserved by its successful proponents and supporters — our legislators. Nothing can or will be done to change the (pollution) situation without government officials risking their jobs in the next election when outraged industry removes the vast financial support it takes to get elected."

GENERAL PROBLEM

Dr. Margaret Benston, a biochemist from Simon Fraser University, said the issue was one part of a more general problem.

"The anti-human character of the U.S. military-industrial complex is now becoming apparent," she said, "We all know about their lust for power and wealth but this shipment is a symptom of their disregard for humanity."

Before the speakers had finished, Bob Munro, the protest organizer, told the rally that the Port Angeles ferry had left.

A vote was taken as to how many wished to continue with the march, and about two-thirds raised their hands.

MARCH TO FERRY

At the conclusion of the rally, Munro, a student at the Institute of Adult Studies, led the marchers down to the ferry terminal. Some carried signs reading "U.S. Army — you've got your nerve" and "Take a Deep Breath, it may be your last."

Chanting "stop the gas, stop the gas," the marchers passed by the terminal along Wharf Street, then wound their way through the downtown area to Centennial Square, where they dispersed.

Separate Accidents Put Two in Hospital

Two people are in hospital today with injuries they suffered in separate accidents over the weekend.

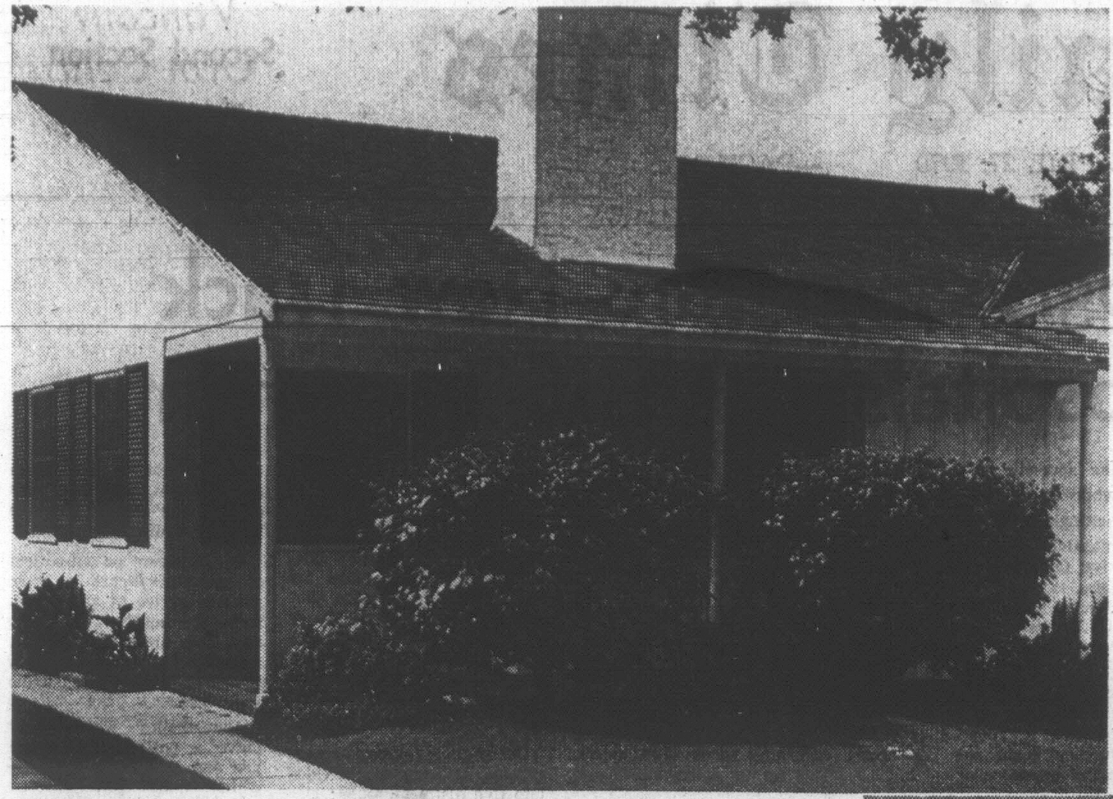
Marcel Lesieur, 41, of Port Alberni, is in fair condition at St. Joseph's Hospital with severe cuts to his face and neck while Dale Franklin, 26, of 437 Heather, is in fairly good condition at St. Joseph's with a broken ankle.

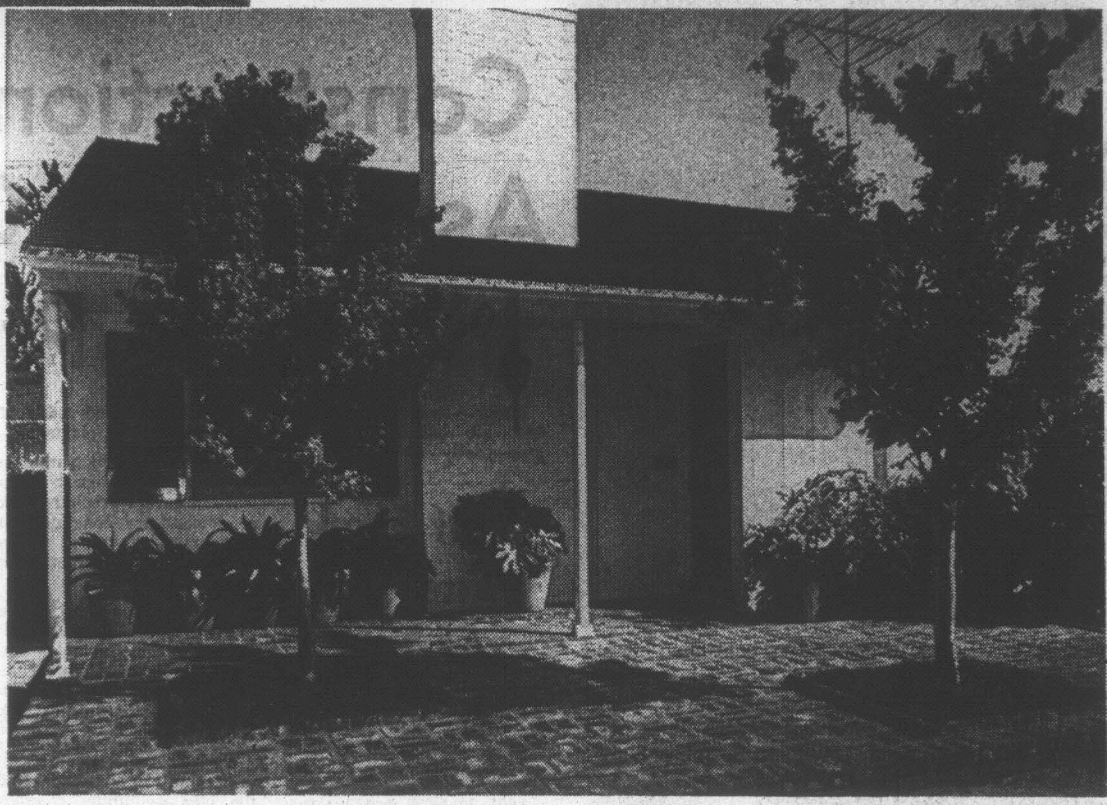
Lesieur was a passenger in a car driven by George Sperling, 3275 Albion, that collided with another car at Burnside and Alpha about 11:25 p.m. Saturday.

The driver of the second vehicle was Helmut Gruber, of 1712 Hovey Road.

Franklin was a passenger on a motorcycle that hit a car driven by John Pearsall, 1224 Pembroke in Beacon Hill Park shortly before 6:30 a.m. Sunday.

The driver of the motorcycle, Kenneth G. France, 22 of 929 Caledonia, suffered minor injuries and was treated and released from hospital.





The average bunaglow, above, was tidy but plain. Rigid lines of shrubbery marched around the house, obscuring architectual lines and showing an unimaginative approach to landscaping. A bit of green lawn at the frond ended at a city sidewalk and seemed irrelevant to the design. At right, the new look frames the house, revealing an attractive entrance-way. The lawn has become a brick foyer extending to the property limits. (Harold Davis Photos.)

TRY THIS

House Lines Emerge

Have you ever really looked at a house and analysed why it seems attractive or unattractive to you? When you do, you will realize that the setting does as much for a house as a hair style does for a woman.

Too often, when a family builds or remodels a house, the budget leaves nothing for planting. Usually a few shrubs along the foundation and a tree here or there completes the job for the homeowner.

However, take an ordinary bungalow, shown here, surround it with a well-executed landscape design, and the bungalow looks brand new, better than it ever has.

In this home, a low brick porch led to the front door from the driveway. Camellias and fuchsias alternated in a rigid row, with no regard for the house architecture, almost obliterating it, in fact, and a strip of lawn between house and sidewalk required maintenance but added nothing in beauty. Landscape architect Joseph P. Copp Jr. changed that.

The camellias went to the side of the house where their height fills a blank wall, and the fuchsias now add their color to the back garden.

Extension of the bricks to the sidewalk made the whole front yard into a forecourt and the front door is clearly seen.

To maintain some separation from the street, two Japanese maples grow in four-foot-square planter areas covered with wavy Mondo grass.

And because every house needs softness around the edges, pots of clivia and fatshedera line the front walls. The new look is sharp and clean and low maintenance, too, with the lawn long gone.

Andorran Men Let Women Vote

ANDORRA LA VIELLE (AP) — The men who govern Andorra decreed Thursday that women in the pocket principality now have the right to vote. The decision will increase the electorate to about 3,000 voters from 1,500. The decree was signed by the co-princes of Andorra — the president of France and the Spanish bishop of Urgel. It provides franchise for women whose families have been here for at least two generations. Andorra, 191 square miles, is in the Pyrenees on the French-Spanish border.

DEAR ABBY . . .

Gone Gander

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I have been a widower for some time, and for the last year have been taking a divorcee to nice places for dinner, to good shows, and to some nice parties.

Recently, I invited her to a large formal affair. She told me she would go if I would buy her a new formal dress with shoes and purse to match, and agreed to pay to have her hair done.

Is that the way it's being done these days? Confused.

DEAR CONFUSED: Only by those who are willing to go for it. If the lady didn't have a presentable dress for the occasion, she'd have been ahead to borrow one. Alas, another ambitious chick who may have killed the goose that laid the golden eggs!

DEAR ABBY: The woman whose husband came to the table bare-chested prompted me to write to you.

Bob and I had been married about two years when he developed the habit of coming home from the office, stripping, except for his undershorts, and coming to the dinner table in that state of undress.

I begged him to at least wear a robe, but he refused. Then I decided to cure him once and for all.

I took a large mixing bowl and combined flour, eggs, honey, leftover baked beans, molasses — anything I happened to have around. When my husband sat down for dinner, I told him I had a surprise for him. Then I let him have it! I dumped this mixture down on his bare chest.

He didn't talk to me for two days (that's how long it took him to get the honey and molasses out of the hair on his chest).

I know it was a hateful thing to do, but he never came to the table without a shirt and pants on again. — Bob's Wife.

DEAR WIFE: That must have been an enormous sacrifice. No man makes a habit of displaying the body beautiful unless he's convinced that he looks great that way.

DEAR ABBY: I suggest that "Bothered", whose husband comes to the dinner table bare-chested, try what I did to mine 19 years ago.

When we were first married, my husband started coming to the table bare from the waist up. I asked him to please put a shirt on for dinner but he said, "I always did this at home and I don't intend to change." So I said, "Well, if you can eat half naked, so can I," and I then proceeded to peel off my blouse, slip, and bra.

He just sat there for a while and finally said, "Okay, if you'll put your clothes back on, so will I." And so we did. And to this day he has never again come to the table without a shirt. We get a good laugh now when he remember how I boke him of a very repulsive habit. — Christine.

DEAR ABBY: My husband, soon after we were married, started to eat his dinner without a shirt on. He didn't wear a T-shirt or anything underneath, so I was supposed to just look at that bare chest.

I asked him nicely to please put his shirt on, but he refused. Then I told him if I was going to serve a topless man, he would have to look at a bottomless waitress, and I started to undress. Naturally, I didn't get very far. That settled it. — Didi.

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

SEW SIMPLE

By EUNICE FARMER

Dear Eunice Farmer,

I am most discouraged at my latest results in a dressy dress. It looked so beautiful in the picture and so bad on me. How can we be sure a pattern will not be a disappointment after it is completed? This dress was cut with the front on the bias. When I wear it, it pulls in a tight line across the bust, accentuates my tummy (which isn't really too large) and is generally very unflattering. — Mrs. M. M. L.

Dear Mrs. M. M. L. —

A bias cut dress is very difficult to wear unless you are quite thin. Because it is cut on the bias, there are usually no fitting darts; this is achieved by the cut of the fabric. If you are large in any one area, the fabric will simply stretch very taut across this area and accentuate any figure faults you have.

It's not a bad idea to check the layout of your pattern before you begin to cut and be sure there aren't any surprises you weren't aware of before it's too late. I'm afraid you'll have to write this one off to experience. There isn't much that can be done once a dress has been cut this way.

Tourists Hunt for Bargains: None in Italy; Some in Zurich

By FLORENCE DE SANTIS

If you're going to Europe this spring or summer, undoubtedly you're thinking of doing some shopping there.

Whether you come home with satisfactory purchases depends on whether you do some boning up beforehand. Planning is the secret of successful shopping.

In Italy, forget those souvenirs made especially to trap the unwary tourist, and head for the good shops where gloves, handbags or knitwear are sold.

It's no good trying to find a "bargain" in Italy. They've been handling tourists too long. In the good shops you'll find fair prices for quality goods.

Rome is also a great place for men's shirts, ties and shoes, at all of which the Italians are master creators.

Zurich is the place for those five Swiss Cs: cheese, chocolate, cutlery, cotton and clocks, if you take clocks to include watches.

Paris, of course, has everything, and is the hardest place to shop, for that very reason. If you're new to the place, and haven't much time, head for the designer name boutiques. Even if you come away with only a scarf, you'll at least have value.

Perfumes, of course, are standard in Paris, but really not lower enough in price to matter.

London is another great man's town, but avoid the custom-tailoring establishments, which don't cater to the casual tourist.

Carnaby Street is out as a mod centre; you'll do better on the King's Road, if it's swingling London fashions you're looking for.

Among best buys are Scottish sweaters, rainwear and jewelry. Yes, jewelry, English designing has an honorable history going back to the Middle Ages.

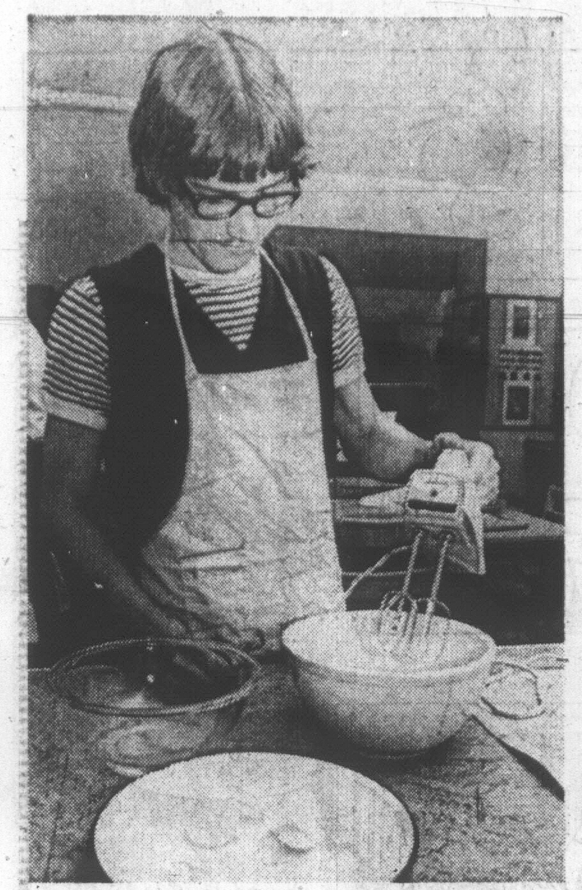
Cooking Classes Grant Equality for Boys



He isn't a butcher or a candlestick maker but the Vic High student above would be first to admit he is a baker. Actually, Keith Baker of 94 Linden Avenue claims the title in name only. He's taking a Grade 12 foods course which includes, among other elements, learning to bake. Here, he tentatively applies mixer to batter. The result should be a jelly roll. (William E. John Photo.)

By JUDI FREEMAN

When a man puts on an apron and heads for the kitchen, your first startled reaction may be a wince, followed by a rapid retreat from the scene of impending disaster.

But, if you are "startled" in this day and age, then you haven't been keeping up with the signs of equality in the Victoria school system.

Here, the traditionally-female course in cooking is peppered with enthusiastic boys.

There are 608 boys, from Grade 9 to Grade 12, taking cooking and foods courses this term in the Greater Victoria school district.

Of the more than 700 students enrolled in Foods 11, 12A and 12B, 295 are boys.

A spokesman at Victoria Senior Secondary School commented recently that the school could have filled seven cooking classes with boys last September. Unfortunately, Vic High could only handle two classes.

ENCOURAGING

Miss Muriel Johnson, school board supervisor of home economics and child care, views the male encroachment with interest and encouragement.

There has always been the prize-winning chef, the short-order cook and the cuisine dabbler—male, of course—but husbands who wanted to do the cooking were rarities.

"Today, with husband and wife both working, we think it will be increasingly necessary for the man to learn this skill," said Miss Johnson in an interview.

She pointed to the increasing enrolment of boys as part of the cause and effect of the many changes in home economics education.

Changes in family structure mean consumer knowledge, shopping and household duties are no longer the sole realm of women.

COURSE REVISED

As the boys begin to realize they will have to do their share, they often turn to a home ec course for their information. Forced to meet this new interest, educators are revising the course which in turn interests more boys.

Miss Johnson outlined the school food courses.

The Grade 9 and 10 courses are electives. If a boy chooses to take foods as an optional course, he will study basic measures, cooking tools, food handling and Canada's Food Rules.

"The object is to get the boys interested in cooking for themselves," Miss Johnson stressed. Once mystery of the kitchen range is solved, it's much easier to teach good eating habits.

At this stage, the foods classes are often segregated, depending on the experience of the girl students. Girls take a compulsory home economics course in Grade 8, which includes cooking.

This, combined with what they learn at home, gives the girls an edge and some don't appreciate being "held back" by slow boys, said Miss Johnson.

But once the boys know how to break an egg with the proper light touch and how to get it into the frypan, they rapidly catch up.

Some boys are even learning the fundamentals of camp cooking, a skill which quickly captures the interest of the outdoors type.

The Grades 11 and 12A Foods courses are "very practical," said Miss Johnson. The emphasis is on consumer education: food needs, shopping and budgeting. Cooking and meal preparation are included.

These courses are big drawing cards for the boys wanting to make a career of cooking and for those who realize they'll be leaving home soon.

CAREER COOKS

"And then, some boys are just plain interested in cooking."

Foods 12B is part of the community services program, Miss Johnson explained, and it has a commercial connotation.

This course appeals more to boys with career interest in cooking. They may go on to be cooks on boats, or at logging camps.

This term, five boys tasted the life of the professional cook when they took job training at the Empress Hotel.

Rolling up the freshly baked cake is the tricky part for Tony Lima, another of the boys in a Victoria Senior Secondary School class taught by Mrs. Margaret Martin. (William E. John photo.)

Cheery Chintz Once Banned In 17th Century England

By JEAN SHARP

TORONTO (CP) — That chintz that cheers up your bedroom windows has an ancestry that dates back at least 300 years. It got to your home partly because people on the Malay Peninsula in the 17th century wanted Indian cottons in return for their spices.

Mrs. K. B. Brett says chintzes were part of a three-way trade in which European ships carried Indian dyed and painted cotton to Malaya and Malay spices to Europe.

Eventually some of the cottons found their way to Europe also and became such a rage that they were banned in England and France for a while because they represented a threat to the textile industries there.

Mrs. Brett is curator of textiles at the Royal Ontario Museum, and co-author of The Origins of Chintz with John Irwin, keeper of the Indian section of the Victoria and Albert Museum in London.

The two museums are co-operating on a show of chintz being held at the ROM until May 28.

DESIGNS IMPROVED

Early designs have only a slight family resemblance to today's chintz. Mrs. Brett says Europeans objected that the first patterns imported were "too Indian" and too often on "sad red grounds."

They sent patterns to India to be copied for European use. Indian artists followed the patterns in outline, but added intricate, delicate designs within them.

The fabrics were used on furniture and as wall hangings, much as chintz is today. They were also used in dresses, in men's waistcoats and morning coats that were worn as lounging robes over clothes.

Mrs. K. B. Brett, curator of textiles at the Royal Ontario Museum in Toronto, displays a chintz quilt which will be part of a collection of chintz on show at the museum. The museum is co-operating with the Victoria and Albert Museum of London on the show. (CP Photo.)

Mrs. Brett says the ROM collection was donated in the 1920s by the late Harry Wearne, an English textile designer.

"It was a designer's collection and used as inspiration for his own designs."

She says clothes and fabrics survive 300 years because they are treasured, as a trousseau dress might be, or just by chance. If something was too good to throw out, there was room to store it for generations in big houses.

She says she does not know what will survive the present mass-production era, by choice or by chance.

"It is frightfully difficult to assess what should be saved when one is in the middle of an age. You never know when a fabric will be a passing thing. You don't know what are the styles that are going to be typical of an era.

"It never occurred to us to save a pair of nylons 30 years ago.

"We grabbed a couple of paper dresses, though what they'll be like in a few years, we don't know.

"We have no idea of the lasting qualities of synthetics.

"Now we feel we must have some teen-age stuff—but try to extract it from people. They think you're out of your mind."

Quilting Bee Revival Profitable Business

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK (UPI) — The quilting bee, once an occasion mostly for neighborly socializing, now has turned into a means of piecing out family income in low-income areas.

A non-profit group called Mountain Artisans, Inc., is making patchwork pay for some 300 women in seven rural West Virginia counties. Until about a year and a half ago, when this unusual project was started in a part of Appalachia, about the only recompense an expert seamstress received was pride in her handiwork and perhaps a prize at a county or state fair.

But now, everything that clears through Artisans earns the seamstress $2 an hour. Artisans produces the designs, under direction of Mrs. Samuel R. (Dorothy) Weatherford, buys the materials, pre-cut when possible, and in effect subcontracts to 13 sewing centres in the seven counties.

"If this kind of project will work in West Virginia, why not in other areas of poverty?" said Joseph Mullins, Artisans' director.

Artisans, headquartered in Charleston, W. Va., is funded through the Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO), but Mullins said the hope is that one day it can be self-sustaining.

Certainly the project has a lot going for it. There is the current revival of patchwork or the patchwork look everywhere. Paris and New York couturiers use patchwork in clothes. Decorators push it lavishly in everything from quilts to upholstery.

Gloria Vanderbilt Cooper wears it and uses it in quantity in her New York home. And Sharon Percy Rockefeller is vice-chairman of Artisans' board of directors.

Then there is the talent directly responsible for running Artisans. Knoxville-born Dorothy Weatherford is a graduate of Carnegie Mellon University in Pittsburgh and was an oil painter.

She joined Artisans after meeting Florette Angel, the organization's young, blonde director of sales and promotion, at a West Virginia state crafts fair, in Ripley.

"If anyone had told me two years ago that I'd be designing dresses, I'd have told them they were out of their minds," she recalled.

Mullins, an art major at Kansas State University and Morris Harvey College, Charleston, W. Va., had worked in the planning section of the governor's office before he took over general direction.

All three arrived in New York the other day to stage a fashion and home show for buyers and press and to stay on at the Gotham Hotel to take orders from some of the top stores around the country.

They bought patchwork evening dresses, at-home pants costumes, quilts, tablecloths, placemats, handbags, children's outfits, dolls and a color riot of pillows of all sizes.

"We're trying to put the old craft to use with new fabrics and contemporary colors," said Mrs. Weatherford, a pretty brunette mother of three.

Vancouver Oral Centre Open Soon

An oral method of training school-age children with severe hearing handicaps will be offered in September at the Vancouver Oral Centre for Deaf Children, a spokesman said recently.

Previously, the closest training school using this method had been in Portland, Oregon.

The Vancouver Oral Centre is a non-profit organization and will accept applications for students between the ages of three and 10. Information on the school and its courses can be obtained from Miss Hilda Gregory, principal, 2755 East 21st Avenue, Vancouver.

Play-Acting

OTTAWA (CP) — Dramatic play has special values for children, says the federal health department publication, Play and Playmates. Play-acting helps them to become more familiar with the world around them and enables them to express whatever anger, fear or even hate they have stored up. A parent can learn a lot about a child's feelings by the way he plays.

Plant With Jewel-Like Flowers

By HILDA BEASTALL

In spring when we have forgotten the excitement of Christmas-roses, and become quite accustomed to Lenten-roses, we are confronted with another plant reminding us of these.

Hilda

Yet so different is it in appearance that not all of us make the connection right away.

All these plants belong in the Helleborus genus. Helleborus niger is commonly called Christmas-rose; the Lenten-rose is H. orientale.

The plant coming into notice this time and reminiscent of these has long been known as Helleborus corsicus.

If you like green flowers with a jewel-like quality, set off by magnificently structured foliage, you will want this helleborus. While it will often begin blooming in February, an established clump will continue into April. New foliage made at this time is the great attraction all summer.

Unlike the others mentioned which prefer a somewhat sheltered position from wind and a bit of tree foliage dappling in summer, H. corsicus will thrive in a more open position.

The strong thick leaves, grey green and sharply spined, are equipped by their color and texture to withstand plenty of sun and wind.

The plant may grow into almost shrublike proportions, two to three feet high and as much across after several years. During this time, leaves are discarded and others grow but it can be considered as evergreen in our normal years.

The flowers are decorative too, a pale lime green similar to the nicotine called "Lime Green" introduced to gardeners five years ago.

Thick stems bear 15 to 20 round blossoms each the size of our lost 50-cent pieces. Stems are borne in succession on established plants, and in this respect H. corsicus resembles the other hellebores.

Fairly recently this species has been given a new standing in botanical nomenclature. It must now be regarded as a subspecies of Helleborus argutifolia (sharp-spined leaves) thus it is called H. argutifolia v. corsicus.

Only by making the effort to keep abreast of changes of name in horticulture can we hope to maintain authenticity for the future. This is no different to learning new words as module, space centre, capsule.

Though termed shortlived (wetness, freezing and thawing can be its ruination) this handsome hellebore sets quantities of seed which must be sown as soon as ripe for continuing plants.

KARPIN ON BRIDGE

By FRED L. KARPIN

In my opinion, today's deal is a thing of beauty. Superficially, it may appear that whatever South played from dummy on the opening lead didn't matter. But, on closer examination, it will be observed that it made all the difference in the world. The hand occurred in a rubber-bridge game.

Neither side vulnerable. South deals.

SOUTH
♠ K Q J 10 4
♡ 6 5 2
◊ A K Q
♣ 8 3

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 ♠	Pass	3 ♠	Pass
4 ♠	Pass	Pass	Pass

Opening lead: Queen of ♣.

In the actual play, declarer put up dummy's king of clubs on West's opening lead of the queen. Upon capturing the trick with his ace, East returned a club, West's nine winning. West now shifted to the eight of hearts, and the board's 10-spot was inserted, losing to East's jack. East exited with a diamond to South's queen. Eventually East made his heart king, for the setting trick.

Although he knew that dummy's king of clubs was trapped on the opening lead, declarer nevertheless should have played low from dummy. If West then led, let us say, a heart, dummy's ace would capture the trick. Trumps would be drawn next, after which declarer would cause his top diamonds, discarding the board's king of clubs on the third diamond lead. From here in, he would lose only two hearts.

If, at trick two, West continued with a club, East's ace would capture dummy's king. East would then probably lead a diamond, South's queen winning. Trumps would be drawn next.

Now the king and ace of diamonds would be played, a heart being discarded from dummy on the latter lead. At this point, both diamonds and clubs would have been eliminated from the North-South hands.

South would then lead the heart deuce and put up dummy's 10, which would be taken by East's jack. East would now be the victim of an end-play. If he returned either a club or a diamond, South would discard his five of hearts as he ruffed the trick in dummy. And if, instead, East played back a heart, dummy would have two heart winners.

By not putting up the club king at trick one, declarer would have broken the East-West had cashed two club and prevented West from leading a heart after East-West had cahsed two club tricks.

FLASHBACK ON CANADA

York Was Raided On Anniversary

By BOB BOWMAN

When Canada was divided into two provinces in 1791, John Graves Simcoe was appointed the Lieutenant Governor of Upper Canada. He had served in the American Revolutionary War and was disgusted by the treatment of the people who remained loyal to Britain. Now he was going to govern many United Empire Loyalists who came to Canada. Simcoe hated the U.S. and pledged 50,000 Indians not to leave a scalp on the head of any American they met.

Simcoe was also convinced that there would be another war between Britain and the U.S. and one of his first steps was to move the capital of Upper Canada from Newark (now Niagara-on-the Lake) because it was too close to the border.

Simcoe felt that the site of present-day London, Ontario, would be the best place for the new capital, but Lord Dorchester, Governor in Chief, insisted on Toronto. Simcoe renamed the place "York" and began building there in 1793 while he and his family lived in a huge tent that had belonged to Captain Cook when he was exploring the Pacific coast. The government actually moved from Newark to York on April 27, 1797.

Simcoe was right about Britain and the U.S. going to war again. By coincidence the Americans attacked his new capital on April 27, 1813, the anniversary of the government's move there, although Simcoe had returned to Britain in 1796. The Americans had sailed across Lake Ontario from Sackets Harbor, New York, landed near the present day Canadian National Exhibitions grounds, and quickly overcame the small British garrison. They occupied York until May 9, looting and burning public buildings. Some American soldiers are said to have found the Speaker's wig, and sent it to Washington because they thought it was a scalp; another example of British barbarity!

They also took the mace from the legislature and it was returned by President Franklin D. Roosevelt in 1934.

Other events on April 27:

1628 — Sieur Couillard, son-in-law of Louis Hebert, used first plough in Canada.

1649 — Father Bressani was tortured by Iroquois. First wheat sown in Canada.

1670 — Louis XIV of France granted Hudson Bay territory to Holland.

1763 — Indian Chief Pontiac planned campaign to recapture Canada from Britain.

1776 — Benjamin Franklin and other representatives arrived in Montreal to persuade Canadians to join war against Britain.

1792 — Captain George Vancouver sailed past Columbia River.

1831 — Steamer "Royal William" launched in Quebec.

1846 — John A. Macdonald made first speech in parliament.

1880 — Alexander Mackenzie resigned as leader of Liberal party.

1896 — Sir Mackenzie Bowell resigned as Prime Minister and leader of Conservative party.

1961 — Canada gave Sierra Leone a book credit of $5,000 when it became independent nation in British Commonwealth.

Use of Computers In Diagnosing

By DR. WALTER ALVAREZ

Today there are not enough physicians practising in the United States, and this is one reason why I keep finding in medical journals many articles on computers and their use in medicine.

The idea is that, instead of taking a long history, the doctor's assistant will give a patient a big sheet of paper listing various symptoms. The patient will write "Yes" or "No" after every one of the symptoms, telling which ones he had and which he did not have. Obviously, this technique can produce some diagnoses that the doctor might not have thought of, but also it can give some disastrously wrong diagnoses—if the one essential fact was not fed into the machine.

* * *

To illustrate: I just saw a woman who had a perfectly silent and harmless and symptomless gallstone removed surgically because that was the diagnosis that came out of the computer. Actually, what was wrong with the poor woman was that her hippie daughter had run away from home and had not since been heard from. Because the woman is much ashamed of this, she never has told any one of her doctors about it; I had to learn about it from a sister.

Sometimes the physician can make the diagnosis from a good look at the patient; he can see that the man is much too dull for his position in life. One question then asked of the man's wife, and the doctor will learn that a tremendous change in the fellow's appearance, character, good nature and ability to work came the minute he fell out of a chair, or had a brief but very frightening dizzy spell. This was obviously a little stroke.

Or the doctor may see from the man's face and stance that he has a beginning Parkinson's disease, or that he has had a stroke with some weakening of one arm. Or with one glance a wise doctor will recognize a mildly schizophrenic or a badly depressed person, or a homosexual patient. If such observations are not made, and do not get into the computer, a bad mistake very probably will be made.

* * *

What is sad is that so many patients do not tell their doctors the essential fact about their illness. Many of the depressed patients I used to see at a great clinic had wasted many thousands of dollars because they would never tell a physician that their grandfather, mother and sister were in mental hospitals.

9 IN MEMORIAM

VIGAR — In loving memory of a dear husband and father, Dudley P. Vigar, who passed away April 27, 1968.

His smiling way and pleasant face
Are a pleasure to recall,
He had a kindly word for each
And died beloved by all.
Some day we hope to meet him,
Some day we know not when,
To clasp his hand in the better land,
Never to part again.

—Lovingly remembered by his wife Maisie, sons Kenneth and Charles; step-daughters Charlene, Leslie, and Jo-Anne.

Tonight's Top Television Shows

GHOST AND MRS. MUIR: 6 p.m., Channel 2. A visiting cousin becomes suspicious that there's a male presence around Gull Cottage. Her imagination runs amok and the Captain makes matters worse with a bit of playful flirtation.

* * *

GOVERNOR AND J.J: 7:30 p.m., Channel 2. Hollywood is the locale for tonight's episode. Dashing movie star Garret Spaulding, a known "love 'em and leave 'em" type, sweeps her off her feet and straight to the movie capital.

* * *

SPECIAL. 7:30 p.m., Channel 5: "Hey, Hey, Hey — It's Fat Albert" (repeat). Amusing half-hour. Comedian Bill Cosby used the routines he'd been performing over the past decade for this special and came up with an animated version of several of his better monologues. The animation is offbeat and quite arresting and the stories of Bill's childhood, though familiar, are infinitely interesting.

* * *

IT TAKES A THIEF. 7:30 p.m., Channels 4, 8. "The Second Time Around" (repeat). Fred Astaire, in the role of Robert Wagner's debonair father, pays a return visit to the show and his presence makes the outing worthwhile. The counterfeit villains who plagued Alistair and Al Mundy some episodes ago show up again and mark father and son for death. Astaire's calculated charm and Wagner's casual style work well together.

LAUGH-IN. 8 p.m., Channel 5. (Repeat.) The beleaguered American Indian is the hero of the show. Guest James Garner dons feathers in blackouts; the Mod, Mod World pays tribute to the red man; and the Fickle Feather of Fate goes to a government officer for his services to the cause. Garner also plays a cop checking student lockers; Lily Tomlin reappears as a phone operator; and the silent majority gets equal time along with the popular Frank Farkel family.

* * *

DORIS DAY SHOW. 9:30 p.m., Channel 7. (Repeat.) Miss Day's series fans will be surprised by this outing. She dates a successful writer who hates women and her charm soon turns his copy into pap. To get the writer back on the right track, Miss Day appears as a gum-chewing, non-stop talker, and she's effective as a horror, a change from the usual sweet Doris of the series.

* * *

CAROL BURNETT SHOW. 8:30 p.m., Channel 8; 10, Channels 7 and 12. One of TV's top variety series closes down for the season with a budget-saving family edition. In a takeoff on home interior magazines, Carol and Harvey Korman lead photographer Waggoner around their unusual digs. The husband-wife team struggle over their income tax form aided by hard-to-take son and daughter, and Carol plays the ingenue who ruins a big dramatic scene for great actor Harvey Korman. On the musical side, there are two versions of "Cheek to Cheek," Carol's Charwoman routine, and a rendition of "Me and My Shadow" danced by Carol and Vicki Lawrence.

TONIGHT'S MOVIES

5:30, Channel 12: It's a Great Life (1943 comedy), Penny Singleton, Arthur Lake, Hugh Herbert. Blondie and Dagwood have a horse on their hands.

5:30, Channel 13: Loan Shark (1952 suspense), George Raft, Dorothy Hart. An ex-con smashes a vicious loan shark racket.

8:30, Channel 4: The Denver and Rio Grande (1952 western), Edmond O'Brien, Sterling Hayden. Plenty of roughhouse action in this western about two rival railroads.

8:30, Channel 13: Western Pacific Agent (1950 western), Kent Taylor, Sheila Ryan. Police follow the bloodstained trail of a young man who goes on a crime wave.

9 p.m., Channel 5: The Hell with Heroes (1968 drama), Rod Taylor, Claudia Cardinale. International intrigue in exotic Algeria.

11:30, Channel 7: Dressed to Kill (1946 mystery), Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce. When Bank of England plates are missing, Sherlock Holmes looks into the case.

11:40, Channel 2: Fort Bowie (1958 western), Ben Johnson, Jan Harrison. A jealous cavalry commander sends an officer on a suicidal mission.

12:01, Channel 6: Fun in Acapulco (1964 musical), Elvis Presley, Ursula Andress. Scenic beauty and Elvis.

1:05, Channel 5: Harriet Craig (1950 drama), Joan Crawford, Wendell Corey. Crawford plays a domineering wife, whose meanness backfires.

I'M MRS. LEE. My husband and I are resident managers of the VALENCIA. This beautiful brand new apartment is superbly located adjoining Beacon Hill Park and only two blocks from waterfront. We are close to everything, but, and this is important, our street is quiet. Of course we have wall-to-wall carpet, very excellent soundproofing, elevator, controlled entrance, free cablevision, free parking, balconies, coloured appliances and drapes. Will you come and see our spacious sparkling new suites?

"Complete Real Estate Service Across Canada"

ON VIEWING PROPERTIES
Some people feel that they are imposing on a real estate salesman if he takes them to visit a number of homes, especially if they do not see just what they want. There are two reasons why this is not correct.
In the first place, buyers seldom have a complete understanding of their real wants even though they have given a lot of thought to the problem. These ideas change as they see what is available, and this process of educating and buyer can result in greater satisfaction.
Secondly, when the salesman views the house with the buyer, he quickly learns what the buyer wants and can do a good job of finding the home to suit.
If the buyer inspects the home on his own, he will attain the first result, but not the second.
Work WITH your salesman so he can do a good job for you.

ADD DIMENSION TO YOUR LIVING!! EXPANSIVE SEA VIEWS!!
And expansive views of mountains and sky, through the lavish use of glass in all seven rooms. Beamed ceilings in all rooms of this 3-bedroom Post and Beam home, give an airy feeling to the 1530 sq. ft. Wall-to-wall carpeting lends warmth underfoot. Clever use of latticed dividers between living and dining rooms, extend light from the glass wall of both. Long, long used brick fireplace is flanked by clerestory windows and highlighted by rich panelling on wall beside. Designer kitchen, features suspended cabinets, serving and breakfast bar, and built-in range and oven. Next to this is the family room — with hidden wall storage .. Both the 4-pce. and 3-pce. bathrooms are tiled in mosaic on walls, floors, and one of the vanity counters. Tiered Japanese garden with two patios and an expanse of forested area. Large double carport. Asking $43,900 with excellent low interest rate mortgage. A pleasure to show this home.

GORDON HEAD SPLIT LEVEL THE GREAT INDOORS
Is the only way to describe this beautiful 4-BEDROOM home, of 1500 sq. ft. possibly it's the plush wall-to-wall that gives the feeling of the great indoors — or maybe its the Master bedroom — 19'x11' — a private retreat with 11 feet of closet space! Then it could be the beauty of natural glowing woods which are featured in every room. Probably a combination of everything! Kitchen with eating area features smashing wallpaper. Utility area down is a womans' dream — of panelling and arborite work counters and 2-pce. vanity bath. Also, a 23'x11' rumpus room. Walled garden patio and fully landscaped yard. An exceptionally great buy for $34,900.

Bertrand Blasts Vote Polls

ST. JEROME, Que. (CP) — Premier Jean-Jacques Bertrand Sunday night blasted three Montreal newspapers and the influence of Power Corp. of Canada Ltd. for election polls placing his Union Nationale party a distant third.

Bertrand accused the three newspapers—one French-language and two English-language publications—of distorting the election picture "because they are anti-Quebecers."

"There is an evil conspiracy between the English financial circles of Toronto and Montreal to gain control of Quebec by backing the Liberal party," the 53-year-old government leader said in a campaign speech for Wednesday's Quebec general election.

He told a meeting in this community 30 miles north of Montreal that La Presse, The Gazette and The Star published recent polls "to protect their egotistic financial interests."

"The three newspapers published polls saying the Liberals would gain power Wednesday ....but it would be interesting to see who ordered these so-called polls."

Bertrand said that La Presse is part of Power Corp.'s financial circle and he named a number of its officers whom he says are in the election sphere of influence:

—Peter Nesbitt Thomson, deputy chairman and principal shareholder, "who was former treasurer of the provincial Liberal party and now is involved with organizing the party's election fund."

—Claude Frenette, a company vice-president "who is one of Prime Minister Trudeau's advisers and also president of the federal section of the Quebec Liberal Association."

—Paul Martin Jr., son of the former external affairs minister, Paul Martin, who now is Senate leader and an influential Liberal.

—Claude Brunneau, "brother-in-law of Trudeau's cabinet chief."

—Jean Simard, cousin of Liberal leader Robert Bourassa.

"With such a stacked deck, is there any wonder that La Presse published a poll favoring the Liberals?"

Report Release Set

BOSTON (AP) — The office of the chief justice of the Massachusetts Superior Court said today he plans to make public Wednesday the transcript and judge's report on the secret inquest into the death of Mary Jo Kopechne.

40,000 At Rock Festival

POYNETTE, Wis. (AP) — Some of the girls and boys stripped naked and waded in a creek. A vacant farm house burned down. More than 150 persons were treated for minor injuries or misuse of drugs.

But, said Sheriff Vernon Golz, "for the most part they've been very good."

Weekend attendance at the Poynette rock music festival was estimated at 20,000 Saturday and more than 20,000 Sunday. The crowd paid up to $12 a head for camping, picnics, sunbathing and amplified music by about 40 rock groups.

Golz said the fire which burned the empty house apparently broke out accidentally in a festival patron's parked car.

He added that there were fewer arrests than expected. "We took only about 15 into custody."

POLICE IN BACKGROUND

Golz said co-operation among patrons, festival sponsors and law enforcement patrols was excellent, partly because police stayed in the background as much as possible.

Deputies did not interfere when about 50 young persons shed their clothes to cool off in the creek as Sunday temperatures climbed to the high 70s.

Columbia County officials had tried unsuccessfully last week to get an injunction against the festival. After being rejected at two sites in neighbouring Dane County, promoters obtained a $5,000 lease for the Poynette farm of Irene York, 79, a great-grandmother.

Golz said patrons organized volunteer corps to collect debris, dug holes to bury litter, helped firemen fight grass fires, and used a loudspeaker system to broadcast warnings about drugs being circulated among the crowd.

Jobless Warn Of Struggle

VANCOUVER (CP)— spokesman for the unemployed in Vancouver warned Sunday that the poor will struggle and die if necessary to change their living conditions.

Alec Bonde, secretary of the Unemployed Citizens Welfare Council, told more than 1,000 delegates to the opening session of the Child Welfare League of America convention that poor people are constantly victimized by government, courts, police and other self-appointed watchdogs.

Mr. Bonde said politicians like British Columbia Welfare Minister Phil Gaglardi confused the situation by ranting about deadbeats on welfare.

He said in the past year only 47 unemployed were found guilty of fraud out of a total 91,000 people on welfare. The ratio, he said, is lower than for any profession, especially politicians.

Clash Over Movie

OSLO (Reuters) — Police fired tear gas at left-wing demonstrators who tried to stop a showing of the John Wayne movie The Green Berets Sunday night in Elverum, 75 miles north east of the Norwegian capital. Two demonstrators were taken to hospital and seven were arrested furing the clashes, some inside the theatre. The protesters said the Vietnam war film was American war propaganda.

Publisher Against Media Monopoly

OTTAWA (CP) — No single group should be allowed to control all information media sources in a given region, publisher Gabriel Gilbert of Le Soleil in Quebec City says in a brief to the special Senate committee on mass media.

"We have always avoided involvement of any kind with the radio or television stations of our region of Quebec," the brief said.

"This in our opinion was one way of ensuring our readers multiple access to the information they are interested in."

At the same time, there is no reason to "take fright" at mergers and groups, said Le Soleil. Various pool arrangements over such things as financial resources and means of production could be a guarantee of survival for small and medium-sized newspaper enterprises.

The same held true for radio and television if it was to make progress independent of the written press.

Press enterprises were capable of managing alone without state intervention. It would be an "unacceptable intrusion" for government to interfere through grants or special tax treatment to help a few newspapers in financial difficulty.

It was important to avoid takeover of Canadian press institutions by foreigners. Also, Le Soleil supported the establishment of regional press councils to hear citizen grievances against the press.

Le Soleil said it shares "the fear of most Canadian newspaper publishers of government, no matter how well-meaning, trying to control the news.

"Let us remember the fable that the worst arrangement is still better than the best trial."

Bridge of Wool

DEAL, England (AP) — Carolyn Lazarus, 22, said the 500 foot-long wool scarf she was knitting for Beatle John Lennon had been stolen but she planned to start another. She said she was a fan of Lennon's peace campaign and figured he and his wife Yoko Ono could stretch the scarf "across the no man's land between Russia and China."

Stripper Gypsy Rose Lee Dies in Hospital at 56

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Gypsy Rose Lee, 56, famed striptease performer and long time "queen of burlesque" who became an author, stage and screen actress, died Sunday of cancer.

Death came at the University of California Medical Centre here where she was admitted a few days ago.

She was a seasoned vaudeville performer when she made her New York debut as a stripper at Minsky's while still in her teens.

Her first big break was in the Ziegfeld Follies of 1937, where she climaxed her nightly performance by tossing her garter into the orchestra pit. At the New York World's Fair of 1939, she earned as much as $4,000 a week.

Miss Lee later became a writer of novels, in the first of which, The G-String Murder, a stripper is strangled with her own G-string.

USED REAL NAME

She also turned actress in summer and winter stock and in movies. In her first film, in 1938, she was billed by her real name, Louise Hovick

Thrice married, she was the sister of actress June Havoc.

In 1966, Miss Lee began her own syndicated television talk show, commuting to a San Francisco studio by plane from her home in Beverly Hills.

In her stripping days the shapely Gypsy once said: "Bare flesh bores men. . . .

"I never try to stir up the animal in 'em. Did you ever hold a piece of candy or a toy in front of a baby—just out of his reach? Notice how he laughs? That's your strip audience."

Gypsy was first married in 1937 in a water-taxi off Santa Monica, to Robert Mizzy, a dental-supply manufacturer. She had a son, Eric, by her second marriage, in 1942, to actor-producer Alexander Kirkland.

Her third marriage, to artist Julio de Diego, ended in divorce in 1955 and Gypsy declared, "No more husbands for me."

In 1965, Miss Lee had some glamorous pin-up photos made and sent a set to son Eric, serving in Europe with the U.S. Army. He wrote her:

"Dear Mom I pasted your new photos in my locker, but my commanding officer made me take them all down. . . . I kept telling him, 'But, sir, these are pictures of my mother.' It did no good."

Said Gypsy: "I could kiss that officer. I've never had such a compliment. And I'm old enough now to really appreciate it."

FAMOUS STRIPPER Gypsy Rose Lee, star of burlesque as well as stage and screen actress, died Sunday of cancer at the University of California Medical Centre. Shown in characteristic pose, Miss Lee made her break into show business with the Ziegfeld Follies in New York and was the author of two novels and a play.

Educational Television Discovers New Leader

By BOB THOMAS

NEW YORK (AP) To those interested in presenting better television entertainment for children, this has been the season of Open Sesame.

Nothing has hit the field of children's programming in the United States with the impact of Sesame Street, the highly original show for pre-schoolers that has been the biggest hit of the U.S. educational television network. It combines animation and live action to teach the alphabet and other basics.

"Because of its success, producers now have a much better chance of selling quality shows to the networks," says Norman Prescott, head of the Filmation production company.

"Before Sesame Street, there wasn't a chance of interesting the networks in anything beside pure entertainment. I know, because I tried."

Filmation is a new giant in the animation field. Founded in 1965 by Prescott, Lou Scheimer and Hal Sutherland, the company grew so fast that it was wooed for a merger by several acquisitive corporations. Filmation chose to align with Teleprompter because of the promise it held in future cable television.

PROGRAMS CHANGED

The quick rise of Filmation was due to the fast expansion and rapid change of television programming for Saturday morning.

"Saturday morning programming was a hit-and-miss affair until about four years ago," Prescott said. "It had been the garbage pail of the networks, anything swept off the network nighttime might be dropped in Saturday morning.

"Then about 1965, CBS became conscious of the fact that from 9½ to 10 per cent of its total revenue from television programming was coming from Saturday morning—about $45,000,000.

That's when CBS became more aggressive in shows for kids and the other networks followed suit. Alas, in the battle for ratings the shows became more and more violent.

With the killings of Martin Luther King Jr. and Robert F. Kennedy and the revulsion against violence which swept the U.S., the networks scrambled to tone down the violence.

Next season Filmation will have two other shows on the networks. The Jerry Lewis Show, an animated version of the comic, and Sabrina and the Groovie Goolies, starring a covey of monsters.

While the shows are non-violent, they're not exactly educational.

"We've tried to interest the networks in shows that might inform children," said Scheimer. "So far we haven't had any luck."

The Filmation people hope that the Sesame Street success will help convince the network bosses that children's shows can be informative as well as fun.

STAR FINED $130 ON POT CHARGE

UXBRIDGE, England (AP) — Movie star Tony Curtis, who quit smoking tobacco several years ago, was fined £50 ($130) today for bringing marijuana into England.

The 44-year-old actor arrived at the Uxbridge magistrate's court in a maroon Bentley limousine, but his lawyer asked for time to raise the fine.

"You must not think that because Mr. Curtis is a leading international film star that he has plenty of money available," the lawyer told the court. "He, like any other member of his profession, has enormous taxes to pay which can create financial problems for him."

The three magistrates gave Curtis a week to raise the money.

The fine was half the amount levied by a British court in February against Italian movie director Michelangelo Antonioni, on the same charge. The maximum penalty is 10 years in jail or a £1,000 fine, but British judges often are lenient in marijuana cases.

PLEADS GUILTY

Curtis pleaded guilty to the charge.

He was searched and arrested when he arrived with his wife at London Airport Sunday from New York to make a TV adventure series with Roger Moore, star of The Saint. Curtis recently signed a $12,000,000 contract for the program.

British newspapers noted that Curtis campaigned here last year against cigarette smoking.

In the United States, he started an anti-tobacco campaign among co-workers, formed an organizaion called Smokers Anonymous and made anti-cigarette commercials for television.

Marriage Decay Theme of Film

By PETER McNELLY
A Review

Canadian director Allan King took a small crew into the home of Billy and Antoinette Edwards of Toronto for ten weeks in 1968 and filmed their decaying marriage.

The result is A Married Couple, a gruelling study of marital combat, showing at the Coronet Theatre. The camera takes a ringside seat and records every punch. Billy and Antoinette bitch and fly at each other like wet cats.

Sometimes they try to have fun or patch things up, but their hearts aren't in it. They are most convincing when they hate.

KNEW ABOUT FILM

Billy and Antoinette really exist and they knew they were being filmed. Now what would you do if you knew someone was making a movie about your broken-down marriage? My guess would be to try to come out best, to vindicate yourself before the camera as though its impartiality would judge correctly.

In a sense, Billy and Antoinette do this. Their fighting has a professional, no nonsense quality which real-life arguing usually bungles with emotion.

But their playing to the camera does not make much difference. After all, this is a movie about a marriage, not the real thing. Further, it is impossible to determine how characteristic the selected footage is of the full 70 hours King shot.

Since no one can know how much of the film was conditioned by the crew's presence in the house, Billy's and Antoinette's relationship to the camera is irrelevant.

They are tough, cruel, sad and convincing.

By letting his characters play themselves, King deliberately diminishes his steering function as director. The movie turns on the characters' honesty, and King gets it.

King's technique of non-direction is not original, though it works. Andy Warhol began experimenting with it in the mid-1960s, filming such routine acts as eating, sleeping, kissing of getting a haricut. His later Chelsea Girls is a technical equivalent to A Married Couple, though not as interesting.

The obvious question, "why care about these people?" is answered by the energy they expend fighting each other. Billy and Antoinette drive you into their lives by the force of personality. They really care about what is fouling up their marriage, otherwise they wouldn't fight so hard.

Billy's demands are uncompromising and thankless. Antoinette's desires are frivolous and expensive. Each knows how to manipulate the other's weaknesses.

"What we don't know is whether we really hate one another or not," Billy says at one point.

A Married Couple tries to find out: but its inconclusive ending suggests that Billy and Antoinette, like the characters in No Exit, will go on grating each other's nerves and soul without relief or change.

A vivid and deadly serious movie where a struggle for power has eroded love.

12 ARRESTED AT HAIR CELEBRATION

NEW YORK (AP) — The rock musical Hair celebrated its second birthday Sunday with a swinging party that ended with 12 persons arrested including the show's co-author, James Rado.

Those arrested, except Rado, were described as gate crashers and were charged with criminal trespass, harassment and possession of narcotics.

Rado said they invaded the party at the fashionable Four Seasons restaurant to demand that Hair's amanagement give money to the "the hippie culture."

The writer said he was picked up when he went into the street to discuss these demands.

Only Way to Go

ROME (AP) — The traditional sendoff for the dead rich of Rome — gold-trimmed carriages slowly drawn by caparisoned horses, coachmen with black Napoleon hats, the elegant works — has been ruled out by the city because of increasing traffic jams. The three legal classes of funerals have been reduced to one, with no more than $32 allowed for the hearse and it must be a motor car.

'Firm Eliminating Mercury Dangers'

VANCOUVER (CP)—Fisheries Minister Jack Davis has said the upper reaches of Howe Sound could be re-opened to sports fishermen by the end of this week, and that F. M. C. Chemicals Ltd. is "co-operating to the fullest" in a three-step plan to eliminate mercury pollution in the area.

Davis ordered the top six miles of the 30-mile salt water sound, just north of Vancouver, closed last Wednesday after traces of mercury were found in water leaving the F.M.C. plant at Squamish, at the head of the sound.

The closure affected only sports fishermen, since the entire sound is out-of-bounds to commercial boats. Salmon and char are the main catches.

After meeting Saturday with executives of the F.M.C company, Davis said mercury content of effluent from the plant already has been cut 50 per cent by treatment with sulphide.

Securities Flow Out of Quebec

Bourassa Hits Grit Newsletter

DEUX-MONTAGNES, Que. (CP) — Liberal Leader Robert Bourassa Sunday night described as "inopportune, awkward, unjustified" the news letter published by the Quebec section of the Liberal party of Canada.

Bourassa criticized the document of the federal Liberals at a meeting of nearly 1,000 in this city north of Montreal in Deux-Montagnes riding, held by the Liberals in the last legislature.

The newsletter, published with the Quebec general elections to be held Wednesday, maintains that Queebc received at least $545,700,000 more from Ottawa in 1968-69 than Quebecers paid in federal taxes.

Throughout the weekend, the newsletter was attacked by Premier Jean-Jacques Bertrand and separatist Leader Rene Levesque, who have been describing Bourassa as a provincial puppet manipulated by Prime Minister Trudeau's federal Liberals.

Trudeau in Ottawa described as "unfounded" Premier Bertrand's accusation that the federal government is intervening in the election.

Trudeau said in a statement "these pamphlets are published under the wole reponsibility of the federal Liberal party."

"These pamphlets are not previously authorized or censored by the federal government or the prime minister in particular, as it should be the case in a truly democratic party.

"So far, the federal government has not intervened in Quebec's general election campaign." And it had no intention of doing so, "in spite of provocation from certain provincial politicians."

FLAYS FEDERALISTS

In the first five of seven meetings Sunday, Bourassa dismissed the newsletter as a "propaganda sheet." But when he got here, he opened up to attack the newsletter as "inopportune, awkward and unjustified."

The publication of the newsletter by the federal Liberals infuriated Bourassa's campaign staff who describe it as a gaff by the Trudeau Liberals at a crucial stage of the Quebec campaign.

Bourassa aides say the newsletter furnished their opponents with electoral ammunition.

One Bourassa aide said: "The feds are maniacs, they're going to pay for their sins."

Bourassa told the Deux-Montagnes crowd that he is "profoundly unsatisfied" with the way federalism has been working for Quebec province and he was especially concerned about the high unemployment rate.

At Laval, in Liberal-held Fabre riding later Sunday night, Bourassa repeated his criticism of the newsletter

Transfer Made At Dawn

TORONTO (CP)— Canada's largest trust company, bowing to the wishes of what it called "skittish" investors, has transferred an undisclosed amount of securities to Toronto from Montreal.

The dawn transfer by the Royal Trust Co.—carried out by nine armored trucks Sunday—was made at the request of customers pending the outcome of Wednesday's Quebec general election.

J. W. R. Seatle, vice-president of Royal Trust, which has assets of $10,008,454,000 under administration said in Montreal no company-owned securities were transferred. He said he regretted the move by "skittish" investors "because it is creating the idea of flight of capital."

J. A. Worsley, Ontario manager of Royal Trust, would say only that the securities arrived Sunday afternoon. He would not disclose their value or location except to say they are being kept in Toronto because "it is the logical place."

The convey, of armored trucks left Montreal early Sunday and were met by a fleet from Toronto in Kingston, Ont.

SHOTGUNS

About 30 Brinks guards were on hand—some armed with shotguns—as the trucks lined up outside the Kingston police station and the boxes of securities were transferred one by one.

In Ottawa, spokesmen for several banks said the transfer of securities to Ottawa banks had been going on for the last month and the demand for safety deposit boxes was heavy.

An official of the Royal Trust branch said the flow had been increasing over the last couple of weeks. He said it was mostly securities, but there was some cash. He stressed that it was individuals making the transfers and not the company.

A check with some other major companies in Montreal showed that at least one, the investment firm of Nesbitt Thomson and Co., had been asked by clients to transfer margin stocks but the company had refused to do so.

The Royal Trust move followed recent suggestions that the rise of separatist feeling in Quebec would lead to a flight of capital from that province.

Commenting in Montreal on the Royal Trust action, Vernon Marquez, president of Northern Electric Co., said it would not achieve anything. But "at times like this, people would rather be safe than sorry."

CALLS IT RIDICULOUS

Fred R. Kearns, president of Canadair Ltd., the aircraft manufacturers, said the move was ridiculous.

"We are quite happy with our securities in the province and have no thought of moving out."

Frank Case, chairman of the Montreal Trust Co., said his company had made "a negligible amount of transfers, if any."

Sihanouk Named Chief Of Red Cambodia Area

TIMES News Services

Prince Norodom Sihanouk is reportedly preparing to establish a provisional government in the Communist-held area of northeast Cambodia, following a jungle summit conference on the weekend with North Vietnamese, Pathet Lao and Viet Cong leaders.

Sihanouk, ousted from the Cambodian leadership last month by a right-wing anti-Communist bloc lead by Gen. Lon Nol, apparently has been pledged strong backing by Communist forces in his bid to return to power.

Today he was joined by leaders of North Vietnam, the Pathet Lao and the Viet Cong in a call for defeat of the United States, South Vietnam, the present Cambodian regime and Laos.

FIGHTING UP

Meanwhile, the intensity of fighting inside Cambodia increased today as the government rushed reinforcements into the Takeo-Angtassom area south of Phnom Penh to try to stem a Communist advance on the capital.

Viet Cong units have again entered the town of Angtassom, 40 miles south of the capital, cutting Phnom Penh's lifeline to the sea, a government spokesman said today.

Takeo, a major road junction six miles east of Angtassom, apparently remains in government hands.

TROOPS TO MOVE

Military sources in the capital say at least several thousand troops will shortly begin moving into that area to attempt to reopen the country's communications, primarily road and rail lines linking Phnom Penh with the big port of Sihanoukville, now renamed Kompong Som.

Western diplomats in Vientiane, the Laotian capital, said the North Vietnamese air force would fly Sihanouk to northeast Cambodia within a week to establish his provisional administration.

The Viet Cong radio said the deposed Cambodian chief of state met on the Vietnamese-Laotian border Friday and Saturday with North Vietnamese Premier Pham Van Dong, Prince Souphanouvong, leader of the pro-Communist Pathet Lao movement in Laos, and Nguyen Huu Tho, head of the National Liberation Front, political arm of the Viet Cong.

The four leaders appealed to all Indochinese people "to increase their unity and push ahead with the struggle against the common enemy, which is the U.S. imperialists and their henchmen" in Saigon, Phnom Penh and Vientiane.

UNLOAD EQUIPMENT

A U.S. Air Force C-130 flew into Phnom Penh International Airport today and unloaded cases which American officials said contained communications equipment for the U.S. embassy in the Cambodian capital.

Sources said the plane and its American crew came from the Philippines carrying electronic equipment including a large generator.

The new equipment will allow the embassy to receive diplomatic cables directly from Saigon and Laos. Up to now, U.S. embassy communications had to use the government telecommunications office.

At a news conference in Dartmouth, Mass., Sunday, Senator J. W. Fulbright, chairman of the Senate foreign relations committee, said he fears the United States

RUSSIANS SILENT ON CHINA

Times News Services

HONG KONG — The Soviet Union and its Communist allies today remained silent on China's launching Friday of its first earth satellite.

North Vietnam, North Korea and Albania however, hailed the launching.

China, in a news broadcast today, said its satellite has "greatly strengthened the militancy of the Chinese people and of the revolutionary people of the world."

It also said Peking's first space achievement has "deflated the arrogance of imperialism, modern revisionism and all reaction" — meaning the United States, the Soviet Union and others who don't agree with Chinese leaders.

GYPSY ROSE DIES AT 56

LOS ANGELES — Gypsy Rose Lee, long-time star of burlesque, stage and screen, died here Sunday at the age of 56.

Miss Lee, former star of Ziegfeld Follies and Minsky's, had entered the University of California Medical Centre only a few days before her death. See story on Page 33.

Housing 'Emergency'

OTTAWA (CP) — The housing committee of the Canadian Welfare Council said today it views the current housing situation as "continuing to be an emergency" for low-income people and a serious problem for middle-income Canadians.

Stock Prices Erode Markets

Major North American stock markets today reported price declines before the close, with New York off sharply.

Advances were outnumbered 2-1 by losses on Wall Street, while at Toronto prices were off and volume was 1.2 million against 1.5 million at that time Friday.

Single Rocket Used To Orbit 8 Satellites

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union announced today the launching of eight unmanned satellites on a single carrier—the largest experiment reported in the Cosmos program.

An official announcement gave no clue to the purpose of the complex space shot.

The spacecraft, numbered Cosmos 336 through Cosmos 343, were launched Saturday and were "equipped with scientific apparatus designed for space research," the announcement said.

★ ★ ★

"The equipment aboard the satellites is functioning normally," it added.

Normally launchings in the Cosmos program are announced only in the most general terms, and details of their work are not revealed.

The Soviet satellites apparently were orbiting in a bunch, with a high point of 932 miles, a low point of 869 miles and an angle to the equator of 74 degrees.

LEVESQUE HINTS DEAL

Times News Services

CHICOUTIMI, Que.—Separatist leader Rene Levesque hinted Sunday night he would like to merge his forces with the Creditistes after Wednesday's Quebec election.

Some polls indicate a second-place finish for Levesque's Parti Quebecois behind the Liberals.

Levesque told a rally aid to the poor and removal of slums would be top priority if he formed a government. He did not mention secession in his list of top priorities.

Meanwhile, other parties continued to make Levesque their main target; Union Nationale Justice Minister Remi Paul called him "the Fidel Castro of Quebec."

'We're Fighting NWL Takeover'

By BRUCE YEMEN

Einar Gunderson, Social Credit party fund-raiser and a director of NWL Financial Corp. of Vancouver, said today he has no idea why a Bahamas-based firm is buying into the company.

Speaking from his office at B.C. Hydro and Power Authority in Vancouver, Gunderson confirmed he is fighting any possible takeover of NWL by the Residential Resort Development Co. of Freeport, Bahamas.

Gunderson, one-time B.C. finance minister, is an executive director of Hydro, a crown corporation.

WON'T DISCUSS MOTIVE

"I want to keep as many companies as possible with head offices here in B.C." Gunderson said, declining to comment on the possible motive of the Bahamian firm in buying into NWL.

Opposition Leader Dave Barrett said Thursday that Residential Resort was a "sister company" of Benguet Consolidated Corp. Benguet has been declared unacceptable in B.C. by Attorney-General Leslie Peterson.

Barrett raised the possibility that an attempt was being made to set up a "front" company to take over from Benguet in the Cypress Bowl development in West Vancouver.

Peterson denied Friday that Benguet was involved in the takeover bid and said it was unfortunate that Barrett had linked Gunderson to that firm

KILLER WHALES DIE IN ALASKA OIL SPILL

ANCHORAGE (AP) — Whales, seals and "tens of thousands" of birds are dead from what officials fear is an extremely lethal oil spill along the Alaska Peninsula.

"The sheen of oil is some ten miles wide and may be more than 100 miles long," said Ray Morris, chief of the Federal Water Quality Administration's oil pollution branch here.

"We won't know, until we've done extensive testing, that the spill caused the deaths. What we do know is that tens of thousands of birds are dead, as are at least two killer whales, more than 400 hair seals, and sea lions, sea otters and other wild life," Morris said.

"About 40 of the birds have been sacked and are on their way for examination. All of them are coated with a fine oil — something like diesel."

Morris said dead wildlife has been reported over 350 miles of Southwest Alaska coastline, from Unimak Island northeast to Egegik.

"What is incredible to us is the toxic effect of this oil, if it is the oil that has caused the deaths. Killer whales aren't that easy to kill," he said.

In Quebec we're approachin' the moment o' truth, which may not be recognizable.

Ottawa to Probe Tin Price Increases

OTTAWA (CP) — An immediate review into an increase in the price of tin containers was announced today by the federal prices and incomes commission.

It said that American Can of Canada Ltd. and Continental Can Co. of Canada Ltd. have informed customers that prices for tin containers have been increased approximately five per cent.

Higher costs for tin plate as well as other cost factors were cited by the firms, the major producers of tin cans used mainly in the food processing and the beverage industries.

"The purpose of the review is to determine whether the price increase is clearly less than the amount needed to cover the increases in each producer's costs in 1970," the statement said.

GETTING WIRED up to blast B.C. Hydro, Pat Godyre of Munns Road holds the loudspeaker, Saanich Ald. Leslie Passmore holds the stand and Arthur Potter gets ready to plug it in before the Sunday rally in Hampton Park where Godyre continued his bid to save his and four other homes from expropriation and the campaign against overhead Hydro lines was continued. (William E. John photo).

He's Getting 'Clobbered' By Hydro Says Homeowner

Pat Codyre is afraid of the power and authority of B.C. Hydro—and he is not alone.

Codyre, 69, is one of five homeowners on Munn Road whose homes will be expropriated if Hydro goes through with plans to install overhead transmission lines in the Interurban-Burnside Road area.

Sunday, he organized a protest rally in Hampton Park, and despite the morning's threatening weather, about 200 people came out to lend their support.

LETTERS TO BENNETT

He told his audience that he has written a letter to B.C. Hydro chairman Dr. Gordon Shrum, two to Premier Bennett, and has sent a telegram to the premier, but so far has had no reply to any of them.

"Back in the days when the old B.C. Electric Company received its charter, you were allowed to wear a gun on each hip. The only difference betweeen then and now is that Hydro forgot to take the guns off and is clobbering the people with them.

"I am not the only one getting clobbered and I have no power to defend myself."

VISUAL POLLUTION

Paul Roth, of the Society for Pollution and Environmental Control, said the issue is not only one of people's civil rights being violated, but also one of visual pollution.

He said Hydro has not researched all means of putting the lines underground, and added that people must be willing to pay for a quality environment.

Oak Bay Mayor Frances Elford lent her support to the protest, saying: "I am not here because the lines are coming to the borders of Oak Bay, but as a concerned citizen of greater Victoria."

Jim Gorst of the Portage Inlet and Gorge Waterway Association, called the provincial government and B.C. Hydro "bureaucratic" and said "We are being 'Shrummed' out of our environment."

"The residents of Munn Road have brought this issue to the forefront of public opinions and there will be more Munn Roads if this thing goes on."

"For every one of you standing here now," he said, "there are a thousand quietly supporting you."

Codyre presented a letter to Saanich Ald. Leslie Passmore, and asked him, in his capacity as acting mayor to present it to council.

PROTECTION

The letter asked that five Munn Road families be placed under the protection of Saanich Muncicipality to prevent Hydro from using force to seize the property.

Passmore said consultations with the Saanich solicitor recently proved that there was no way the municipality can legally stop Hydro from expropriating the land.

Codyre then read aloud a resolution asking that Hydro be "forced" to put future transmission lines on Vancouver Island underground. His proposition, a very expensive one according to B.C. Hydro, received a solid round of applause.

Physicians Meeting At Empress

Family physicians in B.C. are meeting today, Tuesday and Wednesday at the Empress Hotel.

During these days they will hear, among other things, addresses on death, creativity, the pill, learning disorders.

The meeting is sponsored by general practitioners in the B.C. Medical Association and by the B.C. chapter of the College of Family Physicians.

Progressive Care New Track For Hospitals' Patient Treatment

By DON VIPOND

Despite budget and building problems, Greater Victoria's two big public hospitals are gradually shifting to a new track in patient treatment.

It's called "progressive care" and while it's a new development locally, the basic idea is at least as old at Florence Nightingale, says Dr. A. C. Pickles, executive director at Royal Jubilee Hospital.

Briefly, it's a system of grouping patients according to the severity of their illness while at the same time arranging the big hospitals' massive, complex and expensive facilities — labs, monitors, surgeries, x-rays, pharmacies and others — to best serve these groups.

"Nursing has always placed the most seriously ill patient nearest the nursing station," says Pickles. "As the patients improved they went further down the big open army wards.

That's the idea of progressive care coming into the local hospitals but in an infinitely more involved setting than Florence Nightingale's wards. Today's big hospital has something of the aura of Grand Central Station — a constant stream of people flowing in and out while a bewildering variety of treatments are under way within.

In two words, progressive care aims at more efficiency. This means money saved and lack of money is the big problem in the hospital field at the moment.

The irony in the situation at Jubilee and St. Joseph's Hospital is that their plans for more efficiency require that money be spent first. Money from the provincial government is so hard to come by the economies are being delaryed.

FIVE GROUPS

Under the progressive care system, patients are divided into five distinct groups:

● Intensive care — these are just the handful of patients in any hospital who are critically ill, in danger of dying, perhaps after a severe heart attachk or a car crash.

The tiny intensive care units are jammed with the best of everything, the most elaborate monitors, the most qualified nurses. They are extremely expensive to operate in relation to the number of patients they serve.

● Acute care — the vast majority of hospital beds are geared to this category. The patients who occupy them may have had surgery, broken bones, any of the multitude of illnesses or injuries which take people to hospital.

Each acute care bed has oxygen and suction as standard equipment. A small army of staff — nurses, technicians, cooks and cleaners — are needed to keep the operation rolling.

● Self-care or sub-acute or convalescent — this type of bed odesn't exist at the two major hospitals yet but soon will.

LESS NEED

As acute care patients begin to mend, they no longer need many of the expensive services they did initially. They could be cared for in much more economical quarters.

The self-care patient, still aching perhaps, is able to get up and around. He can go to the cafeteria for his meals and to a nursing station to pick up his own medicine. He doesn't need oxygen and suction beside his bed.

In contrast to the acute care patient, the hospital's cost to take care of him can be more than cut in half.

● Day care or out-patient or ambulatory care — these patients arrive at and depart from the hospital the same day. They are in hospital only a matter of hours for surgery or diagnostic tests under anaesthesia.

Anaesthetics which don't leave a patient feeling sick are one of the big advances which make day care a rapidly expanding and economical form of hospital treatment. Jubilee has the most advanced program in the province.

● Extended care — most of these patients are elderly, bed-ridden and with long-term illnesses which require round-the-clock nursing rather than a doctor's constant attention.

There are no extended care beds at Jubilee or St. Joseph's now but there are extended care patients occupying the more expensive acute care beds. Plans call for building extended care beds at both hospitals.

BEYOND HOSPITAL

The idea of progressive care actually reaches beyond the hospital — to convalescents getting back on their feet at home, to ailing people at home who need help before they come into hospital and to those who, if they could get some assistance at home, wouldn't need to enter a hospital at all.

This is the closely allied field of home care, where help goes to the patient rather than him coming to the help. Half a dozen agencies in Greater Victoria have recently allied themselves to co-ordinate home care services — such things as nurses' visits to give injections or change dressings; meals on wheels, house-keeping assistance.

Home care programs will likely expand rapidly as a sound and economical means of trimming hospital admissions. Where people aren't all that ill, it's far cheaper to care for them in their homes and most prefer it to hospital.

Construction Stalls As Cement Closure Increases Pressure

Major local construction has all but come to a stop—partly as a result of closure Friday and today of two large cement plants.

Contractors participating in the province-wide construction lock-out earlier predicted lack of demand for concrete and subsequent closure of plants would halt all construction on the Island.

A spokesman for Poole Construction said today that work on the Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce on Douglas is limited to clean-up, and that will be finished with three days.

Work on the Saanich swimming pool (E. J. Hunter) and the city swimming complex (H. E. Fowler) has also halted.

THREE CARPENTERS

Three carpenters were reported working on the biological sciences building at the University of Victoria. A spokesman for Farmer Construction said concrete work had stopped prior to closure of the cement plants because there were no laborers.

Glendale Hospital, another Farmer contract, was reported finished. Carpenters and electricians were busy at Dominion Construction's site at Hillside Shopping Centre.

NO SUPPLIES

Concrete producers said they were closing because they could not get supplies from Vancouver despite local demand.

Ocean Cement shut down Friday and Butler-Lafarge was to close at 4 p.m. today.

Two smaller plants — Columbia Ready-Mix and Trio Ready-Mix — said they will close sometime this week.

Ed Phillips, manager of the Amalgamated Construction Association, and spokesman for the newly-formed Construction Labor Relations Association, today discounted a report that the 1,000-member Plumbers, Pipefitters and Steamfitters Union is about to reach a contract agreement with 120 independen contractors.

MOSTLY UNION

Phillips said the number of non-CLRA contractors was closer to nine, and they are mostly union members who have gone into business during the last few weeks.

In Vancouver Sunday union members voted 90 per cent in favor of accepting a contract proposal which provides a 19.8 per cent increase over two years on the base rate of $5:66 an hour.

Half Flunk First Go At Test

Nearly 56 per cent of passenger vehicles and 51 per cent of commercial vehicles got yellow rejection stickers when they were inspected between July 1, 1968 and Feb 28, 1969.

These figures have just been released by the Canada Safety Council, a nation-wide non-profit organization of people interested in safety. It supports the compulsory and periodic inspection of motor vehicles in all the provinces and these figures were the results of its spring car check campaign.

Of the vehicles rejected in Victoria, 68.8 per cent had defective headlights, 14.3 per cent defective steering mechanisms, 12.3 per cent defective exhaust-muffler systems and 10.1 per cent defective brakes.

Tenders Called For Outfall

Tenders have been called for construction of a 6,100-foot sewerage outfall at Macaulay Point in Esquimalt.

The outfall, more than a mile long, will replace the present pipe built in 1913 which discharges sewage into a few feet of water off the shore.

Deadline for receiving tenders at the Capital Regional District office is May 20.

Tenders have already been received for supply and delivery of materials for the outfall and two pumps.

The new outfall and a new main line leading to it will serve Esquimalt, parts of Victoria and Saanich and will permit expansion of sewerage in Saanich.

Stacked Duplexes Sought

Up and down duplexes may soon be permitted in Saanich.

A public hearing in the municipal hall tonight at 7:30 will consider adding up and down duplexes to the already-permitted side by side ones.

The public hearing will also consider:

● Light industrial zoning, east side of Whittier between Boleskine and Ardesier;

● Amendments to regulations for apartments, to permit construction of three-storey frame apartments with habitable basement;

● Including one-chair barber shops as a permitted home occupation.

PUBLIC INTEREST HIGH

City Councillors Pushing Five-Year Budget Referendum

A trio of Victoria city council members will head the last big five-year capital budget referendum push Wednesday.

Scheduled to speak at the Senior Citizens Centre, Centennial Square, at 1:30 p.m. that day are Mayor Courtney Haddock and Aldermen Peter Pollen and Harold Olafson.

In the meantime the city's information hot-line went into action at 9 this morning to answer a steady stream of queries from the public.

The special line will be manned by city hall staff until 9 p.m. tonight and will operate for 12-hour stints Tuesday and Wednesday.

The number to call for referendum information is 385-1214.

Information co-ordinator William Hooson said this morning that the consistent flow of early telephone calls indicated a higher-than-average interest in the budget.

To date, he said, the questions on the $6.3 million vote to be conducted Thursday, April 30, have been extremely intelligent.

More than $3.7 million of the total budget has been earmarked for street improvement programs.

A further $1 million is scheduled for waterfront development and protection while $328,000 goes to pollution control.

The balance of the budget would see $633,000 spent over the next five years to replace maintenance centres at Garbally Road and Beacon Hill Park, and $560,000 for fire prevention and protection.

To pass the budget requires that a 60 per cent majority of the people casting ballots vote in favor.

Total voting strength of the property owners eligible to vote is close to 18,000 but city officials say they expect fewer than 30 per cent to vote.

If approved, the budget will enable the city to borrow funds for listed projects over the next five years.

Estimated cost to the owner of a $20,000 home is 75 cents a month or $8.84 a year.

VOTE SATURDAY IN METCHOSIN

Metchosin ratepayers will go to the polls this Saturday to approve or reject participating with Langford and Colwood in purchase and development of the former Colwood racetrack as a local park.

Polling place is Metchosin Elementary School, 611 Happy Valley, between 8 a.m. and 8 p.m.

Cost to local ratepayers is estimated at .82 of a mill per year.

VOTE FELL SHORT

Ratepayers in Langford and Colwood approved the measure last February, but in Metchosin the vote fell 6 per cent short of the required 60 per cent. The turnout then of 163 persons required 98 yes votes—and there were 92.

The 77-acre park is being purchased from the federal government for $154,000. Playing fields and other outdoor recreational activities will be developed.

MARCH ON FERRY TOO LATE

200 Attend Long-Winded Nerve Gas Protest

By BRYDEN WINSBY

Phase One of Operation Nerve Gas could be termed a success — but unfortunately, Phase Two missed the boat.

Phase One: A protest rally at Beacon Hill Park at noon Saturday protesting the shipment of nerve gas from Okinawa through the Strait of Juan de Fuca to Bangor, Wash.

Phase Two: A march from the park to meet the Port Angeles ferry at 1 p.m. in a "border protest" similar to that last October when more than 200 protested against the explosion of an American nuclear device on Amchitka island in the Aleutians.

TREK UNDERWAY

Unfortunately for the marchers, speeches in Beacon Hill Park consumed more time than intended, and before the trek got underway the ferry had been and gone.

At the park, more than 2000 gathered on the grass at a baseball diamond to hear four speakers protesting the shipment.

The first was Ralph Freedman, executive secretary of PANG (People Against Nerve Gas) an Oregon group which he claims has the support of "hundreds of thousands of people" in a growing protest against the shipment.

"Scientists say publicly that this situation is bad," he said, "but talking to them privately you come away horrified."

3,000,000 POUNDS

"This shipment contains three million pounds of nerve gas — there is enough coming through the Strait of Juan de Fuca to kill every person on earth."

"Why," he asked, "How much overkill does there have to be?"

"A little while ago the ship Badger State was loaded at Bangor with munitions by the army. They said at the time that it was safe, that there was nohing to worry about — the Badger State broke up a sea."

"We would like to go to the Pentagon to find out more about this stuff and what we can do if something happens. But they won't tell us a thing. Evidenly the Pentagon does not trust its citizens."

ONE ASPECT

Dr. Robin Harger, assistant professor of zoology at UBC and vice president of SPEC, said the protest was only one aspect of many future struggles in the environment issue, and that the government was to blame for failing to act on this and other issues dealing with environmental contamination.

"The present state of government is jealously preserved by its successful proponents and supporters — our legislators. Nothing can or will be done to change the (pollution) situation without government officials risking their jobs in the next election when outraged industry removes the vast financial support it takes to get elected."

GENERAL PROBLEM

Dr. Margaret Benston, a biochemist from Simon Fraser University, said the issue was one part of a more general problem.

"The anti-human character of the U.S. military-industrial complex is now becoming apparent," she said, "We all know about their lust for power and wealth but this shipment is a symptom of their disregard for humanity."

Before the speakers had finished, Bob Munro, the protest organizer, told the rally that the Port Angeles ferry had left.

A vote was taken as to how many wished to continue with the march, and about two-thirds raised their hands.

MARCH TO FERRY

At the conclusion of the rally, Munro, a student at the Institute of Adult Studies, led the marchers down to the ferry terminal. Some carried signs reading "U.S. Army — you've got your nerve" and "Take a Deep Breath, it may be your last."

Chanting "stop the gas, stop the gas," the marchers passed by the terminal along Wharf Street, then wound their way through the downtown area to Centennial Square, where they dispersed.

Separate Accidents Put Two in Hospital

Two people are in hospital today with injuries they suffered in separate accidents over the weekend.

Marcel Lesieur, 41, of Port Alberni, is in fair condition at St. Joseph's Hospital with severe cuts to his face and neck while Dale Franklin, 26, of 437 Heather, is in fairly good condition at St. Joseph's with a broken ankle.

Lesieur was a passenger in a car driven by George Sperling, 3275 Albion, that collided with another car at Burnside and Alpha about 11:25 p.m. Saturday.

The driver of the second vehicle was Helmut Gruber, of 1712 Hovey Road.

Franklin was a passenger on a motorcycle that hit a car driven by John Pearsall, 1224 Pembroke in Beacon Hill Park shortly before 6:30 a.m. Sunday.

The driver of the motorcycle, Kenneth G. France, 22 of 929 Caledonia, suffered minor injuries and was treated and released from hospital.

AMAZINGLY complicated machinery developed by Atomic Energy of Canada Ltd. is designed to perform relatively simple but hazardous task of recharging atomic reactors at Gentilly nuclear power station, near Trois Rivieres. Controlled remotely, the machine will extract used fuel bundles and replace them with new bundles at the 250,000 kilowatt station, a procedure which could cause exposure to harmful radiation. Testing is being done at Sheridan Park, a Toronto suburb. (CP Photo).

MARKET SUMMARIES

Oversold Market Flags

Trading and prices continued to sag at New York and Toronto stock markets today, bringing softness to the other exchanges.

Some analysts believe the market is deeply oversold and due to show correction.

AT TORONTO the market dropped sharply in light mid-afternoon trading.

Losses outnumbered gains 314 to 123 with 242 issues unchanged.

Hudson Bay Mining fell 1 to 82. The stock rose 4 to 83 Friday when the company said it had found copper and zinc orebodies on holdings nine miles southwest of Flin Flon, Man.

The company said today it would split shares 3-for-1. Hudson Bay declared a first-quarter dividend of 30 cents a share based on the split shares.

Steep Rock Iron Mines was down 5 cents to $3.90 despite first-quarter net earnings of 5½ cents a share up 3½ cents.

Canada Packers was down ¾ to 20¼ despite 1969 net earnings of $1.67 a share, up 38 cents.

AT NEW YORK the market fell below its 1970 closing low in light trading early this afternoon.

Glamor stocks were generally down. Motorola was off 1¾ at 87, Control Data 1¼ at 42, Xeroc ¼ at 82¾ and IBM ½ at 308½.

Polaroid was up ½ at 86⅝ and Telex 2¾ at 92.

On the American Stock Exchange, Milgo Electronics was up ⅞ to 27⅝. Braniff Airways A was down ¼ to 6⅝ and Asamera Oil down ⅛ to 11⅞.

AT MONTREAL early afternoon trading was light as the stock market continued to drift downward. Banks and papers led the decline.

Southam Press, which reports first-quarter earnings of 48 cents a share down from 61 cents, was steady at 51 on volume of 500 shares.

IOS Ltd. slipped to a new low of 5¾, off ⅛. IOS management has recently denied rumors of financial problems.

Highlighting industrial losses, Consolidated-Bathurst dipped 1½ to 17½, Velcro Industries 1½ to 23, Melchers ⅝ to 14⅛, Genstar ⅝ to 10⅝ and Anglo Canadian Pulp and Paper ⅝ to 5⅝.

AT LONDON the market moved lower after a firm start on small selling and lack of support.

Fisons was weak, while ICI, Beechams, Courtaulds, EMI and Dunlop were others to lose or reverse small opening gains.

Among Canadians, Dome dipped six points at 42. Consolidated Bathurst, Pacific Petroleum, Inco and Noranda were others to ease. Canadian Pacific, Gulf and Syracuse firmed against the trend. Banks went lower after a higher opening.

AT VANCOUVER trading was moderate and prices were generally down. Pre-noon volume was 1.39 million shares.

Leading industrial trader was Block Brothers, down .10 at $4.25 on a turnover of 71,400 shares. Coronation Credit preferred was down .05 at $1.50 and Driver Development was off .05 at .95.

In the oils, United Bata led trading with a turnover of 15,100 shares and was down .25 at $2.10. Peace River Petroleum was down a half-cent at .09 and Western Exploration was up 2½ cents at .29½.

In the mines, Oro traded 102,000 shares and was up .02 at .57. Brenmac was down .09 at $1.06 while Gibraltay was unchanged at $4.10.

Oil Policy Weakness Attacked

LONDON, Ont. (CP) — The federal government was criticized for not defining its oil policy in the annual report of Supertest Petroleum Corp. Ld. which showed the firm's revenues rose to $60.24 million in 1969 from $57.9 million the previous year.

"While the federal government continues to wrestle with the weakness in its oil policy and markets for Canadian crude oil," the Ontario-based firm noted, "low-priced products arising from foreign sources continue to cross the National Energy Board line into areas west of the Ottawa Valley, in contravention of government guidelines."

This is keeping prices depressed and returns at unrealistically-low levels, the report stated.

EARNINGS DECLINE

Net earnings of Supertest dropped to $2.65 million in 1969 from $2.9 million in 1968. The report said the drop can be attributed to several factors, including changes in federal income tax regulations.

In addition to income taxes, the company paid taxes totaling $5 million in 1969, compared with $4.86 million the previous year.

TODAY'S GRAIN PRICES

WINNIPEG (CP) — Rapeseed declined sharply at the close of the Winnipeg Grain Exchange today, closing one to four cents below previous close levels.

Early strength due to the strong linseed oil market in Rotterdam dried up at mid-session and selling pressure developed during the final hour.

Flax had a light trade with some exporter offers on the scale down.

CHICAGO (AP) — Soybeans futures declined 3½ cents a bushel on the Board of Trade today. Soybean oil and meal also closed lower.

Wheat futures advanced around 1½ cents but other grains were irregular.

The government reported soybean oil stocks as of April 1 showed an increase over the previous month. This brought selling into the oil pit.

Bourassa Hits Grit Newsletter

DEUX-MONTAGNES, Que. (CP) — Liberal Leader Robert Bourassa Sunday night described as "inopportune, awkward, unjustified" the news letter published by the Quebec section of the Liberal party of Canada.

Bourassa criticized the document of the federal Liberals at a meeting of nearly 1,000 in this city north of Montreal in Deux-Montagnes riding, held by the Liberals in the last legislature.

The newsletter, published with the Quebec general elections to be held Wednesday, maintains that Queebc received at least $545,700,000 more from Ottawa in 1968-69 than Quebecers paid in federal taxes.

Throughout the weekend, the newsletter was attacked by Premier Jean-Jacques Bertrand and separatist Leader Rene Levesque, who have been describing Bourassa as a provincial puppet manipulated by Prime Minister Trudeau's federal Liberals.

Trudeau in Ottawa described as "unfounded" Premier Bertrand's accusation that the federal government is intervening in the election.

Trudeau said in a statement "these pamphlets are published under the sole responsibility of the federal Liberal party."

"These pamphlets are not previously authorized or censored by the federal government or the prime minister in particular, as it should be the case in a truly democratic party.

"So far, the federal government has not intervened in Quebec's general election campaign." And it had no intention of doing so, "in spite of provocation from certain provincial politicians."

FLAYS FEDERALISTS

In the first five of seven meetings Sunday, Bourassa dismissed the newsletter as a "propaganda sheet." But when he got here, he opened up to attack the newsletter as "inopportune, awkward and unjustified."

The publication of the newsletter by the federal Liberals infuriated Bourassa's campaign staff who describe it as a gaff by the Trudeau Liberals at a crucial stage of the Quebec campaign.

Bourassa aides say the newsletter furnished their opponents with electoral ammunition.

One Bourassa aide said: "The feds are maniacs, they're going to pay for their sins."

Bourassa told the Deux-Montagnes crowd that he is "profoundly unsatisfied" with the way federalism has been working for Quebec province and he was especially concerned about the high unemployment rate.

At Laval, in Liberal-held Fabre riding later Sunday night, Bourassa repeated his criticism of the newsletter

Fear Vote Outcome

TORONTO (CP)— Canada's largest trust company, bowing to the wishes of what it called "skittish" investors, has transferred an undisclosed amount of securities to Toronto from Montreal.

The dawn transfer by the Royal Trust Co.—carried out by nine armored trucks Sunday—was made at the request of customers pending the outcome of Wednesday's Quebec general election.

J. W. R. Seatle, vice-president of Royal Trust, which has assets of $10,008,454,000 under administration said in Montreal no company-owned securities were transferred. He said he regretted the move by "skittish" investors "because it is creating the idea of flight of capital."

J. A. Worsley, Ontario manager of Royal Trust, would say only that the securities arrived Sunday afternoon. He would not disclose their value or location except to say they are being kept in Toronto because "it is the logical place."

The convey of armored trucks left Montreal early Sunday and were met by a fleet from Toronto in Kingston, Ont.

SHOTGUNS

About 30 Brinks guards were on hand—some armed with shotguns—as the trucks lined up outside the Kingston police station and the boxes of securities were transferred one by one.

In Ottawa, spokesmen for several banks said the transfer of securities to Ottawa banks had been going on for the last month and the demand for safety deposit boxes was heavy.

An official of the Royal Trust branch said the flow had been increasing over the last couple of weeks. He said it was mostly securities, but there was some cash. He stressed that it was individuals making the transfers and not the company.

A check with some other major companies in Montreal showed that at least one, the investment firm of Nesbitt Thomson and Co., had been asked by clients to transfer margin stocks but the company had refused to do so.

The Royal Trust move followed recent suggestions that the rise of separatist feeling in Quebec would lead to a flight of capital from that province.

Commenting in Montreal on the Royal Trust action, Vernon Marquez, president of Northern Electric Co., said it would not achieve anything. But "at times like this, people would rather be safe than sorry."

CALLS IT RIDICULOUS

Fred R. Kearns, president of Canadair Ltd., the aircraft manufacturers, said the move was ridiculous.

"We are quite happy with our securities in the province and have no thought of moving out."

Frank Case, chairman of the Montreal Trust Co., said his company had made "a negligible amount of transfers, if any."

LEVESQUE HINTS DEAL

Times News Services

CHICOUTIMI, Que.—Separatist leader Rene Levesque hinted Sunday night he would like to merge his forces with the Creditistes after Wednesday's Quebec election.

Some polls indicate a second-place finish for Levesque's Parti Quebecois behind the Liberals.

Levesque told a rally aid to the poor and removal of slums would be top priority if he formed a government. He did not mention secession in his list of priorities.

Meanwhile, other parties continued to make Levesque their main target; Union Nationale Justice Minister Remi Paul called him "the Fidel Castro of Quebec."

'We're Fighting NWL Takeover'

By BRUCE YEMEN

Einar Gunderson, Social Credit party fund-raiser and a director of NWL Financial Corp. of Vancouver, said today he has no idea why a Bahamas-based firm is buying into the company.

Speaking from his office at B.C. Hydro and Power Authority in Vancouver, Gunderson confirmed he is fighting any possible takeover of NWL by the Residential Resort Development Co. of Freeport, Bahamas.

Gunderson, one-time B.C. finance minister, is an executive director of Hydro, a crown corporation.

WON'T DISCUSS MOTIVE

"I want to keep as many companies as possible with head offices here in B.C." Gunderson said, declining to comment on the possible motive of the Bahamian firm in buying into NWL.

Opposition Leader Dave Barrett said Thursday that Residential Resort was a "sister company" of Benguet Consolidated Corp. Benguet has been declared unacceptable in B.C. by Attorney-General Leslie Peterson.

Barrett raised the possibility that an attempt was being made to set up a "front" company to take over from Benguet in the Cypress Bowl development in West Vancouver.

Peterson denied Friday that Benguet was involved in the takeover bid and said it was unfortunate that Barrett had linked Gunderson to that firm

Sihanouk Named Chief Of Red Cambodia Area

Times News Services

Prince Norodom Sihanouk is reportedly preparing to establish a provisional government in the Communist-held area of northeast Cambodia, following a jungle summit conference on the weekend with North Vietnamese, Pathet Lao and Viet Cong leaders.

Sihanouk, ousted from the Cambodian leadership last month by a right-wing anti-Communist bloc lead by Gen. Lon Nol, apparently has been pledged strong backing by Communist forces in his bid to return to power.

Today he was joined by leaders of North Vietnam, the Pathet Lao and the Viet Cong in a call for defeat of the United States, South Vietnam, the present Cambodian regime and Laos.

Meanwhile, the intensity of fighting inside Cambodia increased today as the government rushed reinforcements into the Takeo-Angtassom area south of Phnom Penh to try to stem a Communist advance on the capital.

Viet Cong units have again entered the town of Angtassom, 40 miles south of the capital, cutting Phnom Penh's lifeline to the sea, a government spokesman said today.

Takeo, a major road junction six miles east of Angtassom, apparently remains in government hands.

TROOPS TO MOVE

Military sources in the capital say at least several thousand troops will shortly begin moving into that area to attempt to reopen the country's communications, primarily road and rail lines linking Phnom Penh with the big port of Sihanoukville, now renamed Kompong Som.

Western diplomats in Vientiane, the Laotian capital, said the North Vietnamese air force would fly Sihanouk to northeast Cambodia within a week to establish his provisional administration.

The Viet Cong radio said the deposed Cambodian chief of state met on the Vietnamese-Laotian border Friday and Saturday with North Vietnamese Premier Pham Van Dong, Prince Souphanouvong, leader of the pro-Communist Pathet Lao movement in Laos, and Nguyen Huu Tho, head of the National Liberation Front, political arm of the Viet Cong.

The four leaders appealed to all Indochinese people "to increase their unity and push ahead with the struggle against the common enemy, which is the U.S. imperialists and their henchmen" in Saigon, Phnom Penh and Vientiane.

UNLOAD EQUIPMENT

A U.S. Air Force C-130 flew into Phnom Penh International Airport today and unloaded cases which American officials said contained communications equipment for the U.S. embassy in the Cambodian capital.

Sources said the plane and its American crew came from the Philippines carrying electronic equipment including a large generator.

The new equipment will allow the embassy to receive diplomatic cables directly from Saigon and Laos. Up to now, U.S. embassy communications had to use the government telecommunications office.

At a news conference in Dartmouth, Mass., Sunday, Senator J. W. Fulbright, chairman of the Senate foreign relations committee, said he fears the United States

Single Rocket Used To Orbit 8 Satellites

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union announced today the launching of eight unmanned satellites on a single carrier—the largest experiment reported in the Cosmos program.

An official announcement gave no clue to the purpose of the complex space shot.

The spacecraft, numbered Cosmos 336 through Cosmos 343, were launched Saturday and were "equipped with scientific apparatus designed for space research," the announcement said.

"The equipment aboard the satellites is functioning normally," it added.

Normally launchings in the Cosmos program are announced only in the most general terms, and details of their work are not revealed.

KILLER WHALES DIE IN ALASKA OIL SPILL

ANCHORAGE (AP) — Whales, seals and "tens of thousands" of birds are dead from what officials fear is an extremely lethal oil spill along the Alaska Peninsula.

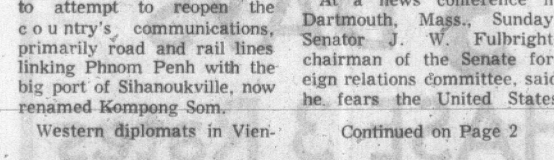
"The sheet of oil is some ten miles wide and may be more than 100 miles long," said Ray Morris, chief of the Federal Water Quality Administration's oil pollution branch here.

"We won't know, until we've done extensive testing, that the spill caused the deaths. What we do know is that tens of thousands of birds are dead, as are at least two killer whales, more than 400 hair seals, and sea lions, sea otters and other wild life," Morris said.

"About 40 of the birds have been sacked and are on their way for examination. All of them are coated with a fine oil — something like diesel."

Morris said dead wildlife has been reported over 350 miles of Southwest Alaska coastline, from Unimak Island northeast to Egegik.

"What is incredible to us is the toxic effect of this oil, if it is the oil that has caused the deaths. Killer whales aren't that easy to kill," he said.



In Quebec we're approachin' th' moment o' truth, which may not be recognizable.

Ottawa to Probe Tin Price Increases

OTTAWA (CP) — An immediate review into an increase in the price of tin containers was announced today by the federal prices and incomes commission.

It said that American Can of Canada Ltd. and Continental Can Co. of Canada Ltd. have informed customers that prices for tin containers have been increased approximately five per cent.

Higher costs for tin plate as well as other cost factors were cited by the firms, the major producers of tin cans used mainly in the food processing and the beverage industries.

"The purpose of the review is to determine whether the price increase is clearly less than the amount needed to cover the increases in each producer's costs in 1970," the statement said.
